

GOP CHAIRMAN SAYS DOUGLAS DEALS IN BUNK

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today Democrats have "dabbled in panaceas and depressive legislation" in dealing with the farm problem. Republicans, he added, never have and will not now.

His statement, saying Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) "is still dealing in bunk," was in reply to Douglas' comment yesterday that "the people can have no confidence in a party that tries to rewrite history and ignore the real world."

The two have been arguing for a week over whether President Eisenhower, as a candidate in 1952, did or did not promise to continue farm price supports at 90 per cent of parity.

Both Quote Ike

Both quoted from Eisenhower's campaign speeches. Hall said Douglas "is pulling one of his typical political tricks. He only recites part of what the President said."

Hall said the administration "is going to work night and day to get our farm economy out of the depressed state in which we found it, and I think the farmers of America know that is a fact."

Secretary of Agriculture Benson said on his return from Europe yesterday the Eisenhower administration will have some "very specific" recommendations to Congress in January to combat what he called "the farm price squeeze."

"Something In Addition"

Although he declined to go into details, he said one of the proposals under consideration would call for the government to rent some land and take it out of cultivation or to pay farmers for doing the same thing.

Benson said the administration will offer "something in addition" to the present flexible prices support program, which he said he wants retained. He indicated new proposals would be aimed at supplementing farmers' incomes while efforts are made to adjust production to present day needs.

The secretary said he thought this might be accomplished through the soil conservation payments program.

PUC Okays Rate Boost In 3 Areas

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Sullivan County Telephone Co., Pottsville, had Public Utility Commission approval today to boost rates an estimated $5,000 a year, effective Oct. 1.

The commission said the rate increase would affect 305 subscribers in Bradford, Lycoming and Sullivan counties.

The increases approved Tuesday are: residence—single line, from $3.50 to $5.25; two-party, from $3.25 to $4.50; four-party, from $2.75 to $3.75; multi-party, from $2.40 to $3.75. Business—single line, from $4.50 to $6.50; two-party, from $4 to $5.50; four-party, from $3.50 to $4.50; multi-party, from $3 to $4.50.

The company said it needed the additional revenue to cover cost of an improvement program and "approach" a fair return on the depreciated original cost of its plant.

PITTSBURGH UNION DEFIES CAREY'S ORDER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse electrical workers in Pittsburgh defied an order from high union officials today and refused to end their strike.

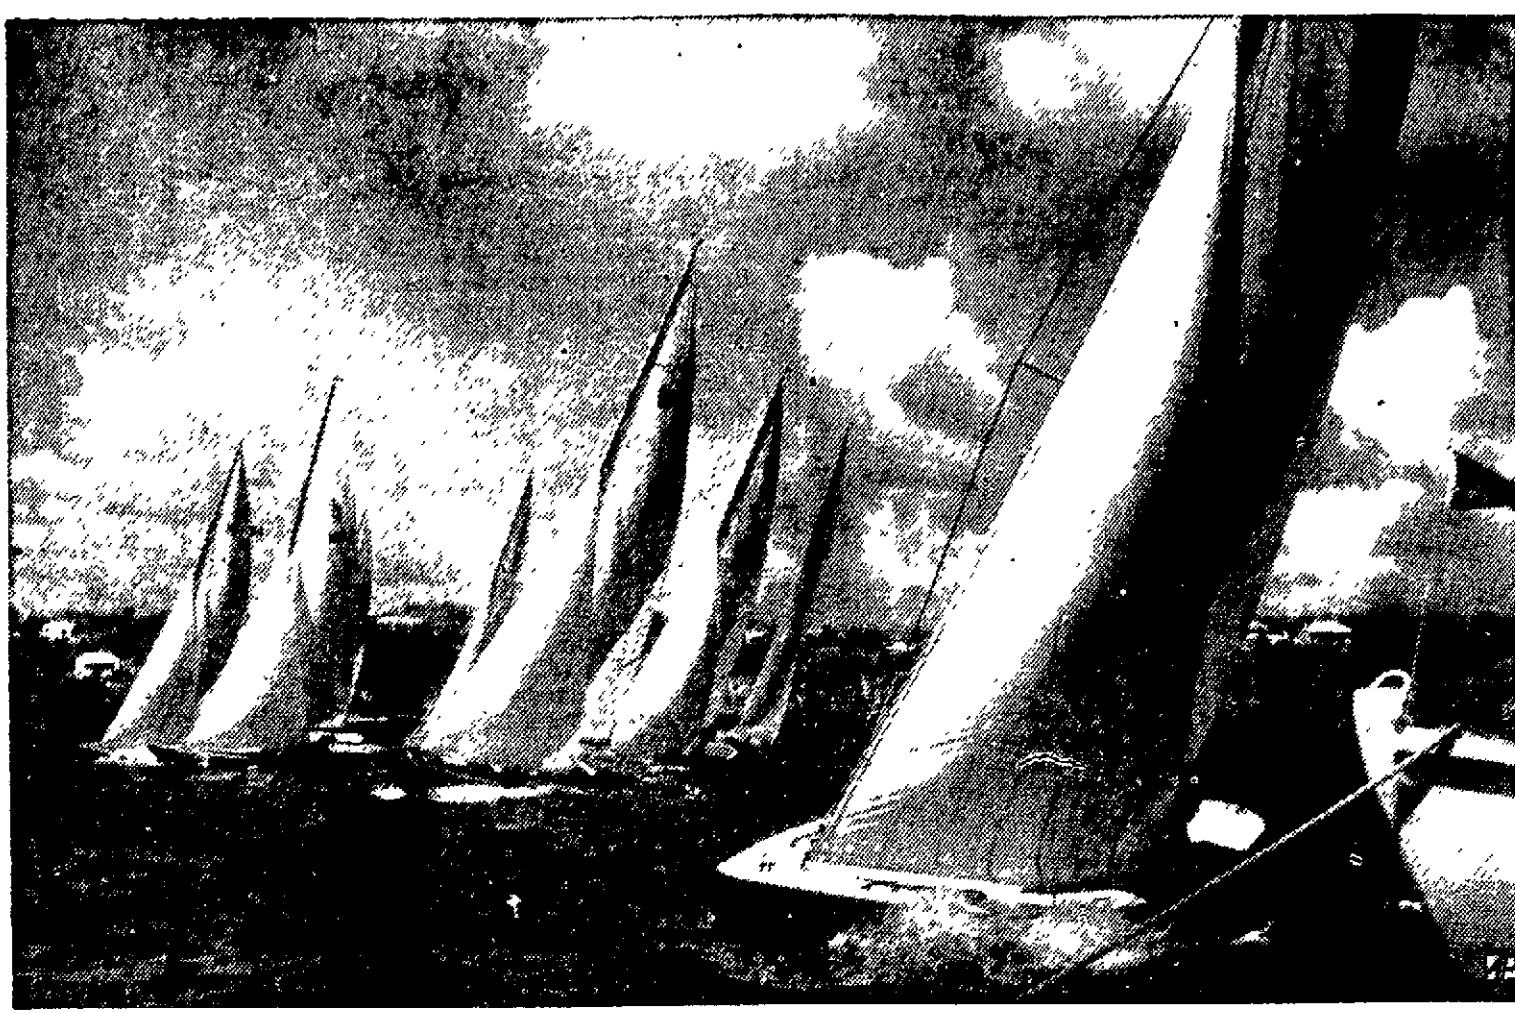

James B. Carey, president of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, said he was confident some 33,000 members in 26 other Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants would report to work. He went ahead with plans to start wage negotiations with the company.

Local 601 at the East Pittsburgh plant, which has about 10,000 members, continued picketing. It started the walkout Aug. 8 after 2,200 day workers quit work to protest a company time study of their jobs.

Last Sunday, CIO-IUE locals at the other 25 plants left their jobs in a sympathy strike.

Under a strike-ending agreement announced by Carey last night, the time study question was made a part of the bargaining talks opening today. Previously the talks were to have been confined to wages only under the current two-year contract. The agreement gave the union the right to strike over the time study question if no solution is found.

United States And Western Allies Accept No Red Vows

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and its chief Western allies are refusing to take Communist promises on faith. They are employing hard-boiled tactics in current negotiations for better relations with Russia and Red China.

The pattern of Western dealings became apparent today in their manner of handling the United States-Chinese Communist negotiations at Geneva. German-Russian diplomatic recognition, and Red China's bid for a seat in the United Nations.

In effect, it appears that the Western Powers are determined to make concessions or agreements desired by Moscow and Peking only as those capitals actually provide "real" concessions sought by various Western governments.

Denand Red Deeds
The following developments demonstrate this Western attitude which is in line with President Eisenhower's public insistence that the friendly spirit shown in East-West relations at last July's summit conference must be proved by concrete actions:

1. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson told Red China's Ambassador Wang Ping-nan at Geneva yesterday that "it would be premature" to take up other issues between the United States and Red China until last Saturday's agreement for release of civilians is carried out.

2. German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer made his agreement with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin for opening German-Russian diplomatic relations subject to approval by the German Cabinet and Parliament.

Bulganin promised Adenauer as part of the deal that German citizens held in the Soviet Union since World War II would be freed. If the Russians do not take steps to release the Germans with reasonable promptness, Adenauer is in position to stall indefinitely on actually establishing the formal diplomatic contacts.

3. Richard G. Casey, Australia's minister for external affairs, said here yesterday that he would not be surprised if Red China's desire for a seat in the United Nations should be shelved again this year in the U.N. General Assembly. Similar indications came from U.N. headquarters in New York.

The Western governments realize they possess an effective bargaining weapon in the membership problem and they do not wish to give it up without getting some practical benefits in return.

Senator Watkins Renamed To Post

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Delaware) has been reappointed to membership on the Interstate Cooperation Commission.

The appointment was announced by Sen. Taylor (R-Dauphin), Senate president pro tempore.

"I hope you will enjoy your work on this commission," a letter from Taylor to Watkins said.

This will be Watkins' second term on the commission, on which he will serve until the end of the biennium.

Should Have Their Heads Examined, Too!

Sure these drivers will check their oil and water. But if they could only see themselves in traffic-breaking rules, ignoring every courtesy like youngsters on a spree—they'd agree, it's their heads that could really use the checkup. It's time they learned the truth. People respect good drivers—but defeat "second childhood" highway showoffs who take chances with other people's lives.

U.S. Is Not Optimistic About Sincerity Of Red Promises; Harsher View

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration—for reasons not explained—has taken a harsher tone toward the Russians than it used in the early weeks after the President met with them in Geneva in July.

The latest example is the State Department's opinion on German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's deal with the Russians this week. The department considers it a victory over the "bankrupt" Russian policy toward West Germany since the war.

On July 25, the day after his return from Geneva, Eisenhower said there were obstacles on the road to peace but added there is now a realization negotiations can be conducted without "propaganda, threats and invectives."

Tough U.S. Statement
There were no pleasant words for Russia in the tough and stiff statement by the State Department.

Russia and West Germany agreed—in writing—to resume diplomatic relations and to exchange ambassadors. Adenauer says Russia also agreed—but not in writing—to release German war prisoners still held in the Soviet Union.

In a way this can be considered a victory: the Russians, who had denounced the West German government while supporting their puppet Communist leaders in East Germany, now officially recognize West Germany.

This can hardly make the East German Communists feel good, seeing Adenauer's prestige boosted by Moscow. It may make them feel shaky. No wonder Russia, immediately after Adenauer left, called them to Russia for a heart-to-heart talk.

Crowing Too Soon?

But the State Department may be crowing too soon. Neither the department nor anyone else at this time can be certain about the full implications of the deal, since no one knows the Russians' long-range purpose.

In the first place, it was not a one-way street. Adenauer and the Russians both made concessions. He wanted the prisoners released. The Russians, for whatever their purpose, wanted to resume diplomatic relations.

Both sides got what they wanted. Releasing the German prisoners costs the Russians nothing. They had them for trading purposes any time they were needed. And this seemed to be the time.

Reds Got Break

Now the Russians and West Germans, through the exchange of ambassadors, will be able to deal directly with each other instead of as before through the ambassadors of the Western Allies.

This gives the Russians a better chance to woo the West Germans away from their allies. If Adenauer ignores the wooing, then his successor, when the old Chancellor dies or retires, may be more receptive to Russia.

On Aug. 24, a month after returning from Geneva, Eisenhower made a much stiffer speech than he delivered July 25. Without mentioning Russia by name, he said Russia had to make a lot of concessions if it really wanted peace.

Nixon Was Tougher

Vice President Nixon followed this up with a speech along the same line, but even tougher: a demand on the Russians to begin making concessions. The Russians carefully didn't criticize Eisenhower but they denounced Nixon.

The Eisenhower administration may feel this sterner tone is necessary because it thinks the American people are getting too optimistic about the chance of peace.

But it also prepares the public for any flop in October when Secretary of State Dulles meets the Russians in the first truly big test of the friendly spirit which Eisenhower and the Russians exhibited at Geneva.

ADAMS COUNTY WITHOUT DEBT; PAY OFF BONDS

Adams County was out of debt today for the first time in approximately a half century.

The last six bonds, outstanding of the issue of 1935, were due for final payment Thursday, and the county treasurer had more than $6,000 on hand from the sinking fund to pay off the bonds as they arrived. The "last bonds" of the issue, No. 149 and No. 150 were paid off Thursday afternoon. Two of the last six bonds, No. 147 and No. 148, had not received when the treasurer's office closed at 4 o'clock, but were expected today.

The bonds that Commissioners' Clerk Clarence C. Smith was happily marking "cancelled" Thursday were originally issued in 1935 to pay off a prior bond issue when the county found it could sell bonds with a lower rate of interest than the 4 1/2 per cent it was paying at that time.

Save Several Thousands
A survey of the county's bonded debt in 1935 showed that $40,000 worth of bonds issued in 1920 and paying 4 1/2 per cent interest, could not be recalled, but $150,000 worth of bonds, also paying 4 1/2 per cent interest, could be called in, and paid off by a bond issue paying 2 1/4 per cent, with a resultant saving to the county of several thousand dollars.

As an example of how 4 1/2 per cent interest piles up costs, the $40,000 bond issue of 1920 was paid off in two installments. The first $20,000 was paid off in 1940 and the county had paid $18,000 in interest for that $20,000. The second $20,000 was paid off in 1950 and by that time the county had paid another $27,000 in interest.

As set up in 1935, the $150,000 in bonds were paid off at a rate $9,000 a year until the last year, 1955, when only six were due. The $150,000 debt included $100,000 for purchase of the old turnpikes which once dotted the turnpikes, and $50,000 to pay off general debt of the county. The various bonds were marked as to their purpose. Last of the "turnpike" bonds was paid off last year. The bonds due to be paid Thursday were for general purposes.

Pay $240,000 In 20 Years
All told the county has paid off $240,000 in bonded debt during the last 20 years. In addition to the $150,000 2 1/4 per cent bonds and the $40,000 4 1/2 per cent interest bonds, the county also issued $50,000 in bonds, paying one per cent interest, in 1947 to pay for the new jail. Those bonds were paid off last year.

While the county would have been interested to know who held bond 150, the last of the series, there apparently was no way to determine that. The bond was sent in by the Provident Trust Co. of Philadelphia and it was assumed that the bank was simply acting for an individual or an estate. The bonds issued in 1935 were signed by L. W. Wgan as chief clerk at that time and Commissioners H. A. Parr, H. B. Geiselman and S. L. Baltzley.

20,000,000th Visitor Arrives

The John T. Larsen family, of West Caldwell, N. J., were the "lucky" twenty millionth visitors to historic Gettysburg today. They are guests of Gettysburg for the next 26 hours. In the accompanying photograph, taken in the National Cemetery, are David, 8, on the left; his father, brother, John, 13; Burgess Weaver and Mrs. Larsen.

Jersey Family Welcomed As Gettysburg's 20,000,000th Visitors; Guests 26 Hours

John T. Larsen, port captain for the Moore-McCormack Steamship Co. of New York City this morning became Gettysburg's twenty millionth visitor to the Battlefield and he, his wife and two sons are guests of the town for the next 26 hours.

Captain Larsen, who resides at West Caldwell, N. J., and his family are on the third week of a vacation, and had planned a long weekend trip here about five years ago when they visited the Lancaster are a Pennsylvania Dutch and found they did not have time enough to visit Gettysburg during that tour.

Burgess William G. Weaver and Allen Larson, president of the Gettysburg Travel Council, which is sponsoring the program for the 20,000,000th visitor, headed the welcoming committee which greeted Captain Larsen and his family at the National Cemetery gates.

Auto Is Serviced
Larsen's car was removed to the Blue Ridge Oil Company station on York St. where it was filled with gasoline and then taken to Swope's Atlantic station, Carlisle St., for lubrication and washing.

In the meantime Burgess Weaver and LeRoy H. Winebrenner escorted the Larsens and their children, John A., 13, and David D., 8, on a "buggy ride" to Lincoln Square and back to the Cyclorama where they viewed the huge painting.

They then went to the Jennie Wade museum, and at noon the family was guest of the town at a picnic lunch provided in the National Museum grove by the Peace Light Inn. Following a showing on the electric map at the museum the group started a tour of various places of interest throughout the area.

This afternoon, the family will be interviewed at WGET. The program will be broadcast at 5:45 o'clock this evening.

Planned Visit Here
Capt. Larsen said the family had planned to visit Gettysburg about "four or five years ago" but "spent too much time in the Pennsylvania Dutch area around Lancaster. We decided at that time that when the Unrest was reported also in Rosario, Argentina's second largest city, with a population of almost a half million, 170 miles north west of Buenos Aires; at Santa Fe, 100 miles north of Rosario; and at Patana, 235 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Planes Over Cordoba
Planes were reported over Cordoba but there was no indication of whether they were piloted by loyalists or rebels.

The planes were Gloster Meteor jets — the same type that bombed Government House in Buenos Aires in the abortive revolt of last June 16.

The new uprisings flared before President Peron was set to address the nation at 10 a.m.

All commercial activity in Buenos Aires was told to close as a safety precaution. Armed trucks mounted with anti-aircraft guns patrolled the streets.

Chinese Release American Civilian And Priest Today

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China today released two American civilians—the first of 22 the Communists have promised to free. One of the two asserted he was guilty of spying for the United States.

Released were Walter A. Rickett of Seattle, a Fulbright scholar imprisoned July 25, 1951, on espionage charges, and the Rev. Harold W. Rigney, 54, Chicago, dean of the Roman Catholic Fu Jen University in Peking. He was arrested on spying and sabotage charges in July 1951.

Rickett said, after crossing the border into this British crown colony: "I was engaged in espionage work and there was a (Korean) war. I was an agent for the U.S. government. I collected military information."

Rickett's wife Adele, when released by the Reds last February, said she was guilty of spying. She praised the Communists highly.

Mr. Wakefield, a World War II veteran, will move his wife and two daughters here as soon as he secures a home.

Confessed To Espionage
"I haven't been speaking English for a long time," he said.

He said he confessed to espionage.

CATTLE EXPERT TELLS FARMERS OF STILBESTROL

Use of Stilbestrol, a growth stimulant, to produce beef cattle gains 10 to 20 per cent faster than non-Stilbestrol fed cattle was outlined by Thomas B. King, extension cattle specialist from Pennsylvania State University, at a meeting of the Upper Adams Young Farmers Association at the Biglerville High School, Thursday night.

Frank S. Zettle, Adams County farm agent, introduced the specialist to the 25 members and guests present. Noting that antibiotics and urea are being used in many beef cattle programs today, King said farmers must be careful in feeding urea because it is toxic and will even kill animals if fed in too large amounts. Steers should not get more than 1 1/4 pound of urea per day per animal and the ration should never be made up of more than five per cent urea, one pound of which equals seven or eight pounds of plant protein.

Steer Profits Drop
A report at the meeting showed profits on yearling steers has decreased over the last five years. In 1951 it was $82.69; 1952, $21.49; 1953, $24.44; 1954, $35.25, and this year $15.86.

Donald Weaner was elected publicity director for the Young Farmers, with Donald Wenk as assistant. Wenk had previously held the post but asked to be relieved because of conflicting obligations.

President Myles Starnor appointed members of the Farm Improvement and Electricity Committee to arrange for the November meeting. They are Norman Blocher, Guy Deardorff, Russell Wertz and Keith Rex.

Schedule Two Meetings
Two meetings will be held, the same night, in December. The dairy committee, Daniel Walter, David Metzner and Gene Reynolds will arrange one session. The other session will be arranged by the fruit and vegetable committee, Thomas Oyster, Harold Garretson, Richard Slaybaugh, Fred Raffensperger, Luther Horrick, and Walter Hayes.

The January meeting will be arranged by the crop improvement committee, Robert Taylor, Vaughn Dunlop and Elliott Schlosser.

County Agent Frank Zettle will speak at the October meeting on "Soil Testing in Adams County."

John W. White and Cecil R. Snyder are advisors for the Upper Adams Young Farmers group.

INJURES FINGER
Earl Trostle, 63, Biglerville R. 1, was treated at the Warner Hospital for a dislocation of the left middle finger received Thursday in a fall from a truck.

Two Uranium Prospectors Trapped In Old Mine Shaft

GEORGETOWN, Colo. (AP)—U. S. Bureau of Mines experts joined more than 100 volunteer rescue workers today in desperate efforts to rescue two Kansas uranium prospectors trapped in an ancient mine shaft.

Believed dead from lack of oxygen more than 3,000 feet inside the unused shaft near here were Glenn Dew, 33, and Melvin LeBlow, 45, Ulysses, Kan., farmers.

The two were last seen about 2:30 p.m. yesterday when they followed their Geiger counters under the rotted timbers supporting the old mine tunnel, about 35 miles west of Denver.

Two companions who stayed back as a precaution escaped entrapment. They are Kenneth E. Hickok, 50, a mining engineer, and Ernest P. Stubblefield, 32, an airport manager. Both also live at Ulysses.

Falls 100 Feet Twice; Injured

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rubin Boyance, 33, a painter from Levittown, Pa., slipped from a 100-foot-high scaffold yesterday and plunged toward ground workers on construction of a Delaware River bridge at nearby Edgely.

He fell about 30 feet—reached out—and managed to grasp a dangling rope. Workers above began to haul him back up.

Just as he neared a catwalk, he slipped again. This time there was no dangling rope. He fell—screaming—toward earth.

He landed in a taut piece of tarpaulin ground workers had improvised as a safety net—just in case—as he started up the rope. A hospital said his injuries were minor.

GIVE EXAMS FOR C. G. ACADEMY ON FEBRUARY 27, 28

Congressman James M. Quigley, of the Adams-York-Cumberland district, today announced that the competitive examination for entrance to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy will be held in 109 cities February 27 and 28.

Quigley emphasized the opportunity offered young men who choose this four-year course which leads to a bachelor of science degree and a commission as a career officer in America's oldest sea-going service.

"There are no appointments or geographical quotas for entrance to the Coast Guard Academy," he said. "I urge all qualified young men who are interested in a worthwhile profession to write for details and applications as soon as possible to Coast Guard Headquarters in Washington, D. C. Applications must be postmarked on or before January 15."

Educational Requirement
A candidate for the next examination for the Coast Guard Academy must be single, must have reached his seventeenth but not his twenty-second birthday by July 1, 1956 and must be in excellent physical condition.

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors assured of being graduated by June 30 are eligible to take the examination if they will have at least 15 credits by that time. All applicants must have three units of English, two of Algebra, and one each of Plane Geometry and Physics by graduation.

At Ratou's Amoco Service Station, Melvin E. Rau reported that the burglars had broken in a rear window. The steel frame window had been bolted for the night, but the bolt had been bent and the window pried open. After gaining entrance the burglars broke open a pinball and cigarette machine and stole about $12 in cash from the register. Most of the cash was in nickel's and dimes in paper wrappers.

At the Hansford Atlantic Service Clarence Hansford said the burglars broke the window in a rest room to enter the building. They broke open cigarette and cigar machines and a pin ball machine and took two bags which contained check books, but no money.

Sell said Adams County District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter who requested Sell to hold the inquest, will be represented at the hearing. ## SOME OPPOSE GERMAN, RUSS "RELATIONS"

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer summoned his Cabinet and leaders of his government coalition today in a bid for quick acceptance of his Moscow agreement to set up diplomatic relations between Russia and West Germany.

To become effective, the pact must be ratified by the Bundestag (lower house) of West Germany's Parliament as well as by the President of the Supreme Soviet.

While Soviet Premier Bulganin's verbal promise to return German prisoners has naturally been welcomed in Bonn, some politicians voiced doubt about the wisdom of exchanging ambassadors with Moscow.

They argued this would imply acceptance of a division of Germany into rival states.

Lure East Germany

This feeling was heightened by the sudden Soviet announcement that East Germany's Communist Premier Otto Grotewohl would arrive in Moscow tomorrow for talks with the Kremlin leaders.

This was seen as a Russian move to reassure the East German Communists they are not being abandoned and to refute Adenauer's claim that only his freely elected government is competent to speak for all Germany.

While Adenauer received a hero's welcome home, many questioned whether his mission to Moscow had brought German unity any nearer.

West German officials, meanwhile, pushed plans to receive the thousands of war prisoners Adenauer said the Kremlin had promised the release to start almost immediately.

Blinds Illegal, So Gamblers Lose

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The seven men arrested when the cops broke up their game in the rear of a barbershop weren't surprised when they were charged with playing cards in public.

The blinds at the shop were charge stopped them cold. It was an ancient provision of the city code against "obstructing the view into a barbershop on Sunday."

REDS LURING EAST GERMANY

MOSCOW (AP) — Moving swiftly to follow up its negotiations with West Germany, the Soviet Union has announced it will open talks tomorrow with leaders of Communist East Germany.

The Soviet news agency Tass said East German Premier Otto Grotewohl would arrive in Moscow for conferences on "questions of interest to all sides." The announcement came only a few hours after West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer ended his Moscow conference and left for Bonn.

The announcement was expected but Western observers were surprised it came so soon after Adenauer's departure.

The Soviet-West German talks resulted in an agreement to establish diplomatic relations. Adenauer also said he obtained a verbal promise from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the Soviet Union would release German prisoners held in Russia since World War II.

It was believed the Russian-East German talks will include the prisoner issue and reunification of Germany.

ed the release to start almost immediately.

DOCK WORKERS STRUGGLE WITH TONS OF CARGO

NEW YORK (AP) — Dockers tackled the huge task today of moving the 200 million dollars worth of products that piled up along the New York waterfront during their eight-day strike.

The walkout, which also hit several other East Coast ports, was called off yesterday by the independent International Longshoremen's Assn.

The ILA hailed as a victory the setting up of a voluntary citizens fact-finding committee to hear its grievances against the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

Industry sources termed the ILA's acceptance of the committee formula a "face-saving" device adopted after locals in some cities failed to heed the strike call.

Now comes the huge cargo cleanup from more than 150 ships — practically all freighters. Most passenger liners were not seriously delayed by the tieup.

Loss In Millions

The 170-member New York Shipway Assn. figures the strike cost the employers a million dollars a day.

The back-to-work movement by some 30,000 longshoremen here has failed to halt legal machinery set in motion as a result of the strike.

A contempt citation against the ILA by the employers is scheduled to be heard in the State Supreme Court Sept. 22.

And the shipping association thus far has not deviated from plans to sue the union, its leaders, and membership for 10 million dollars in damages for alleged violation of a no-strike pledge.

Justice William C. Hecht Jr. in Supreme Court yesterday, granted two motions for temporary injunctions — barring waterfront stoppages — against the Union. They were sought by the Waterfront Commission and the shipping firms.

The ILA strike was aimed directly at the commission. The union has accused it of harassment, discrimination, and general abuse of its powers. The commission has denied all allegations, calling the ILA "just plain lawless."

PUC APPROVES NEW BUILDING FOR PHILLY FIRM

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission has authorized the Philadelphia Electric Co. to build a one-story building in Lower Chester Twp., Delaware County, to house control equipment for an adjoining outdoor steel substation.

Construction of the equipment building and substation in the Laux-head Ave.—Linwood St. area was opposed by township officials. Earlier this year they ordered work halted on the substation because it is in a residential section.

The control building site selected by the utility for the substation is the "most suitable in the area, and is reasonably necessary for the convenience and welfare of the public," the PUC found.

No Other Site Available

There is sufficient evidence in the record to substantiate the company's position that "no other suitable site" is available in the township, the PUC added.

The township's zoning ordinance does not contain any provision referring specifically to the construction of buildings by public utilities, the commission order showed.

The PUC order pointed to a State

SPORTS GROUP TO HOLD RIFLE MATCH SEPT. 25

Plans for a "teen-age" rifle match to be held September 25 under sponsorship of the Gettysburg Sportsmen's Association were announced Thursday by Chief of Police Jack Bartlett.

Young people between the ages of 12 and 18 inclusive are invited to take part in the shoot, Chief Bartlett said. The local police chief, a member of the Sportsmen's group, will supervise the teen age matches at the association's property on Walnut Street.

Four matches will be held: standing, kneeling, and prone, with first and second place medals to be awarded for each match. The fourth match will consist of a totalling of the aggregate scores of the three firings. First, second and third place medals will be given to the top shooters as shown by the aggregate score.

Invites Young Women

Chief Bartlett urged young women, as well as young men, to take part in the contests held with 22 caliber open sight rifles. So far there have been no feminine entries in the events.

Those planning to take part in the shoots, which will begin at 1 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, September 25, are asked to register prior to that time at the Gettysburg News Agency.

A 25 cent registration fee, plus ten cents for each match, is required to cover the cost of medals and other materials. Each contestant is to furnish his own rifle and shells, although arrangements can be made to provide rifles for youths who do not have them. If notice is given in advance, and shells will be for sale at the match. Refreshments will also be available.

ELEVATOR BOY BAITS RUSSIANS WITH MAGAZINES

By REINHOLD ENSZ

BERLIN (AP)—Fourteen years ago, the elevator in the Statue of Liberty was frequently operated by an eager young man from the Bronx.

Today, at 35, Melvin J. Lasky is editor of Der Monat, the most respected literary magazine in Germany. It is must reading in West German intellectual circles. It is forbidden reading in Communist East Germany.

Lasky's jump to prominence was unusual. As a little known freelance writer, he came to Berlin after World War II, contributing articles to New Leader and Partisan Review. But one day in October, 1947, he made an unscheduled appearance in the speaker's rostrum at a German Writers Congress stage-managed by the Soviet occupation regime.

Lasky's jump to prominence was unusual. As a little known freelance writer, he came to Berlin after World War II, contributing articles to New Leader and Partisan Review. But one day in October, 1947, he made an unscheduled appearance in the speaker's rostrum at a German Writers Congress stage-managed by the Soviet occupation regime.

Caused Furor
Berlin was still undivided, and the city was controlled jointly by Russia and the western Allies. The cold war had not yet become dangerously hot.

The speakers at the congress either praised Soviet literary efforts, or at least refrained from criticism. But not Lasky. He astonished the audience by boldly asserting, in fluent German, that Soviet writers were little more than puppets. He said the Soviet government was an "unattractive, idolatrous dictatorship."

This caused a furor. The Soviet occupation newspaper Tagliche Rundschau called him a "deplorable phenomenon" and suggested he be buried under the inscription: "Tomb of the Unknown Writer."

Soviet Attacks
It was the first in a barrage of Soviet attacks. The net result was a U. S. State Department decision to publish a monthly German literary magazine modeled after the Atlantic Monthly and Harper's. Lasky was appointed editor.

He immediately adopted the slogan: "Anti-Communism on an intelligent level." To this, he applied a considerable understanding of human nature.

Back in his native New York City, Lasky had once worked as historian at the Statue of Liberty. This included taking thousands of visitors up and down in the elevator. Then, he went into the Army and became a combat historian with rank of lieutenant in Europe in 1944-45.

New Magazine

Lasky made the new magazine, Der Monat, virtually independent from the start. It published articles by Bertrand Russell, Arnold Toynbee, Andre Gide, Aldous Huxley, Jean-Paul Sartre, Albert Camus, William Saroyan and James T. Farrell. Fiction was contributed by such noted writers as Thomas Mann, Ernest Hemingway and William Faulkner.

"The State Department," Lasky said in an interview, "never gave us any orders, and no one ever censored our copy. Everyone who read the magazine knew this and felt it."

"We opened the magazine to every type of opinion. The Germans are still astonished at the variety."

"I think run-of-the-mill government propaganda is a lot of nonsense. One day you are for this, and then the next day you are for that. It's play down the German army, and then it's play up the German army. Everything boosted in 1949 would have had to be reversed in 1952."

"Our magazine would have been

"By then," Lasky says, "we're supposed to sink or swim."

The chances of staying on top are good. Since becoming independent, paid circulation has risen to 25,000, an increase of 5,000.

"It's the biggest magazine of its kind in Europe," Lasky says, "and I think it will stay that way."

Here And There News Collected At Random

"Expect the unexpected from children."

"That should be the watchword for all motorists at all times, but especially during the peak hours of school traffic in the morning and afternoons," Clement J. Sipe, Acting Director, Bureau of Highway Safety, advised motorists today. He was speaking of the united effort being made this month by safety councils, civic groups, automobile clubs, and the National Safety Council, to reduce traffic casualties to school children throughout the Commonwealth.

"Children often are unpredictable in their reactions," Sipe said. "This is especially true during the stress and strain of growing up."

"Despite repeated warnings from parents and teachers not to jaywalk, or beat the light, or run in a street after a ball, children are apt to forget these warnings and walk or run right into danger."

"While we are all united in a common drive against the senseless killing of our children by motor vehicles each year, we must always be prepared for the unexpected, and keep alert wherever near an area where children may be walking or playing."

"Many of the children killed and the many more injured in accidents over the past year in Pennsylvania were the traffic consequence of an impulsive action on the part of a child."

According to the Bureau of Highway Safety, statistics show 292 children under 18 were killed in traffic in 1954, and 17,077 youngsters in this age group were injured in Pennsylvania.

Schools and parents are doing their best to train youngsters to be more safety-wise and are doing a remarkable job. Every effort must be made to stop this needless slaughter of children. And it is up to every motorist to protect them by heeding the oft-repeated warning: "Drive Slow! Protect our Children!"

"The American Lutheran Church" will be recommended as the name of the new church body that is expected to come into being as the result of current merger negotiations between four Lutheran groups.

Tentative approval of the name was voted at the opening of a two-day session in Chicago this month of the Joint Union Committee, composed of nine representatives each from the Evangelical Lutheran Church, American Lutheran Church, United Evangelical Lutheran Church and Lutheran Free Church.

A motion picture on the life of the Blessed Virgin will be shown to members of the parish and children within the next few weeks as a project of the council. A donation of $5 was given to the Community Chest.

Mrs. George Groff and Miss Anna McSherry were appointed by the president, Mrs. Edwin J. Killalea, to prepare a monthly shrine at each meeting.

Arrangements were made for members to attend the Conewago Deaneary Workshop to be held in Xavier Hall September 29.

Prayers were led by the Rev. Fr. Anthony P. Kane, moderator. Mrs. Richard C. Eberhart and Miss Jane Stalmsmith served refreshments. The hall and tea table were decorated with mixed fall flowers.

Pa. It was there, in high school, that he decided nursing might be the answer to lack of money for a medical education. He trained for three years with a predominantly feminine class of nurses in Philadelphia and moved on to Notre Dame. The plan was suggested by a physician when Prevost's sister was sick and he was helping to take care of her.

His father will see the Notre Dame campus for the first time at the June graduation, but the whole family is looking forward five years to the time when Stephen will trade his R.M. for an M.D.

CIVIL AFFAIRS OFFICE EASES OVERSEAS ILLS

By REINHOLD G. ENSZ

GIESSEN, Germany (AP) — A middle-aged German couple was strolling through a park when an American GI accosted the woman. The husband was severely beaten trying to defend his wife.

A German mayor was invited to an open house at a U. S. Army post. He couldn't speak English and no one met him at the gate. The guard chased him away at gunpoint. The first incident was individual waywardness, the second Army bungling.

Civil Affairs Office

The civil affairs office of the local U. S. Army detachment took over.

There are many such offices in the American Zone. GiesSEN's is among the best.

Advisory Council

A German-American advisory council of German officials and U. S. troop commanders deals with complaints such as these:

From the Germans: "The soldiers are wrecking the furniture in the railroad station waiting room. What can you do about it?"

From the Army: "A wartime bomb was found in a housing development. The German police warned all of the German families, but said nothing to the American families. Why?"

There is an International Men's Club and a German-American Ladies Club.

The good neighbor policy has also taken a practical turn. Army bulldozers frequently fill bomb craters, level athletic fields, dig excavations for churches, community halls and refugee housing. A bombed-out building was razed by an Army dynamiter.

A village ran out of water. Army tank trucks brought relief. The event was heralded by the town crier.

Soldiers Donate

Soldiers in the area voluntarily donate about $100 a month to help buy clothes and toys for orphans.

The Army supplied tents to make

Housing Problem

The biggest sore point in German-American relations is the thousands of houses still requisitioned by the Army. New housing is being built for Army personnel but it will be months before there's real relief.

There is another problem that stumps Pickhardt:

"I would guess that half of the illegitimate children in this area are fathered by Americans," he says.

Another problem he can't do much about, is the chlorine which U. S. occupation officials insist must be used in every municipal water system.

The deputy mayor of GiesSEN, Albert Oswald, says this is one of the biggest irritations.

"Why do you insist on it?" he asks. "We never had it before, and we never had any epidemics either. It makes the tea and coffee taste terrible."

STAR DESIGNS SMART DRESSES

By DOROTHY ROE
The Associated Press

The smart girl shopper will buy a dress that is priceless and timeless, says blonde and beautiful Janet Leigh, who finds time to design dresses for a New York manufacturer in between starring roles in movies.

"My idea of the right kind of a dress for any woman is one that she can wear, enjoy, look well—and nobody can guess whether it cost $10 or $1,000," says Janet. "It should be simple enough so that it won't be dated next season, also. That's what I mean by 'priceless' and 'timeless'."

Janet, who is married to handsome film star Tony Curtis, has been commuting between Hollywood and New York since she signed a contract in January to design dresses for Natlynn, manufacturer of junior dresses.

Successful Designs

"When they asked me," says Janet, "I said I'd do it if it was legit. I wouldn't go for one of these deals where I simply lent my name to a firm. If I got the credit for designing dresses, then I wanted to do the work."

So far Janet's designs have been

LADY POSTMAN HAS HARD LIFE

EAST BROWNFIELD, Maine (AP) — Mrs. Jennie Lord has been the town's mail carrier for 25 years because her husband didn't want to do the driving after they got the contract.

Now 60, Mrs. Lord is still meeting the trains and buses and making four round trips daily between East Brownfield and Brownfield.

When she learned she was going to handle the mail, Mrs. Lord promptly began learning to drive — with the help of a diagram of gear shifting drawn by her son. She recalls:

"I went out and started the car and it shot right under the clothesline — clean wash and all."

She was pretty determined, however, and by the time the mail contract became effective, she was ready.

Mrs. Lord meets a bus at 7 20 strictly successful. Her theory is to design clothes she herself likes to wear. Her prescription:

"No fussiness, no gadgets, only one focal point. Simple lines, careful shape, good fabric."

Now in Europe enroute to Africa for the filming of a new picture, "Safari," with Victor Mature, Janet took time out between planes to pay a visit to New York's garment center and look over the latest numbers in her fall line. Featured in the current collection are her Eileen dress, named after her forthcoming picture, and her Do-To dress, which starts with a simple black wool sheath and changes character by addition and subtraction of sashes and scarfs.

Clock Watcher

"You've got to watch the clock from the time you get up," she says.

She travels only eight miles in all, but she says she spends a lot of time just waiting around. The job, she says, pays 50 cents a trip, or $60 a month, regardless of the time involved. But it's steady work, she figures, and she enjoys it.

One day, she recalled, she was putting the locked mail pouches in the front seat when she saw a man being put off the train. As she was about to leave, she noticed the train conductor point his flashlight into the back of the truck. She investigated and found the man inside.

Rugged Life

When she asked him what he was doing, he replied: "I'm going wherever this truck is."

But he didn't — not when Jennie reached for her gun.

Life hasn't been easy for Mrs. Lord. Besides toting the heavy mail bags, she cooks and keeps house for herself and her son.

Invalid Mother

She had to leave school to care for her invalid mother. At the age of 13 she also began helping to bring up three brothers. In 1937 an automobile accident put her out of action for a year. In 1947, her home was destroyed by a forest fire. Three times since then her right arm has been broken. Her husband died and seven months after her second marriage, her new husband passed away.

"Yes, it's been a mite tough sometimes, but it can't be all sunshine," Jennie philosophizes. "I would have had to walk a good many times if it hadn't been for friends and neighbors."

Leader Delivers Second Political Assault On Ike In Los Angeles Address

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania says that if President Eisenhower is the Republican candidate in 1956 the Democrats "are going to need sharp weapons, well laid on."

"I want to make it clear that I am not calling for a smear campaign, for personal abuse," he said, but "I am calling for a normal exercise of the two-party system."

Speaking last night at the second of two $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising banquets, Gov. Leader said that "if Mr. Eisenhower is a candidate, he will be running on a record he himself will point to with all of a candidate's pride."

"Our duty will be to review that record as we see it—to point to its failures as well as its successes—to illuminate those places where Dwight D. Eisenhower has been a less than perfect president of the United States."

Truman Ox Not Enough
"Dwight Eisenhower is no constitutional monarch," said Gov. Leader, arguing that the President is responsible for an administration "incapable of sympathy for the farmer, the workman, and the small businessman."

Leader said it will take sharp weapons to "penetrate the screen of protective armor that has been put around Eisenhower" and added:

"Harry Truman's broad ax alone won't do it. Neither will Adlai Stevenson's rapier thrusts. Every Democrat . . . has a part to play in this work."

The young governor, filling in for former President Truman, swung a few hatchet blows himself:

"There is no Benson farm policy that is creating an agricultural depression. It is an Eisenhower policy."

"There is no Brownell security policy that has built up a shocking crew of government paid informers and perjurers. It is an Eisenhower policy."

Bhames Eisenhower
"There was no Hobby snafu on the polio vaccine. It was the Eisenhower administration's naffu. "The Humphrey blooper that cost the Treasury a billion dollars in corporate taxes, the Humphrey hard money policy that gave us a quickie recession, are misnamed. They are Eisenhower's responsibilities, Eisenhower's bloopers, Eisenhower's handout to the banks."

If the President isn't aware of what his aides do, Leader suggested "a Dwight Eisenhower Slept Here" sign should be ordered for the White House, for the Doud house in Denver, for the Gettysburg farm, and perhaps even the Burning Tree Country Club."

Saying the administration is building "a millionaires' party," Leader declared farm income has dropped 2.1 billion dollars since 1952 and 5,600 small businesses went broke in the first six months of 1955.

Labor has no representation in the administration and has held its own only because of its own militant leaders, he said.

ESCAPES PEN AND GETS GIFT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Twenty-eight-year-old Francis Hatfield has five years to forget the past and a gift of $450 to help him start in the right direction.

U. S. Dist. Judge George A. Welsh heard this story yesterday: Hatfield broke into the Harrisburg post office and stole a gun last June 30. He shot himself in the abdomen at Holy Trinity Church. He recovered at Graduate Hospital here and was brought before Judge Welsh on charges of theft and breaking into a post office.

He told Judge Welsh that he had "made a mess" of his life, having served prison terms and gone broke.

Judge Welsh said "putting you in prison once more would not serve any purpose. A long probationary state should give you a clean slate and a chance to forget your past."

Then Judge Welsh handed him a one-dollar bill. The clerk of the court added $3.50 to the gift.

INJURED IN CRASH
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A small plane crash-landed on the ninth fairway of the Juniata golf course late yesterday, injuring 23-year-old Robert Wittig, of Chester, Pa., the pilot.

Wittig, who is studying flying under the GI Bill of Rights, was treated at Frankford Hospital for lacerations over the right eye.

The plane's undercarriage was damaged in the crash. No reason was given by investigators for the plane's trouble.

'THIS IS THE PRELUDE'

Maybe the days you spend are dreary . . . and you are glad when they are done . . . but if you see the blue of heaven . . . somehow you'll find a golden sun . . . what if you've lost a love you cherish . . . do not despair in things to be . . . for you can find a world of comfort . . . in the sweet land of memory . . . perhaps your brow is lined with furrows . . . that may portray the weary miles . . . it matters not so long as you are . . . able to face the world with smiles . . . what if the lines of life grow shorter . . . as the years swiftly come and go . . . just so you have the faith to journey . . . faith keeps a tired heart aglow . . . you must keep hope forever burning . . . even when there is naught but strife . . . because the things you now encounter . . . prelude a new and brighter life.

LITTLESTOWN

Quigley as the speaker. Littlestown gained the honor of being the first spotter post in the nation to be housed in an all-aluminum spotter post as the result of an announcement made some months ago.

Receive First Building
At that time Clarence C. Smith, clerk to the Adams County commissioners, learned that the Reynolds Aluminum Co. was planning to make aluminum prefabricated GOC spotter post buildings, with sufficient windows so that spotters would not have to go outside the building to spot planes, and sell them at cost to help provide better housing for the thousands of volunteers who watch the nation's skies for planes.

Smith wrote the company, learn the cost was $250, which was less than the amount spent by the county for wooden GOC buildings, and told the company when it got into production that one could be used at Littlestown, when a post was organized there.

With Adams County the first to apply, it secured the first such building off the assembly line.

The manner in which the Littlestown post was set up as a community project was noted by Congressman Quigley in congress August 25. The Congressional Record for that date contains the congressman's remarks on the "outstanding work" being done by the volunteer observers of Adams County in general, and calling especial attention to Littlestown, its burgess, and its supervisor. He said that the county commissioners had secured the first aluminum building for the post, praised the Junior Chamber for its part in getting the project underway (303 man-hours of work went into the establishment of the post) and declared that "the members of the GOC have been called the unsung heroes of the cold war who notwithstanding the general apathy of the Nation toward potential defense measures, have given and will give a full measure of devotion to their volunteer duties, assuring that those of us who are more complacent will have adequate warning of possible aggression."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eighteen-year-old John R. Border has been charged with burning a baby on the back with a hot spoon and later on the foot with a lighted cigarette.

Police quoted him as saying he "could not stand the baby's crying."

Police elaborated on the charges today with these details:

Border met Mrs. Shorley Henry, 20, in Williamsport, Pa., last June. Mrs. Henry's husband is said to be serving a jail term on a morals charge.

Border, Mrs. Henry and her two children, William, three and Dennis, six months, came to Philadelphia and were living together in a tiny, third floor apartment.

Yesterday, the landlord, Mrs. Connie Schermel, called police and said she thought the children were being mistreated. After questioning, Border and Mrs. Henry were booked on morals charges and Border on aggravated assault and battery.

WEDDING GOWNS ARE SIMPLER ON YOUNGER BRIDES

As brides grow younger, wedding gowns grow simpler and prettier. The statuesque bride who goes up the aisle in ancestral lace and antique satin is becoming a rarity, outnumbered by the bright-eyed young brides who choose an inexpensive dress cut on simple, youthful lines, for the most important occasion of their lives.

Though there are many new miracle fabrics available for today's bride, the old favorites remain in high demand — fabrics such as cobweb-sheer organdie, veil-like batiste, old-fashioned eyelet-embroidered sheer cotton — all as well-loved in grandmother's day as today.

New finishes and treatments make these traditional wedding-gown fabrics even more beautiful and durable today. The new Swiss organdies come in many versions — embroidered, embossed or plain, in snowy white or a range of delicate pastels. Eyelet-embroidered batiste also is newly popular, and even old-fashioned lawn is staging a comeback.

Serves As Dance Dress

Many of today's bridal gowns are so designed that they may be transformed into summer dance dresses after the ceremony, by such expedients as removing a bottom tier of ruffles or train, subtracting a bolero or switching skirts or tops, the case of the increasingly popular wedding separates.

The short circular veil of nylon tulle, attached to a simple head-dress, is the choice of most brides today, rather than the long veil of priceless lace.

Since so many current brides are still under 20, youthful charm rather than ostentation has become the new fashion in wedding gowns and veils.

AVOID TETANUS AT ALL COSTS, DOCTOR WARNS

The Associated Press

Tetanus, or lockjaw, is a nasty disease. It's not very common these days but since almost everyone who gets it dies with it, it's worth quite a bit of trouble to avoid it.

Tetanus is caused by the tetanus germ. This germ is present in street dirt and is especially abundant around barns where there are cows and horses. It is also abundant in manure used to fertilize gardens.

The tetanus germ is different from many other kinds of germs. It has the special ability to form spores. These spores are a form of the germ that can live under conditions that would kill the regular germ. They can withstand drying and sunlight and even boiling.

Tetanus spores can only grow when they get into a dark warm place away from air.

If there happens to be a tetanus spore on some object that gives you a deep puncture wound there is danger you might get tetanus.

If you get a wound from which there is danger of tetanus and you have never had tetanus shot, you must have tetanus anti-toxin. It is the only thing that will act quickly enough to prevent tetanus after an injury. We cannot make tetanus anti-toxin in the laboratory. The only way we can get it is to inject horses with the germ and then take blood from the horse.

Horse serum makes some people quite sick.

We can avoid using horse serum if we give shots of a material called tetanus toxoid before a wound occurs. The toxoid is made in the laboratory and has no horse serum in it. It is, however, not powerful enough to use alone after the wound. If we give a person two shots of tetanus toxoid two months apart he will have a good deal of immunity to tetanus in his body. It won't be quite enough to completely protect him from a bad wound, so that at the time of injury we boost his immunity by giving him an additional shot of tetanus toxoid.

There are very few negatives which can be enlarged without the necessity of holding back the thin portions and burning in the dense areas so as to produce the best prints possible.

Some darkroom men learn to manipulate their hands in graceful, consecutive motions so as to dodge or burn in while printing. They become so expert they can reproduce the split-second movements in identical patterns for hundreds of duplicate prints.

For others, especially beginners, there are cardboard gadgets which can be manipulated to produce the same result. These are of two general types. A — For holding back thin areas: "dodgers" are used. These are various sizes of cardboard or tufts of cotton (roughly the size and shape of a quarter) which are attached to a wire about 15 inches long. B — For burning in: large cardboards. Each has a different size or shape of hole in it, according to the size and shape of area to be printed in.

In all cases, the hands and cardboards are kept in constant motion during exposure to avoid revealing a visible, definite edge in the finished print.

Still another method to exercise control over a negative is with

New Coccine, a red dye which is painted on the negative. It can be applied in different concentrations so as to add to the density of any spot or area. It has no grain or texture so it doesn't change the characteristics of the original negative except for emphasis. It's long been favored by darkroom perfectionists and it's useful for commercial printers in making large numbers of identical prints. It can be used on small negatives, as well as large ones, and for contact prints as well as enlargements.

Powder Is Soluble

New Coccine is a powder which is extremely soluble in water. A stock solution is prepared by dissolving 10 grains (half a teaspoonful) in an ounce of water. Working solutions can be prepared and kept in numbered, two-ounce medicine bottles. Add ten, twenty and forty drops of stock solution with an eye dropper to an ounce of water in each bottle. For easier working on gelatin, add three drops of Aerosol or some other wetting agent to each of the bottles.

The dye is applied with a small, fine-pointed water color brush or with cotton applicators. The brush or cotton should be drained of excess moisture by wiping it first on a blotter before applying it on the gelatin side of the negative. It isn't advisable to work on the emulsion side because corrections are harder to fix. To see what you're doing, work on a glass support with a light underneath.

The dye is best applied in one small area at a time with short strokes and with a minimum of lifting from the negative. Sort of spread it around with a damp, not a wet, brush. It's also recommended, at the start, that density be built up with a weaker concentration by applying one thin layer of dye over another. After you're familiar with the technique then you can work with the stronger solutions.

Removal Methods

If New Coccine has been applied incorrectly, it can be removed by: 1. Washing in water. This is sure, but slow. 2. For quick removal, soak the negative in a 1 per cent solution of sodium bisulphite, then give it a five-minute wash. 3. To remove or correct only a small area, use an ammonia solution on a brush or cotton wad. Household ammonia will do but 28 per cent ammonia is best. However, this can only be used on the gelatin side because ammonia will damage the emulsion.

To prevent any possible damage to a negative, New Coccine can be applied to a clear film which is then taped to the negative.

Another method makes use of a small frame about four inches below an enlarger lens. Tape a clear film in this frame. Project the negative for composition and cropping and make straight test print. Coccine according to the results of the test. After satisfactory prints are made, the clear film with the red dye marking can be filed with the original negative for any possible future retouching needs.

WHAT DID YOUR CHILDREN HAVE FOR BREAKFAST THIS MORNING?

Breakfast should contain 1/3 to 1/4 of your daily food requirements, yet surveys show 47% of children of school age go without adequate breakfast, some teenagers eliminating breakfast entirely. Protect your family's good health with an adequate breakfast every day.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Colleagues are Urged To Set New Standards: As the fourteenth annual Freshman Week ended, Gettysburg College began the 109th year of its history this morning at 11 o'clock at exercises in Brua chapel following an academic procession from Glatfelter hall by members of the faculty.

The student body of 627 young men and women, with the largest proportion of women students in the history of the institution, was addressed by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, college president. The 57 coeds in the freshman class form the largest group of girls ever to enter Gettysburg College. The freshman class numbers 187 students.

In his address to the students Doctor Hanson urged them to set new standards for themselves "based upon the best each of you is capable of doing." He warned them not to be deceived about the relative importance of religion in a cultured life and advised that they find strength "in prayer before the presence of God."

E. J. King, Emmitsburg Native, Dies In Dublin: Edwin J. King, 43, American vice consul at Dublin, Ireland, died Tuesday morning in a Dublin hospital, according to a cablegram received by relatives. Death followed an emergency operation Monday. Details of his illness are not known.

Mr. King was born at Emmitsburg, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. G. King. Later the Kings moved to Waynesboro. Mr. King's father was a candy retailer.

Edwin J. King attended the Waynesboro public schools and later Juniata and Gettysburg Colleges. The consul at Dublin cabled that arrangements are being made for shipment of the body to the United States.

R. A. F. Repulses Armada: Spain Hounded By Axis: (By the Associated Press) — Indications that Germany and Italy are trying to draw Spain into the war against Britain, with French Morocco and possibly the great rock fortress of Gibraltar as a reward, were reported by foreign observers in Rome today.

German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop and Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, meeting in Rome, also were reported discussing a post-war division of Africa and "the fate of those African peoples who will have been freed from British tyranny" as one Rome newspaper phrased it.

Maroons Drop Opener Before Largest Crowd: Falling apart after outplaying their opponents for more than half the game, the Gettysburg High School football team dropped its first game of the season here Friday evening to Delone Catholic High, of McSherrystown, 14-6.

The largest crowd in history turned out to witness the Maroons in their first game under the floodlights. It was estimated that 2,500 persons attended.

Weddings: Snerringer-Slusser — Miss Genevieve Slusser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Turnie Slusser, Centralia, and Thomas Snerringer, son of Mrs. Rose Snerringer, near Bonaventure, were united in marriage this morning in the Conewago chapel by the Rev. John F. O'Donnell, rector.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Becker, Midway, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

Today's Talk

SANCTUARIES

All this open space of the earth is a sanctuary. Every beautiful creation is a tribute to the Creator. Every forest, every valley, and every individual garden is a sanctuary. God is everywhere, so that in every home, hospital, or upon the sea each is a sanctuary where anyone may bow in prayer to the Giver of all goodness that is in the world.

Many times I have visited the sanctuary at Lake Wales, Florida, where the body of Edward Bok is buried. It was he who created that beautiful spot as a sanctuary for birds in the migration to the South. It was here I noted that line I have so often quoted, by John Burroughs: "I come here to find myself. It is so easy to get lost in the world." This statement hangs over the open fireplace of my lodge in Nova Scotia.

Wherever there are beauty, peace and quiet, there you can be sure that a sanctuary exists for anyone minded to bow before it, or to meditate upon the urges of the soul. Every church is a sanctuary, and every home can well be one. No cathedral is more a sanctuary than a great forest. Many a sanctuary has been created in the sick room, where there are courage and the will to live and hope.

On a seat on the sands of the sea a sanctuary can be created. There many a one has gone to be alone, and to meditate and pray. In the simplest of homes, where there is family worship, there is established a sanctuary. I always look upon my small island retreat in Nova Scotia as a sanctuary, and I am sure that it is blessed as one.

Wherever God is, there is His sanctuary — and God is everywhere! Many years ago, when I stood before those great sequoia trees in California, I removed my hat in tribute to those great monarchs of the forest, alive and growing when Christ was born! I felt that I was actually in a great sanctuary, and how humble I felt!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Where Is God?"

orphanage. Thursday evening, following a regular meeting of the Littlestown club at which about 70 clubmen were present.

Licensed To Wed: A marriage license was issued today at the court house to Charles LeRoy Bollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice W. Bollinger, Gettysburg, and Kathryn Elizabeth Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Warner, Gettysburg.

Hospital Report: LeRoy Shindler, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shindler, Chamberburg Street, was treated at the Warner Hospital Friday evening for a laceration to his face. He was injured in a fall while playing.

Gettysburg: Included in those from Gettysburg who attended the dinner-meeting of the York chapter of the American Institute of Banking at the York Country Club Friday evening were Edmund W. Thomas, Elmer W. Warren, Milo Diehl, Paul Fox, Miss Mary Jane Appller, Miss Louise Mundorff, Miss Ella King, John Hewitt, Walter Keeney and Maurice Hewlett.

NAVY TO OPEN DRAFT FOR MEN IN NOVEMBER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy, which has prided itself on being a strictly volunteer outfit, finally has been compelled to start drafting some of its sailors.

For the first time since World War II, when all the armed forces were ordered to get all men by draft alone, the Navy will begin in November to get some of its manpower by levy.

The draft became necessary, the Navy said, to replace men whose four-year Korean War enlistments are now expiring.

A monthly quota, starting out at 10,000 men, will be added to the present Army quota to bring the total draft call up to 20,000.

By next summer the Navy expects to have drafted a total of 56,000 men. Except for January, when none will be taken, the Navy is asking 10,000 men a month through next April, 6,000 for May and perhaps some in June. It said it hopes to drop draft calls after June.

2-Year Period
The Navy draftees will serve for the same two-year period as their Army opposites. Enlistments will continue on a four-year basis.

The Air Force is confronted with a problem identical to that of the Navy — a high loss of manpower because terms of men who joined during the Korean War are now expiring and men are declining — in droves — to re-enlist.

But the Air Force is hanging on grimly to its own volunteer-only record. If called up by selective service, a man may ask for duty in the Navy. But whether he gets it will depend on several conditions, including whether the monthly quotas as allocated between the Army and Navy have been filled. The selections will be made at the armed forces examination stations.

CHINESE FREE MAN HELD FOUR YEARS AS SPY

SEATTLE (AP)—"It's wonderful news," Mrs. A. J. Rickett said late last night when informed her son Walter A. Rickett had been released by Chinese Reds after four years imprisonment on spy charges.

The reaction was in marked contrast to the restraint exhibited Saturday night when told her son would be released. At that time the parents had refused to express any joy because they had "been disappointed so many times."

"We just had to know it was true before we could let ourselves go," she said when informed the son had been freed. She said no plans will be made for meeting the son until she talked to him on the telephone.

Mrs. Adele Austin Rickett said she is "very happy" to hear that her husband Walter has been released.

She said she doesn't know now whether she will travel west to meet him en route home. Any move she may make will depend on his plans, she added.

Wife Praises Reds
Mrs. Rickett, who was released by the Chinese Reds last February, said she will not try to contact her husband by cable or radio and will wait for him to contact her. The 35-year-old Mrs. Rickett, who praised the Communists highly after she was freed, said in answer to a newsman's question that she has not changed her ideas along that line at all in view of her husband's release.

Mrs. Rickett was held in Red China for three years.

After she voiced praise of the Reds, American officials called her "thoroughly brainwashed."

She is living at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Austin.

Rickett and his wife left this country on Fulbright scholarships in 1948 to study in China. They were imprisoned on spy charges.

EDEN IS IMPROVING
LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden was reported by his doctors today to be making good progress in a bout with influenza. They ordered him to bed yesterday at Chequers, the country home of British prime ministers.

Freed POW's MOTHER HAPPY

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Addie Rigney, 77-year-old widowed mother of the Rev. Harold W. Rigney, expressed joy today when told that her son crossed the Hong Kong border from Red China today.

He was among the first of the 22 U.S. civilians Red China had promised to release.

"That is just wonderful," Mrs. Rigney said. "It has been such a long time. Such a long time."

Mrs. Rigney, who lives with her daughter Mrs. Mary Ann Hanley in south Chicago, went to the nearby Roman Catholic Church of the Annunciation after hearing of her son's release.

She was accompanied to the church by her daughter, the church pastor, the Rev. Philip Philbin and newspaper photographers.

"She was really excited," said her son-in-law James P. Hanley. "She won't sleep any more tonight, I'm sure. She's been waiting for this day for a long, long time."

Mrs. Rigney twice flew to Washington to ask that everything possible be done to obtain the release of her son and other imprisoned Americans.

Father Rigney, who is 54, had been dean of the Roman Catholic Pu Jen University in Peking, China, where he had been since 1946. He was arrested on spy and sabotage charges in July 1951.

Cleveland And Yankees Start Stretch Drive To Pennant; Crucial Games

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
So now the American League thriller comes to this: Cleveland has eight games to play, New York 10. Both have to win 'em all.

If they do, it's a tie.
The Indians and Yankees start the final run for the money tonight all even on the "lost" side. Each has dropped 56. Cleveland has played two more than New York and won both.

Cleveland is at home to Detroit tonight. The Tribe plays six of its final games with the Tigers, two with the still-hopeful Chicago White Sox.

Edge For Tribe
Cleveland Manager Al Lopez thinks the difference in games remaining will decide it. "We have eight and they have 10. We have two days off next week and they have only once."

"We can rotate three pitchers and they're going to have to use four or five starters, especially in that last weekend in Boston. They have four games in the last three days."

"We've won two more than the Yankees and they've got to catch up. Maybe it won't be easy."

Boston Manager Pinky Higgins promised it won't "be easy." Knowing his Red Sox are out of it, he said, "We'll be up for the Yankees. We like nothing better than to beat them."

"Still In It"

Stengel was more whimsical going into the showdown. "I've been reading for two weeks how they're going to win. I've been reading for two weeks how they're going to lose. I'm surprised neither has won it yet. Maybe they don't want it and maybe we'll win it ourselves."

Marion, four games back with eight left, simply stated a fact: "We're still in it until we're mathematically eliminated."

Only one game was scheduled in the majors yesterday and Brooklyn, the National League champ, lost its fifth straight, the Dodgers longest slump of the year. It was a 3-2 decision in 12 innings at St. Louis as Brooklyn ended its last Western trip of the year.

Stan Musial and Rip Repulski, with back-to-back homers off rookie Sandy Koufax in the third, pulled the NL even with its own major league home run record of 1,197 set in 1953.

YALE GRID ACE IN SEMIFINALS OF GOLF SCRAP

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

RICHMOND, Va. (P)—Kicking field goals and conversions in a tight football game before 50,000 screaming fans is nothing compared to trying to sink a tough putt before a silent golf gallery.

You can ask Bill Booe, one of the unlikely golfers ever to get to the semifinals of the National Amateur Golf Tournament.

Booe is the little guy who used to trot out on the Yale bowl turf almost a decade ago and kick those vital points when the Elis scored a touchdown. Now a quiet, bespectacled Bridgeport, Conn., businessman, he's in the semifinals of the National Amateur golf with one other almost unknown golfer, a player of considerable local fame and one of the world's best amateurs.

Meets Harvie Ward

Bill doesn't figure to go beyond today's 36-hole semifinals. He's scheduled to meet San Francisco's Harvie Ward, 1952 British Amateur champion, runner-up for that title in 1953 and unquestionably the finest, most consistent golfer left in this mixed-up tournament.

The other semifinal brings together Hillman Robbins Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., last years intercollegiate champion and winner of a flock of important invitational tournaments, and William Hyndman III of Philadelphia, who has been recognized for years as a fine golfer who played only around home.

Ward, a transplanted Tar Heel from Tarboro, N. C., ranks as odds-on favorite now that all the other players of international stature have been removed.

Ward has been playing exceptionally well over the rugged, 6,713-yard, par-70 James River course of the Country Club of Virginia. He had a 19-hole squeaker in his opening match against Ray Palmer but has won every one since by a comfortable margin.

Booe, on the other hand, had the roughest of all roads to the semifinals, although three of the four quarter-final matches went to the 18th green. For the first seven holes against tall Charles Kunkle, upset conqueror of Joe Conrad, Bill couldn't make a par.

"I felt so bad I didn't want to go on. I didn't want that match to finish, he said afterward."

But he did go on and, as Bobby Jones advised, had his bad round when his opponent also was having a bad one. Coming to the 18th, they were all even and both short of the green in two. Booe clipped within five feet of the cup, then blew the putt. But Kunkle missed an even shorter one to lose.

The 39-year-old Hyndman, who beat his Philadelphia friend Jimmy McHale in the morning, turned back intercollegiate champion Joe Campbell 2-up.

Robbins had a 67 but won only 1-up from Ed Hopkins of Abilene, Tex.

CHICAGO — George Blanda's field goal gave the Chicago Bears a comeback 24-21 win over the Cleveland Browns, their first in eight starts against the Browns.

PRAGUE — Emil Zatopek of Czechoslovakia whipped England's Gordon Pirie by 180 yards in the 10,000 meter run in the two-day meet won by Britain 117-85.

NEW YORK — Third Copy ($14.90) ran off with the Bushwick Hurdle handicap at Aqueduct.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Sue Plat ($25.40) led from start to finish in the U. S. Defense Bond purse at Atlantic City.

YONKERS, N. Y. — Adios Harry ($4.80) won the $27,900 good time pace at Yonkers Raceway with a 3:09 1-5 clocking for 1 1/2 miles.

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Leslie Combs II and John W. Hanes paid a record price of more than $600,000 for the 10-year-old French-bred thoroughbred stallion, My Babu.

UNKNOWN PRO

LEADS GOLFERS

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Doug Higgins, a virtually unknown pro from Midland, Tex., held a two stroke lead over the field and a new course record today as the second round of the $20,000 Daily News Open golf tournament began.

The 28-year-old Texan shot a 30-34-64 over the newly revised 6,243-yard Cobbs Creek public links course yesterday to head Californians Jerry Barber and Bud Holtscher who shot identical 31-35-66.

Three Schoolboy Grid Games In County Tonight

Three county scholastic grid-irons will have top-flight attractions tonight as the schoolboy football season picks up momentum. All contests are scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

Gettysburg invades McSherrystown to clash with their county rivals, Delone Catholic. Each lost their opening tilts last week and will go all out to crash into the win column.

Littlestown and West York, who held the co-championship of the Laurel Conference last year, again open the loop season when they meet on the Thunderbolt gridiron. That game is expected to draw an over-flow crowd. Last year the teams battled to a 6-6 deadlock.

Biglerville High starts its second year under Coach Bill Coradetti by entertaining Shippensburg. The Greyhounds are reported well fortified with veterans and will be a severe test for the Cannons.

Other area games are listed for tonight as follows: Lancaster Catholic at Hanover; Waynesboro at Westminster; Scotland at Chambersburg; Palmyra at Hershey, and Calvin Coolidge, Washington, D. C., at Mechanicsburg. Carlisle plays at Chief Logan, Saturday.

over the par 68 layout.

The Philadelphia course proved easy for the touring pros as one other player, Leo Biagetti, Willoughby, Ohio, carded a 67 and nine others matched par.

Grouped at the 68 Bracket were Ted Kroll, Bob Rosburg, Marty Furgol, Bo Winger, Jimmy Clark, Wally Ulrich, Gardner Dickinson, Art Wall Jr., and Gerald Keselring.

The field plays 18 holes more today and tomorrow and winds up the 72-hole competition Sunday with another round.

The New York football Giants claim the biggest man in professional football, Tackle Earl Putnam is 6 feet 6 and weighs 310 pounds.

BUBBLERS HOST HUMMELSTOWN ON SATURDAY

One of the strongest teams in the area will help Boiling Springs High School open its 10-game football schedule Saturday evening when the Bubblers oppose the Hummelstown Bulldogs in a home game on the Boiling Springs gridiron. Hummelstown will carry a 16-game winning streak into the game and will be a favorite to make it victory number 17.

Hummelstown, boasting a veteran team will have 10 lettermen on the field when the game opens. Eight of the boys who started last year against the Bubblers will again be in action Saturday night. Six of these starters were picked on the Lower Susquehanna Conference team last year and are almost certain of gaining a spot again this year.

The Bulldog line averages 182 pounds per man and the backfield, 172 pounds per man. Against this, the Bubblers will field a line averaging 166 pounds per man. In the backfield, the Bubblers will average 160 pounds per man, or a disadvantage of 12 pounds per man.

The Bulldogs will have practically the same line-up that defeated the Bubblers in last year's game, by a 26-7 score. This was one of the two defeats suffered by a good Bubbler team last year.

Bubblers Hard Hit

While the Bulldogs of Jack Goefert will have a veteran team on the field, the Bubblers will be missing nine of the 11 boys who started and played most of last year's games. Gone are ends Paul Bishop and Paul Dugan; tackles Marlin Lear and Irvin Panus; guards John Stover and Center Charles Sherman.

Also missing will be Tom Lebo, Cletus Wise, and Grover Beam, who, along with Dasher, formed one of the best Bulldog backfields. Such capable replacements as Tim Gephart who did all of the kicking and also played on the defensive unit, and Bob Clark, another defensive player, are also missing. Only Dasher and Dave Cook remain from last year's starting eleven. Cook, a guard last year, has been shifted to the backfield to help out the situation there.

A large crowd is expected to attend the game. New ticket booths and more parking facilities have been added at the Boiling Springs field, so that spectators will find plenty of parking space available.

The Boiling Springs High School band will drill before the game and the Hummelstown band will present its show at halftime. The game will start at 8 p.m.

ROCKY IRKED

BY TAUNTS OF

ARCHIE MOORE

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (P)—Archie Moore's long needling campaign has gotten under Rocky Marciano's skin.

The 38-year-old ring veteran's taunts helped get him his Sept. 20 title fight with the heavyweight king but it also could lead to quick destruction for Moore in Yankee Stadium Tuesday night.

Archie's barbs have nettled him. Rocky admits. It also has served as a stimulant for the undefeated Brockton Blaster.

Rocky said he is in the greatest shape of his career, and expects to put on "one of my best fights."

Asked if Moore's oft-repeated cracks about him had something to do with this, Rocky replied:

"I guess so. Everything has been leading up to this. It kind of spurs you on. I think I want to win this more than any fight since the first one with Jersey Joe Walcott when I won the title."

At the same time Rocky said he respects the light heavyweight champion's skill and is looking for a tough fight.

"From all reports and talks I've had about him, I guess he must be called the most dangerous fighter I've ever faced. I've watched him on television and we go over the movies of his fight with Harold Johnson."

Moore, dropped by Johnson, rallied to knock out the light heavyweight challenger in the 14th round.

DEPEND ON WILLIAMS

BOSTON (P)—The Boston Red Sox are planning on Ted Williams being back in 1956 and "for several years" to come.

"As far as we're concerned, we want him back and we expect him back for several years as a player," General Manager Joe Cronin said yesterday.

Cronin made the statement after the 37-year-old Williams was quoted as saying "It depends on the front office" whether he will play next year.

S.P. Title Game At New Oxford; U.B. At Summit

Wenksville and Hunterstown will meet on the neutral New Oxford baseball diamond Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in a game which will decide the playoff champion of the South Penn Baseball League.

Wenksville, regular season titlists, eliminated Bonneauville in one semi-final series while Hunterstown erased Taneytown. In the best-of-three final series Wenksville took the opener 6-5 while Hunterstown won the second game 5-0.

Blue Ridge Summit, regular season champs of the Pen-Mar circuit, will be host to Union Bridge Sunday at 2 p.m. as the final three-game series begins to decide the playoff champion in that organization.

Blue Ridge took two straight from Cashtown in the semi-finals while Union Bridge eliminated Fairfield, 2-1.

SOFTBALL LOOP

HEARS REPORTS

ON 1955 SEASON

Financial reports for the past season were heard, officers re-elected and plans made for improvements to the field at a meeting of the Softball League Thursday evening at the Elks Home.

Collections taken throughout the season were considerably lower than in previous years but due to increased money posted by the teams prior to the season the league was able to break about even.

Bonuses of $15 each to Nick Jones and Jack Hartman, league umpires, were voted for their "faithfulness throughout the season."

Order Awards

Silver softballs, inscribed with "55," were ordered and will be presented each member of the Moose squad who won the regular season and playoff titles. A team trophy was also ordered for the team and will bear the inscription, "Moose — 1955."

Plans were made to have the infield scraped in the near future, eliminating grass and thereby providing a smoother playing surface. It was also decided to dig a drain along the infield near home plate.

Officers re-elected were: President, John Grindler; vice president, Don Bream, and secretary-treasurer, Carroll Smith.

All teams were represented at the meeting with the exception of the Eagles and American Legion.

SABOTEUR WINS

$17,193 RACE

READING, Pa., Sept. 16 (P)—Saboteur pulled a length ahead of Egyptian Princess in the showdown heat yesterday to win the $17,193.43 Reading Fair Futurity.

The victory boosted to $60,000 Saboteur's earnings for the year. He is owned by Arden Homestead Stables of Goshen, N.Y.

Because of a large field, the futurity was raced in two divisions, with two heats in each division. Only heat winners returned for the fifth and final test.

Egyptian Princess is owned by Clearview Stables of Winthrop.

The final heat was timed at 2:09. In his first appearance, Saboteur turned in the fastest mile by a 2-year-old trotter on a half mile oval this season. He ran the distance in 2:06.3.

SALK VACCINE EASES ANNUAL FEAR OF POLIO

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

Every summer the fear of polio has sent cold shivers down the spine of almost every parent in the land. Now we can relax—at least we can as soon as the supplies of this precious new Salk vaccine are sufficient for all our children to receive their shots.

Parents have responded to this wonderful new milestone in the fight of man against disease with characteristic American enthusiasm.

I don't know what the final figures will show, but around Washington at least 90 per cent of parents of first and second graders signed the slips giving permission to have their children given the vaccine in the schools. This is a wonderful tribute to the faith our people have in science.

These free shots for first and second graders are the gift of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. The vaccine for all these children takes just about all that is available right now.

The parents of youngsters not in the first or second grade must wait until more vaccine can be made.

Ready In Fall

Since the vaccine takes time to make and to test, the supply will not be enough for everyone until sometime in the fall.

Children who are in the greatest danger of getting polio should be given the vaccine before those in less danger. The most susceptible age group is the youngsters between 5-10 years of age; next comes the 1-5 years old, and finally the children over 10 and young adults.

Many parents have already put their children's names on doctor's lists and are anxiously waiting.

To like to give a tribute to all the mothers of my patients and to all other mothers like them. Not a one has asked for special favors. A real mother understands the feelings of other mothers and she will not try to push her youngster ahead of someone with a greater need. This sense of cooperation is the very life blood of our free and democratic land. It's what made Salk vaccine possible.

But it's hard to wait even though you know all the answers.

While you're waiting there's something you can do. Polio isn't the only disease we have conquered with vaccine.

Smallpox Eradicated

Smallpox and diphtheria were once rampant in this land of ours. Now you seldom hear of a case—why? Because we have shots against them. But these shots don't last a lifetime. They need to be repeated from time to time.

Smallpox vaccination should be done once in infancy and again about seven years later. Are all your youngsters properly protected against smallpox?

Diphtheria shots usually are combined with tetanus and whooping cough and given in a series of three shots in infancy. Then one shot of all three should be given every two years until the youngster is in his teens. Are your children up to date on these booster shots?

If we become lax about these tried and true immunizations an epidemic of diphtheria or of smallpox could do more harm than an epidemic of polio.

While you're waiting for your Salk vaccine check up on your children's other boosters.

RIVIERA QUEEN — Not yet 16, Francine Raggi holds two coveted beauty titles. Previously known as "Queen of Monaco," she has been named "Queen of the French Riviera."

WHICH WAY IS UP?

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Some of the artists entering their modern works for the annual exhibit at Carnegie Tech didn't take a chance this year that the canvases would be hung incorrectly. Institute officials, who said they could tell which side was up, laughingly revealed that a few artists wrote "top" or drew arrows on the back of their masterpieces.

GROUP TRACES ANCESTORS TO ANCIENT BARONS

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Even if you have proof that you are descended from one of the barons who wrested Magna Carta from King John in 1214 on the field at Runnymede in England, you may be excluded from the society that meets here for tea every night.

You have to be asked," says Mrs. William Frederick Pearson, wife of a retired Army colonel, a past president of the Daughters of the Barons of Runnymede. "We have a group of about 300 we hope is congenial. After all, we're not after members."

Mrs. Frederick A. Wallis of Paris, Ky., elected in 1952 to serve until '56, is now president of the Daughters, an organization in 1921 by the late Mrs. Robert Hovan of Baltimore. Daughters date their ancestry back farther than those of any other similar organization with the exception perhaps of the Descendants of Charlemagne (circa 1000), according to Mrs. Pearson.

Most exclusive of all is the group within the Daughters of the Barons, called "The Orders of Distinction Committee." This includes the descendant of the knights of the Garter, knights of the bath and ladies of the Garter. Mrs. Pearson, who says she's "everything," says there are only "60-odd" original members of this order "you can come down from." Queen Mother Elizabeth of England, she says, is a lady of the Garter.

"The Daughters had a meeting,

John Wesley Film To Be Shown Sunday

The color movie, "John Wesley" will be shown at the Centenary Methodist Church, Littlestown, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. It was produced by the Radio and Film Commission of the Methodist Church. It is the story of the 18th century evangelist and educator.

John Wesley's rescue from a burning house at the age of five, at the beginning of the film, forecasts the dramatic and eventful life which unfolds in this story of a man of slight stature but of impelling influence upon his contemporaries and upon history.

"John Wesley felt his heart strangely warmed," led him to face mobs unafraid, and to ride 250,000 miles on horseback, changing the masses of English people from a low state of moral degradation to sturdy and happy uprightness," a churchman reported.

EXTRA PAY OFF BILLS IN ARTS LIKE THEATER

By W. G. ROGERS
The Associated Press

It's "the pig's squeal," a publisher claims, that pays for books. Once upon a time, he explains, slaughterhouse and butcher found they could not make money just by selling meat, so they stepped up their efficiency and sold the squeal as well as the pork. The by-product made the difference between profit and loss.

The same is true in books. Not only that, it's true of culture generally. Whether in literature, music, art or theater, culture is not self-supporting. One way or another, it has to be subsidized.

Subsidiary Rights
Says the same publisher with customary unwillingness of his trade to be quoted by name on business matters: "We just couldn't keep going by publishing only new books." A book agent tells me: "Do I make money?" Certainly, but not on books. The money is in subsidiary rights, sales to magazines or chapters from books, or sales of entire books to the movies."

Reprint Sales
An editor says "Look at this anthology." It was the work of one of this country's most distinguished and honored poets. "My house is printing about 2,500 copies. Can you guess what will pay a big share of the cost?"

He answers his question. "Reprint rights. I think it's likely that just one poem in these pages—he named it—by being sold over and over again for magazines and anthologies will keep us out of the red with this volume."

Still another publisher is certain that the squeal makes all the difference. If you can sell it, you're ahead, if not, you're behind.

Serial Rights
"Our established houses," he explains, "don't always dig too hard for the extra income to be found in subsidiary rights. Maybe they get along with help from text books. But the younger publishing house needs other sources of income.

"They are found in serial rights both first and second in foreign rights, reprints and radio, TV and movies, and book clubs. For example, a publisher may collect 50 per cent on second serial rights, reprints and club sales, and 10 per cent on foreign rights and radio and television."

The New York Philharmonic-Symphony, for instance, had a budget of slightly more than one million dollars in 1953-54, and for 1954-55, slightly under one and a half million. The figures show that 49 per cent of the symphony's entire bill is paid by patrons who buy Carnegie Hall tickets. Forty per cent of the income comes from recordings, broadcasts, endowments and gifts, and the rest is made up by friends and admirers.

Philadelphia Orchestra
The Philadelphia Orchestra, better off than a lot of others, in 1953-54 had $1,094,268 revenue as against $1,269,571 expenses. At first glance, that left the orchestra $200,000 to make up from other sources; but a second glance, the breakdown of revenue showed, among other items, that only $712,524 came from ticket sales, that $331,744 was collected from recordings and "other income."

The Museum of Modern Art says about two-thirds of its income is earned, one-third contributed by friends.

For the year ending May, 1953, the Metropolitan Opera received $3,692,665 from ticket sales in New York and on tour; $583,639 for "radio, television and recording fees, building rentals, etc."; and contributions of $205,145 from the Opera Guild National Council and others.

Lucia Chase, of Ballet Theater, says the box office can be counted on to foot the bills in the operating weeks of the regular season, and once in a while there may be enough left over for overhead. But there has to be other money for new productions, and some of it comes from Ballet Theater Foundation and more from the sort of subsidiary rights noted in other fields.

A recent study shows that the average time it takes to get court action on a U.S. court case in which there is no jury is 4.6 months.

SIMIAN SOLUTION — Sarina, an orangutan at Amsterdam, Holland, zoo, has the perfect solution for hot weather. A basin of water and some privacy are all that are needed.

OLDSTERS LEAD CAPITOL HILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the finest heads of hair in Congress is that of Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-SC) according to the scissor-wielders in the House barbershops on Capitol Hill where the boys still can get a trimming for half a buck. One of the finest heads of hair, as a wag once toasted it, is probably that owned by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.). There are 29 other baldies in Congress, according to counts made by gallery-sitters.

Today the median age of the Senate is 56, that of the House is 51, as compared to 1790, when the median age of the Senate was 50 and that of the House 46.

Earlier Congresses

According to statistics offered by the Population Reference Bureau, in 1790 90 senators were over 65 and no representatives were over 70. Today 13 per cent of the Senate and 7 per cent of the House are over 70.

Youngsters were much more common in the first Congress than today. In its bulletin for May, the bureau reports 3 per cent of the representatives in that Congress were still in their 20s and 15 per cent of the senators were 15.

Today no member of Congress is under 30, 13 per cent of the representatives, and only 4 per cent of the senators are under 40. "The 94th Congress was definitely dominated by oldsters," observes the bureau. The oldest member of Congress is Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), 87. (For my money he is also one of the gayest and most energetic). The senator is 57 years older than the youngest member—Rep. Kenneth Gray (D-III) who is 30.

Youngest Senator
The youngest senator is Russell Long (D-Ala.) son of the former Sen. Huey Long, assassinated two decades ago. Long is 36.

Senior woman member of the House is Edith Nourse Rogers (D-Mass.) who first came to Congress in 1925 to fill out the unexpired term of her late husband. Youngest of the 16 women in Congress (Senator Margaret Chase Smith and 15 House members) is Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn.) who is 42.

Nearly half the members of Congress wear glasses. Largest member is Rep. Tumulty (D-N.J.) who weighs 350 pounds. More than half the members are lawyers. There are 25

WIFE OF CHIEF JUSTICE LONGS FOR CALIFORNIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Earl Warren, wife of the chief justice, loves Washington and enjoys the life she leads here, but she still gets mighty homesick for California and her children.

"I guess you never get used to such separations," she told me "It gets pretty rugged for the chief justice too. We've been fortunate in being together as long as we have, especially while the children were growing up. But I like to know that my children are still getting some of my cooking."

Mrs. Warren was cooking an egg for her husband's breakfast when I called. They live in a large hotel apartment and a maid comes in to tidy up, but Mrs. Warren does all her own cooking. She says that's why she doesn't go to the court very often. "With all the chores around the apartment, the mornings are gone before I know it," she confided. Right now, Virginia, 26, and Nina (Honeybear), 20, are spelling each other as baby-sitters with their nephews, Jock, 4, Jeff, 7, and Jimmy, 11, in Piedmont, while their young mother, Mrs. James Warren, is recuperating from an operation. The Warrens also have a granddaughter, Wendy Jean, one-year-old daughter of son, Earl Jr., in Oakland. Their youngest son, Bob, is in his second year at Davis Agricultural College and another daughter, Dorothy, 23, is working in the library of the Medical Building at UCLA.

Limited Social Nights
Mrs. Warren says that she and her distinguished husband try to limit their social nights out to twice a week, but sometimes find that not easy. Ranking third on the protocol list, after the President and vice president, they have to make an appearance at many official functions and are entertained at formal dinners by every diplomatic representative in Washington (about 80). In addition, Mrs. Warren, like many of the cabinet wives, is obliged to attend lunches, brunches, teas, cocktail parties and many late afternoon receptions.

"We haven't done anything in the way of entertaining, ourselves, on a big scale," Mrs. Warren said.

The Warrens never talk shop when the chief justice gets home evenings. "I never ask questions," Mrs. Warren said. "I think he needs to relax. He brings home so much work."

There is no lead in a lead pencil, the so-called lead being graphite.

Jews To Celebrate
Rosh Hashanah Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year (5716), starts today at sundown.

Throughout the world, Jews will celebrate the holiday with prayers, greetings and messages of hope—which will culminate on Yom Kippur, the fast day of atonement Sept. 26.

From his Denver headquarters last night, President Eisenhower extended greetings to all Americans of Jewish faith, urging a renewal of "devotion to the cause of peace."

Tibetans think that hail results from the mischief of devils and when it falls on the holy buildings of Lhasa, magicians who have been hired to prevent it are punished.

The latter has been with the business for the past six years and prior to that time was employed in a sales capacity. Mr. Krichen brings twelve years sales experience to the business, including several years in appliances.

Each adult visitor to the store during the formal opening may register for the seven prizes to be given away Saturday evening at 11 o'clock. They are a mahogany end table, table lamp, automatic toaster, G. E. iron, two kitchen clocks and a gallon of floor wax. There will be souvenirs.

TWO CAMPAIGN TALKS LISTED SOON BY NIXON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A speaking tour which will take Vice President Nixon into contested political territory indicated today Republican campaign news.

Nixon announced yesterday he will open fire at the National Plowing Contest in Wabash, Ind., tomorrow on Democratic critics of the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support farm program.

The vice president will follow this up with a speech at a GOP $100-a-plate dinner in Indianapolis tomorrow night.

Farm Price Threat
Republican state chairmen agreed at a meeting here last week that declining farm prices offer the greatest political threat to the election of a GOP Congress next year. Some of them are known to have suggested to National Chairman Leonard W. Hall that Nixon was the man to answer sharpened Democratic criticism in this field.

Thus far, the chief Republican reply has been that the Eisenhower administration inherited the great crop surpluses which they said were caused by rigid price supports under the Democrats.

But Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said that President Eisenhower will have something "very specific" to propose to Congress on an addition to the present program. He has hinted this might take the form of federally-subsidized withdrawal of some acreage from crop production.

Train Derailment Interrupts Service

Pleads Innocent On Murder Charge

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Percy S. Haines entered a plea of innocent at his arraignment yesterday in the fatal courtroom shooting of a Carlisle attorney last Aug. 2.

The 60-year-old Neville R.D. 2 man entered his plea in Cumberland County Court before Judge W. C. Sheely, of Adams County, who will also preside at the farmer's trial scheduled to start next Wednesday.

Haines is charged with the fatal shooting of John D. Faller Jr., in Cumberland County Court. Injured during the shooting spree last month were Judge Mark Garber, Atty. George Black, Chambersburg, and Haines' wife, Lulu.

Judge Sheely will preside at the trial because of Garber's injury and because Cumberland County's other judge, Dale F. Shugart, may be called to testify.

ENTIRE FAMILY EARNS DEGREES

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—When Grant Bartholomew Martin, 21, receives his bachelor's degree from Maryland State Teachers College at Bowie next spring, he will be the 10th member of his family to receive a college degree.

It will also mark the end of Louis Martin's dream of educating his entire family. Grant is the youngest of 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. Martin and his sheepskin will be the 13th in the Negro family. Three of them hold master's degrees.

The event will be all the more unusual in that Louis Martin, the father, has worked most of his 66 years for not more than $80 a week. Most of his working life, he earned about $30 a week.

Orphaned At 10
Louis Martin had to build his strong character at an early age. His father died when he was 3. His mother died when he was 10.

running between Fort Wayne, Ind., and Crestline, Ohio, jumped the tracks at 2:10 a.m. No one was injured, a Pennsylvania spokesman here said.

He added that Pennsylvania passenger trains between Chicago and Philadelphia, Washington and New York would be delayed about 30 minutes because of the wreck. These trains will be detoured over New York Central tracks from Fort Wayne to Crestline.

The spokesman said the freight derailment was caused by a broken axle part on one car.

MINERS FACED WITH $20 LEVY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 200,000 working soft coal miners will be assessed $20 each to add about four million dollars to the United Mine Workers' treasury.

The money is needed, according to an announcement in the UMW's journal, to defend the union against law suits "seeking to destroy it through harassing legal actions and other devious means."

Signed by UMW President John L. Lewis, the announcement said the union is "being constantly beleaguered by many law suits. Fortunately, through its ability to acquire reserves throughout the years, it has been able to offset these attacks and protect the benefits now being enjoyed by our membership."

Report Huge Treasury
Although the UMW has published no recent financial statement, union sources say there is now about $2 million in the treasury.

Lewis said the assessment was voted by the union's policy committee as an aftermath of the recent miner's wage increase.

The miners received a $1.20 daily pay raise effective Sept. 1 and are due to get a second 80 cents hike next April 1, boosting the basic daily wage to $20.25.

The assessment is to be levied in four $5 installments, in September, October, January and the last in a pay period to be selected following the April 1 pay raise.

2 Biggest Red Spy Rings Were Uncovered By Russia Agents

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every time an American ally uncovers a Soviet spy ring in its own country, it raises an old question here: Is there an espionage network operating now in the United States? This country was shocked shortly after the war, and the public got its first insight into Russian espionage, when a Soviet spy ring was exposed in Canada. This week Australia produced a 100,000-word report on Russian spying there.

Both governments found out that not just one spy ring was working against them. There were several rings, each independent of the other and concealed from the other.

Moscow Pulled Strings
Some sought military information, some scientific and diplomatic information. The strings were pulled from Moscow. The reason the Kremlin did not want one of its spy rings to know the other existed was simple enough:

In case one ring was exposed, or one or more of its members were caught, no information could be obtained that would endanger any other ring.

Although nine years separate the Canadian and Australian discoveries of what the Russians had been doing to them, the Soviet spy operations were the same in general:

The Russian masters of the spy rings found the Canadian and Australian Communist parties the most fertile ground for recruits. They were always looking for recruits. Their most trusted agents acted as talent scouts.

Kremlin Okayed Agents
But if one ring found a recruit it thought could be trusted, he couldn't be put to work unless Moscow approved. Moscow either had a file on the man or used one of the other spy rings to check on his trustworthiness.

In addition to their spy rings, the Russians sought to set up fifth columns in both countries. These would be agents, undercover, of course, who could be depended on to work for Russia in case of war when the Soviet spy chiefs would have to return home.

Neither the Canadians nor Australians discovered the espionage through their own police work. In both cases they were set on the

Collector Charged With Embezzlement

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—A Lock Haven water and sewer bill collector is scheduled to appear before the October session of Clinton County Court on a charge of embezzlement.

William M. Fredericks, 31, yesterday waived a hearing on the charge and renewed his bail of $5,000. The court session begins Oct. 24.

Fredericks was taken into custody after neighbors complained they "couldn't understand the clerk's high living."

Fredericks was paid $3,960 a year and handled about $18,000 in city money during the last two years, the time charged in the embezzlement count.

The city said a special audit will be made of Water and Sewer Bureau accounts. Fredericks served as clerk for seven years in the bureau.

State Anticipates Big Potato Crop

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Agriculture Department said today that potato production prospects in Pennsylvania held steady during August as rotting of tubers and a disrupted spray schedule offset the effects of abundant rainfall.

A crop of 13,680,000 bushels was estimated by the department as of Sept. 1, the same as a month earlier but 6 per cent below 1954 and 26 per cent under the 10-year average, the department said.

An estimated yield of 240 bushels per acre would be 10 bushels less than the all-time record set last year.

This year's Pennsylvania potato crop will come from 57,000 acres, 1,000 less than last year and the smallest on record, the department report showed.

trail by Russians who were part of a spy ring and then voluntarily offered information.

In Australia it was Vladimir Petrov. In Canada it was Igor Gouzenko.

Petrov was third secretary of the Russian Embassy in Australia and director of one of the spy rings there. In April 1954 he and his wife deserted to the Australians, asked for asylum, told their story, and backed up their statements with documents they had taken with them.

In 1945 Gouzenko, a cipher clerk in the Russian Embassy in Ottawa, turned his back on Russia and went to the Canadians. Just as Petrov did later, he carried documents with him to support his story.

CANCER PAIN AIDED BY DRUG

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A German-developed drug is bringing remarkable relief from pain and general improvement in men with cancer of the prostate gland, the American Chemical Society was told today.

It is practically specific for tumors of the prostate, a common type in men, said Walter J. Frajola, Ph.D. Jaber Muhsin, M.D., and J. N. Taylor, M.D., of Ohio State University.

German investigators have reported successful control of prostatic cancer with the drug, diethylstilbestrol diphosphate.

The Ohio team tested it on 13 men and found it "produced remarkable relief of pain and other symptoms in a few days." But there have been no signs yet, visible through X-rays, of improvement.

ADAMS COUNTY WITHOUT DEBT; PAY OFF BONDS

Adams County was out of debt today for the first time in approximately a half century.

The last six bonds, outstanding of the issue of 1935, were due for final payment Thursday, and the county treasurer had more than $6,000 on hand from the sinking fund to pay off the bonds as they arrived. The "last bonds" of the issue, No. 149 and No. 150 were paid off Thursday afternoon. Two of the last six bonds, No. 147 and No. 148, had not received when the treasurer's office closed at 4 o'clock, but were expected today.

The bonds that Commissioners' Clerk Clarence C. Smith was happily marking "cancelled" Thursday were originally issued in 1935 to pay off a prior bond issue when the county found it could sell bonds with a lower rate of interest than the 4 1/2 per cent it was paying at that time.

Save Several Thousands

A survey of the county's bonded debt in 1935 showed that $40,000 worth of bonds issued in 1920 and paying 4 1/2 per cent interest, could not be recalled, but $150,000 worth of bonds, also paying 4 1/2 per cent interest, could be called in, and paid off by a bond issue paying 2 1/4 per cent, with a resultant saving to the county of several thousand dollars.

As an example of how 4 1/2 per cent interest piles up costs, the $40,000 bond issue of 1920 was paid off in two installments. The first $20,000 was paid off in 1940 and the county had paid $18,000 in interest for that $20,000. The second $20,000 was paid off in 1950 and by that time the county had paid another $27,000 in interest.

As set up in 1935, the $150,000 in bonds were paid off at a rate $9,000 a year until the last year, 1955, when only six were due.

The $150,000 debt included $100,000 for purchase of the old turnpikes which once dotted the county, and $50,000 to pay off general debt of the county. The various bonds were marked as to their purpose. Last of the "turnpike" bonds was paid off last year. The ones due to be paid Thursday were for general purposes.

Pay $240,000 In 20 Years

All told the county has paid off $240,000 in bonded debt during the last 20 years. In addition to the $150,000 2 1/4 per cent bonds and the $40,000 4 1/2 per cent interest bonds, the county also issued $50,000 in bonds, paying one per cent interest in 1947 to pay for the new jail. Those bonds were paid off last year.

While the county would have been interested to know who held bond 150, the last of the series, there apparently was no way to determine that. The bond was sent in by the Provident Trust Co. of Philadelphia and it was assumed that the bank was simply acting for an individual or an estate. The bonds issued in 1935 were signed by L. W. Wigan as chief clerk at that time and Commissioners H. A. Parr, H. B. Geiselman and S. L. Baltzley.

20,000,000th Visitor Arrives

The John T. Larsen family, of West Caldwell, N. J., were the "lucky" twenty millionth visitors to historic Gettysburg today. They are guests of Gettysburg for the next 26 hours. In the accompanying photograph, taken in the National Cemetery, are David, 8, on the left; his father; brother, John, 13; Burgess Weaver and Mrs. Larsen.

Jersey Family Welcomed As Gettysburg's 20,000,000th Visitors; Guests 26 Hours

John T. Larsen, port captain for the Moore-McCormack Steamship Co. of New York City this morning became Gettysburg's twenty millionth visitor to the Battlefield and he, his wife and two sons are guests of the town for the next 26 hours.

Captain Larsen, who resides at West Caldwell, N. J., and his family are on the third week of a vacation, and had planned a long weekend trip here about five years ago when they visited the Lancaster are a Pennsylvania Dutch and found they did not have time enough to visit Gettysburg during that tour.

Burgess William G. Weaver and Allen Larson, president of the Gettysburg Travel Council, which is sponsoring the program for the 20,000,000th visitor, headed the welcoming committee which greeted Captain Larsen and his family at the National Cemetery gates.

Auto Is Serviced

Larsen's car was removed to the Blue Ridge Oil Company station on York St. where it was filled with gasoline and then taken to Swope's Atlantic station, Carlisle St., for lubrication and washing.

In the meantime Burgess Weaver and LeRoy H. Winebrenner escorted the Larsens and their children, John A., 13, and David D., 8, on a "buggy ride" to Lincoln Square and back to the Cyclorama where they viewed the huge painting.

They then went to the Jennie Wade museum, and at noon the family was guest of the town at a picnic lunch provided in the National Museum given by the Peace Light Inn. Following a showing on the electric map at the museum the group started a tour of various places of interest throughout the area.

This afternoon, the family will be interviewed at WGET. The program will be broadcast at 5:45 o'clock this evening.

Planned Visit Here

Capt. Larsen said the family had planned to visit Gettysburg about "four or five years ago" but "spent" too much time in the Pennsylvania Dutch area around Lancaster. We decided at that time that when the

Report Quelling Three More Uprisings Against Dictator Peron; Martial Law Decreed

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Peron's government announced today it has crushed a new revolt by army and navy forces in the interior of Argentina.

Armed uprisings had flared at Cordoba in central Argentina, at Arroyo Seco in Entre Rios province north of Buenos Aires, and at Curuzu — Cuatia in Corrientes province north of the capital. Unrest also was reported elsewhere.

The government said 300 of the rebels had surrendered at an army remount depot at Arroyo Seco.

The fighting at Cordoba was in an air technical school on the outskirts of the city. Rebels tried to hold the school in the face of an attack by troops.

3th Revolt Against Peron

It was the fifth revolt launched against Peron's government this year and the government extended the state of siege — a virtual martial law — to the entire country. Previously it had been proclaimed only in Buenos Aires.

The government appealed to the country to remain calm.

Only one death was reported — the shooting of a policeman in Belgrano.

The arrest of 100 civilians as plotters was announced in Buenos Aires.

Unrest was reported also in Rosario, Argentina's second largest city, with a population of almost a half million, 170 miles north west of Buenos Aires; at Santa Fe, 100 miles north of Rosario; and at Parana, 235 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Planes Over Cordoba

Planes were reported over Cordoba but there was no indication of whether they were piloted by loyalists or rebels.

The planes were Gloster Meteor jets — the same type that bombed Government House in Buenos Aires in the abortive revolt of last June 16.

The new uprisings flared before President Peron was set to address the nation at 10 a.m.

CHURCH MUSIC, WORSHIP SCHOOL HERE SATURDAY

A one-day School on Church Music and Worship, sponsored by the Committee on Worship of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church of America, will be held Saturday at Christ Chapel, Gettysburg College campus, with sessions in the morning and afternoon.

The school is designed especially for choirmasters and directors of church music.

Dr. Ulrich S. Leupold, professor of New Testament Theology and director of music at Waterloo College and Seminary, Waterloo, Ontario, Dr. Edgar S. Brown, director of the Department of Worship of the ULCA, will speak at both morning and afternoon meetings.

Dr. Leupold, who spent his early boyhood in Berlin, Germany, studied music and theology at the University of Berlin. He came to this country in 1938 and served in parishes in Ohio and Ontario, Canada, before going to Waterloo in 1945. Recently he has been engaged in the preparation of a new service book and hymnal.

Ex-Navy Chaplain

Dr. Brown graduated from Muhlenberg College and Mt. Airy Lutheran Theological Seminary. After serving as a chaplain in the Navy for four years, he began his pastorate at Grace Lutheran Church, Pottstown.

Saturday's morning session will open at 9:45 o'clock with an organ recital by Mrs. John C. Selbert, Johnstown. Devotions will be conducted by Dr. Emmanuel J. Hoover, pastor of the Quickel Charge, York County, and an anthem will be sung by three York Church adult choirs — St. Matthew's Lutheran, E. E. Schroeder, director; Union Lutheran, Mrs. Robert Leckrone, director, and St. Mark's Lutheran, Milner H. Bowser, director.

Dr. Leupold will speak on "The Common Luther Hymnal," at 10:20 a.m. Following the offering, Dr. Brown will speak on "My Workshop," after which the session will recess at noon with the benediction.

The afternoon meeting will open at 1:45 with devotions in charge of Dr. Hoover. Greetings will be extended by Dr. Dwight F. Putman, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod.

Dr. Leupold will speak at 2:15 on "The Communion Lutheran Liturgy" (Continued On Page 3)

CATTLE EXPERT TELLS FARMERS OF STILBESTROL

Use of Stilbestrol, a growth stimulant, to produce beef cattle gains 10 to 20 per cent faster than non-Stilbestrol fed cattle was outlined by Thomas B. King, extension cattle specialist from Pennsylvania State University, at a meeting of the Upper Adams Young Farmers Association at the Biglerville High School, Thursday night.

Frank S. Zettie, Adams County farm agent, introduced the specialists to the 25 members and guests present. Noting that antibiotics and urea are being used in many beef cattle programs today, King said farmers must be careful in feeding urea because it is toxic and will even kill animals if fed in too large amounts. Steers should not get more than 1/4 pound of urea per day per animal and the ration should never be made up of more than five per cent urea, one pound of which equals seven or eight pounds of plant protein.

Steer Profits Drop

A report at the meeting showed profits on yearling steers has decreased over the last five years. In 1951 it was $82.68; 1952, $21.49; 1953, $24.44; 1954, $35.25, and this year $15.86.

Donald Weaver was elected publicity director for the Young Farmers, with Donald Wenk as assistant. Wenk had previously held the post but asked to be relieved because of conflicting obligations.

President Myles Starnes appointed members of the Farm Improvement and Electricity Committee to arrange for the November meeting. They are Norman Blocher, Guy Deardorff, Russell Wertz and Keith Rex.

Schedule Two Meetings

Two meetings will be held, the same night, in December. The dairy committee, Daniel Walder, David Mentzer and Gene Reynolds, will arrange one session. The other session will be arranged by the fruit and vegetable committee, Thomas Oyler, Harold Garretson, Richard Slaybaugh, Fred Raffensperger, Luther Horlick, and Walter Hayes.

The January meeting will be arranged by the crop improvement committee, Robert Taylor, Vaughn Dunlop and Elliott Schlessor.

County Agent Frank Zettie will speak at the October meeting on "Soil Testing in Adams County."

John W. White and Cecil R. Swader are advisors for the Upper Adams Young Farmers group.

Three Service Stations Are Burglarized; Amount Of Loot Is Undetermined

GIVE EXAMS FOR C. G. ACADEMY ON FEBRUARY 27, 28

Borough and state police today joined in the search for the burglars who broke doors and windows to burglarize three service stations early this morning. Rau's Amoco Service Station, Buford Ave.; Hansford Atlantic Service, 61 Buford Ave., and Fritz's Gulf Service Station and Restaurant, McKnightstown.

Largest loss was at the McKnightstown station, Clarence C. Fritz, the proprietor, said that the burglary occurred sometime between the close of the station at 2 o'clock this morning and 6:30 o'clock when he arrived to find that the front door had been pried open. He estimated his loss at more than $100.

Amount Of Loot Unknown

As is usual in some burglaries, the amounts secured by the burglars could not be determined. They pried open cigarette vending machines, a pinball machine, and a "juke box" and removed the coins, the amount of which is unknown.

In addition about $20 in cash was stolen from a cash bag that had been hidden. Fritz's son, Charles Fritz, aged 11, had purchased a new baseball glove and ball and had placed it under the counter at the service station. The ball and glove were also missing this morning, along with the cash, and a number of cigarette lighters.

At Rau's Amoco Service Station, Melvin E. Rau reported that the burglars had broken in a rear window. The steel frame window had been bolted for the night, but the bolt had been bent and the window pried open. After gaining entrance the burglars broke open a pinball and cigarette machine and stole about $12 in cash from the register. Most of the cash was in nickel's and dimes in paper wrappers.

At the Hansford Atlantic Service Clarence Hansford said the burglars broke the window in a rest room to enter the building. They broke open cigarette and cigar machines and a pin ball machine and took two bags which contained check books, but no money.

The Adams County Committee for the Employment of the Handicapped held an organizational meeting Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the local office of the State Bureau of Employment Security on West St. Twelve representatives of service clubs, fraternal orders and officers of the Bureau attended.

The purpose of the meeting was to increase interest in the employment of the handicapped in the county by the promotion of several projects sponsored by the local, state, and national committees. The group plans to publicize to National Employ the Handicapped Week which will be celebrated October 2-8 this year and later to sponsor county-wide essay and poster contests in the schools.

Henry N. Noel, company president, said the new vehicle plus equipment will cost about $20,000. It will have a seven-passenger cab, 750-gallon-per-minute pump with a 300-gallon booster tank and will be powered by a V-12, 215 horsepower engine.

Fire Chief Eugene Murren served as chairman of the special truck committee.

Two Uranium Prospectors Trapped In Old Mine Shaft

GEORGETOWN, Colo. — U. S. Bureau of Mines experts joined more than 100 volunteer rescue workers today in desperate efforts to rescue two Kansas uranium prospectors trapped in an ancient mine shaft.

Believed dead from lack of oxygen more than 3,000 feet inside the unused shaft near here were Glen Dew, 33, and Melvin LeBlow, 45, Unk, Kan., farmers.

The two were last seen about 2:30 p.m. yesterday when they followed their Geiger counters, under the rotten timbers supporting the old mine tunnel, about 25 miles west of Denver.

Two companions who stayed back as a precaution escaped unharmed. They are Kenneth C. Hickok, 50, a mining engineer, and Ernest P. Stubbfield, 32, an agricultural manager. Both also live at Unk.

U. S. DIPLOMAT SURPRISED AS PAINTINGS SELL

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Art Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—People had to show him their money, and show it again, before Robert Sivard could really believe they wanted to buy his paintings.

Usually an artist can't believe people don't want to buy, Sivard however, painted not for sales but for souvenirs.

He and his wife and son had had several pleasant years in Paris and were coming home. He wanted something to remember the city by. He went out and painted a picture of the front of a familiar grocery store, and hung it up contentedly in his Left-Bank apartment.

Friends came in, friends from the United States Embassy where he worked or just friends in general. They looked at the grocery store and promptly asked:

"Is that for sale?"
It wasn't. Finally a dealer asked the same question, and in June, 1953, the dealer included some 15 or 18 of Sivard's paintings in an exhibition. Every single one was sold. Sivard, a tall, soft-voiced United States Information Agency official stationed in Washington, is having a show in the Midtown Galleries here. In the window hangs the picture of the grocery store that started him off.

Fondness And Tartness

His 20 other paintings, done with minute care, almost all in the same manner and design, show facades, or some vertical plane seen close-to, and front-to, and seen drolly, with the mixture of fondness and tartness that always awakens popular interest.

Besides the grocer's there is the cafe, restaurant, hardware store, street performers and other peculiar Paris scenes presented in a quaint, primitive way.

Of course the grocer wasn't his first painting. Born in this city, he wanted to be an illustrator.

"I studied at Pratt Institute, I went to the National Academy. I was art director of several advertising agencies, I worked with a book publisher, I did commercial murals for both the New York and San Francisco World's Fairs. And I helped Frank Schwartz on his big murals for the Oregon State Capitol."

Four years in the Army gave him his first taste of Europe and he liked it. From then on he did the things the textbooks and school-the first frogs croaking, you may find in the roadside ditch or the park lagoon a little cloud of frog eggs.

A little later you can catch a tadpole in a milk bottle and give it to the children as a pet. The kids will watch it grow. They may miss a few chapters in the current cowboy saga on TV but they'll watch it. The tadpole's evolutionary struggle to grow legs, to develop lungs and grow beyond the necessity of an aquatic environment is quite a gripping saga in itself, if you look at it that way.

And painlessly, even the very young have read a chapter of the history that made possible man's life upon the earth.

Tears Down Mountains

You are not limited to frogs, either. You can practically pick the age or even the species, a bacterium whose ancestors came first upon the cooling planet and likely will stay last, besting himself again, to tear down another mountain or to make another rock into soil. This fellow is beyond your sight unless Junior can borrow a microscope from school.

But the life form that came next—the one that made the first and thus perhaps the greatest step of all in evolution—is there for you to see, at least in the aggregate. The algae are everywhere, in the mosses on a tree or stone, everywhere you see the film of color gathering in a colony is life.

Most of those you see readily, like those making a scum on stagnant water, are the Blue-Greens, unfriendly to us mammals and causes of deplorable ailments in cows which drink unwisely from polluted pudd-

GOD'S TUGBOAT 50 YEARS OLD

BAR HARBOR, Maine (AP)—Fifty years of service by God's Tugboats were celebrated here when the Maine Seacoast Mission Society marked its anniversary.

Founded in 1905 by two Scotch clergymen from picturesque Mount Desert Island, the non-sectarian society started with a 26-foot sailing sloop bought by the ministers and progressed to the 72-foot motor vessel owned today.

Some call the present boat the Sunbeam, its regular name. Others

call it "God's Tugboat."

The Revs. Angus and Alexander MacDonald conceived the idea of a seagoing mission service to Maine's many offshore islands. They interested others. Thomas Searles, of Bar Harbor, treasurer since 1905, is the only member of the original society still alive.

Although its primary purpose is to provide religious teaching, the society doubles in brass using its boat as a water taxi for missionaries, seagoing moving van for island families, Santa's aquatic sleigh at Christmas, ice breaker, hospital ship and a general emergency vessel which often augments the Coast Guard's work.

D. C. LUNCHEON INCLUDED IN SOCIAL EVENTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower told a member of the Senate Ladies Club at the luncheon she gave for them on first returning from her stay at the presidential farm at Gettysburg, she was "still a little woozy" from her recent illness.

"She looked wonderful though, and rested," the lady remarked, "and it was a beautiful luncheon."

Traditionally, the Senate Ladies, wives of members of the Upper House, who meet once a week to sew and wrap bandages for the Red Cross, entertain for the First Lady before she entertains for them, but this year Mrs. Eisenhower beat them to it.

Mrs. Richard Nixon, wife of the vice president, is head of the group and puts in a full day of work in uniform along with the rest of the ladies.

Mrs. Wilson Receives
Receiving with Mrs. Eisenhower in the Red Room of the White House was Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the World War I Democratic president. The First Lady wore a navy hat and long white gloves (prescribed protocol) to complete her simply-fashioned navy dress. The luncheon was served at little tables set up in the State Dining Room.

With the doctor ordering the First Lady back to bed, the Senate ladies were deprived of the pleasure of entertaining her them-

Washington News Letter

By Jane Eads
By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's recent investigation of the case of Dr. Irving Peress, one of the things that touched off the spectacular Army-McCarthy hearings, drew some of the same top-drawer boxholders that figured in the televised hearings of last summer. When the committee moved from its own little room to the same themselves. They had planned to have their luncheon, together with wives of Cabinet members and secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force, in the Caucus Room of the Senate Office Building which they use as their workshop.

Another disappointed group was the Congressional Club, made up of wives of members of Congress who planned an elaborate "brunch" to which about 500 had been invited.

Heavy Schedule For Pat
The second lady of the land, Mrs. Richard Nixon, has almost as heavy a schedule as the First Lady. The Little Cabinet wives gave a gala luncheon in her honor. Pretty Pat Nixon, in a soft blue wool suit and matching hat, was a bit flustered when she arrived 10 minutes ahead of time at the party at the Army Navy Country Club. She explained she had misjudged the time it would take to get to the club in nearby Arlington, Va., from her Spring Valley home in suburban Washington.

"I had to be hid," she joked.

big caucus room where the original hearings were held, many of the VIPs claimed squatters' rights to the same desirable seats behind the committee members which were so easily visible to the TV audience during the original hearings.

Among the women present was Mrs. Karl Mundt, wife of the Republican senator from South Dakota, who was in attendance although the chairmanship he formerly held is now held by the Democratic senator from Arkansas, John L. McClellan.

"It's like old home week," exclaimed Mrs. Mundt to a group of newsmen with whom she had become acquainted at the original hearings.

Also occupying a prominent "up front" seat at the recent show was good-looking statuesque Jean McCarthy, wife of the Wisconsin senator, who frequently moved to her side to whisper in her ear, just as he did throughout the original proceedings.

Multiple Crowns
Pretty Olivia Twining, daughter of the Chief of the U.S. Air Force and Mrs. Nathan Twining, is beginning to feel very much at home in the role of royalty. Queen this year of the second annual Azalea Court at Norfolk, Va., she was a Washington Cherry Blossom princess last year, and the year before she was crowned "Miss Air Power." A student at Holton Arms here, 19-year-old Olivia, born in Montgomery, Ala., like all service daughters has grown up in many different places—Hawaii, Alaska, Kansas, Ohio, Texas and North Carolina. "I could never get tired of being a queen," she says. "You meet so many interesting people it's really lots of fun."

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (Mass.) who never appears without a corsage—usually a rose, or an orchid—says the jonquil has really been her favorite flower since her 12th birthday when she received six dozen from a childhood sweetheart—John Jacob Rogers, whom she later married.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Liz Carpenter, president of the Women's National Press Club, gives the following recipe for a perfect Washington party: "Combine several ambassadors; saute with reporters; sprinkle generously with American VIP's, and shake with a global subject."

The luncheon over which she presided recently was just that. Head table guests and speakers were four ambassadors, Couve de Murville of France, Brosio of Italy, Melas of Greece and Arellaza of Spain. The newsmen were out in full force and invited their male colleagues as well. VIPs were all over the place, including Mrs. Sherman Adams, wife of the presidential assistant; Mrs. Charles Wilson, wife of the defense secretary; and Mrs. George Humphrey, wife of the secretary of the treasury. In addition, the town's four top hostesses were in the throng of 350.

Mrs. Merriweather Post (the recently divorced wife of Joe Davies, former ambassador to Russia); pretty blonde Mrs. Robert Guggenheim, wife of the recently retired U.S. ambassador to Spain; "hostess with the mostest" Perle Mesta, former U.S. minister to Luxembourg; and Gwen Cafritz, whose husband, Morris, is the town's top realtor.

The subject discussed by the four envoys: How can Europe contribute to world peace?

Jefferson Chandelier
The crystal chandelier, bought by Thomas Jefferson in Paris for the White House, is among the furnishings valued at close to $75,000 which enrich the office of the vice president, in the Capitol near the Senate chamber.

Grover Cleveland was married under the chandelier in the East Room. Later it hung over President Theodore Roosevelt's desk until he ordered it to the vice's office. According to the story on the Hill, Teddy Roosevelt declared: "He (the vice) doesn't have any-

ADAMS FINDS SECLUDED SPOT FOR D.C. HOME

WASHINGTON (AP)—"There isn't any such address," the taxi driver said.

"There'd better be," I replied. "That's where Sherman Adams, the top assistant to the President lives, and I've been invited there to tea."

The Adamses live in a spacious, luxuriously-remodeled barn and mill, the stone part of which dates back about 150 years. It is in a picturesque spot by the side of the drive that leads to the Zoological Gardens in Rock Creek Park. The former New Hampshire governor and his wife rented the place with its charming furnishings in January, 1954, when they moved from a house they had occupied on Capitol Hill.

"It took me a long time to find it," Mrs. Adams told me. "We wanted something secluded and quiet, with trees—as near like our New England home as we could expect to find here."

"Isn't she lucky, she doesn't have thing to do, and it will keep him awake." Other items include a Peale painting of George Washington, valued at $50,000, and a bookcase made from wood of the U.S. Constitution.

Mrs. Hussein, young and pretty wife of the Egyptian ambassador, whips up some of her own beautiful party clothes on a sewing machine at the embassy.

to go to the florist for her greens and flowers," observed Mrs. George Humphrey, wife of the treasury secretary, who arrived with Mrs. H. Chapman Rose, wife of the assistant secretary, and several other ladies, when I did.

The tea was to discuss the forthcoming exhibit by the Washington National Cathedral Needlepoint Guild, of work done by nationally prominent women to stimulate interest in furnishing the cathedral chapels with such handiwork. Mrs. Harold Talbot, wife of Air Force secretary, is chairman of the project and a talented needleworker who is sponsoring the furnishing of one of the nine chapels. Others who have agreed to be responsible for specific works include Lady Reading, head of the British Women's Voluntary Assn. who has spoken for the War Memorial Chapel, where the late King George's cross and candlesticks will be placed. Mrs. Lewis Douglas, wife of the former U. S. high commissioner to Germany, Mrs. Henri Bonnet, wife of the former French ambassador to Washington, and Fleur Cowles, publisher, are presenting kneelers.

Creating Interest
"It's a wonderful project that is creating much interest," Mrs. Adams, one of the committee members, explained. She herself doesn't do needlework, but is an artist, with a studio of her own in her stable house. "I like to do snow scenes, but don't have the chance to do them in Washington," she told me. "Right now, I'm doing some copying at the National Gallery from the masterpieces to learn techniques."

MALACHI CALLS FOR RIGHTEOUS LIVING
By Rev. Howard C. Gold D.D.
Margaret C. Gold
Malachi 3:1-6 13-18

Key Verse: Have we not all one father? Has not one God created us? Why then are we faithless to one another? Malachi 2:10.

Malachi is the last book in the Old Testament. Consequently its prophecies are the final messages to a disobedient nation. It is occasionally called "the seal of the prophets" as it represents the last of the prophecies. The name Malachi means "messenger" but no one knows if it was actually the name of the prophet himself. Some authorities set the time of Malachi's prophecies about 420 B.C.; at least we know they were delivered sometime between the rebuilding of the temple in 516 B.C. and the coming of Nehemiah in 445 B.C.

What was the situation of the people of Jerusalem when Malachi came? The people were not under a king but a governor, likely appointed by the Persian emperor. About 100 years had elapsed since the remnant of Jews had returned from captivity. As long as they were building, completing the temple and constructing the city walls, they maintained their high enthusiasm. They were annoyed continually by the Samaritans and other neighboring tribes. Reclaiming the desolate land, suffering poor harvests and resultant famine, their morale was at a low ebb.

Careless And Lax
These physical and moral failures left their mark upon the people and they gradually grew careless and lax. The priests became degenerate, tithes were neglected, inferior sacrifices were offered—all signs of neglecting their duty to God. In this period of extreme depression in religious practices and morals came Malachi! His clear reasoning won the ear of the people. Surely, they awaited the Messiah, "But who can endure the day of His coming, and who can stand when He appears?"

Malachi combined rebuke with promise as may be seen in these verses: "For he is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap; He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, till they present right offerings to the Lord." Both priests and people dishonored God by presenting blemished offerings and judgment is imminent. Those who intermarried with heathen or divorced their wives must suffer God's punishment.

This prophet, a simple practical man of faith who was primarily a teacher, found that the Hebrews had grown cynical about God. He first had to combat their attitude of mind before effecting any spiritual revival. His vigorous attack of the problems involved was directed to the individual rather than to the crowd, so his persistent words crept into the hearts of the people. Bringing home the hard fact that their misfortunes were the result of neglecting God and His house, the people began to repent. God always shows mercy to all who repent of their evil ways.

Evaluate Teachings
It is comparatively easy to evaluate Malachi's teachings after 23 centuries. He stood at the threshold of a new era, but he tried to bridge the gap between the age of prophecy and the Messianic Age. Probably our religious and moral failures will be exposed 20 centuries hence, with emphasis on wars and cold wars, atom and hydrogen bombs, divorce and juvenile delinquency. Ages come and go, but God is changeless, always and forever omnipotent. God has His "Book of Remembrance" in which each name is inscribed.

There are no biblical records of Israel's successes and failures in the 400 years between Malachi and the birth of Jesus. No doubt she continued to have periods of weakness or strength. In days of prosperity and peace people are apt to follow accustomed habits of worship; in adversity, they often despair and turn away from God.

Among the many teachings and warnings of Malachi these few will always be remembered: (1) the unfailing love of God; (2) rebuke of careless or irrelevant performance of religious duties; (3) sacrifices, tithes, etc. show the attitude of the worshiper to God; (4) the plea for right treatment of one another. This "messenger" of God brought the Hebrew people back into a better relationship with Him and paved the way for the great Teacher.

HARVEST

The fruits have been gathered from the fields. They lay about her, rich and ripe, in the autumn sun that is still warm. Never has the sky been so blue, never have the distant mountains been more enchanting with their play of purple shadows. Yet she concentrates on the work at hand, peeling an apple with still dextrous fingers as she rocks on into the long afternoon of life.

She is a simple person. Her life has not been easy. There have been moments of great happiness . . . and of great sadness; times of drought and times when the harvest came in a kind of golden glory from the bounty of the earth.

But through it all she has had a nourishment that has nothing to do with crops and weather, a kind of sustenance that has stood by her at all times and in all seasons . . . FAITH. Hers is a complete Faith in God and in her Church, a Faith that has made her life happy and useful . . . a Faith that has furnished food for the soul.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Leader Delivers Second Political Assault On Ike In Los Angeles Address

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania says that if President Eisenhower is the Republican candidate in 1956 the Democrats "are going to need sharp weapons, well laid out."

"I want to make it clear that I am not calling for a smear campaign, for personal abuse," he said, but "I am calling for a normal exercise of the two-party system."

Speaking last night at the second of two $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising banquets, Gov. Leader said that "if Mr. Eisenhower is a candidate, he will be running on a record he himself will point to with all of a candidate's pride."

"Our duty will be to review that record as we see it — to point to its failures as well as its successes — to illuminate those places where Dwight D. Eisenhower has been a less than perfect president of the United States."

Truman Ox Not Enough
"Dwight Eisenhower is no constitutional monarch," said Gov. Leader, arguing that the President is responsible for an administration "incapable of sympathy for the farmer, the workingman, and the small businessman."

Leader said it will take sharp weapons to "penetrate the screen of protective armor that has been put around Eisenhower" and added:

"Harry Truman's broad ax alone won't do it. Neither will Adlai Stevenson's rapier thrusts. Every Democrat . . . has a part to play in this work."

The young governor, filling in for former President Truman, swung a few hatchet blows himself:

"There is no Benson farm policy that is creating an agricultural depression. It is an Eisenhower policy."

"There is no Brownell security policy that has built up a shocking crew of government-paid informers and perjurers. It is an Eisenhower policy."

Blames Eisenhower
"There was no Hobby snafu on the polio vaccine. It was the Eisenhower administration's snafu. "The Humphrey bloop that cost the Treasury a billion dollars in corporate taxes, the Humphrey hard money policy that gave us a quickie recession, are misnamed. They are Eisenhower's responsibility, Eisenhower's bloop, Eisenhower's handout to the banks."

If the President isn't aware of what his aides do, Leader suggested, "a Dwight Eisenhower Slept Here" sign should be ordered for the White House, for the Doud house in Denver, for the Gettysburg farm, and perhaps even the Burning Tree Country Club."

Saying the administration is building "a millionaires' party," Leader declared farm income has dropped 2.1 billion dollars since 1952 and 5,600 small businesses went broke in the first six months of 1955.

Labor has no representation in the administration and has held its own only because of its own militant leaders, he said.

ESCAPES PEN AND GETS GIFT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Twenty-eight-year-old Francis Hatfield has five years to forget the past and a gift of $450 to help him start in the right direction.

U. S. Dist. Judge George A. Welsh heard this story yesterday: Hatfield broke into the Harrisburg post office and stole a gun last June 30. He shot himself in the abdomen at Holy Trinity Church. He recovered at Graduate Hospital here and was brought before Judge Welsh on charges of theft and breaking into a post office.

He told Judge Welsh that he had "made a mess" of his life, having served prison terms and gone broke.

Judge Welsh said "putting you in prison once more would not serve any purpose. A long probationary state should give you a clean slate and a chance to forget your past."

Then Judge Welsh handed him a one-dollar bill. The clerk of the court added $3.50 to the gift.

INJURED IN CRASH
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A small plane crash-landed on the ninth fairway of the Juniata golf course late yesterday, injuring 23-year-old Robert Wittig, of Chester, Pa., the pilot.

Wittig, who is studying flying under the GI Bill of Rights, was treated at Frankford Hospital for lacerations over the right eye.

LITTLESTOWN

Quigley as the speaker. Littlestown gained the honor of being the first spotter post in the nation to be housed in an all-aluminum spotter post as the result of an announcement made some months ago.

Receive First Building
At that time Clarence C. Smith, clerk to the Adams County commissioners, learned that the Reynolds Aluminum Co. was planning to make aluminum prefabricated GOC spotter post buildings, with sufficient windows so that spotters would not have to go outside the building to spot planes, and sell them at cost to help provide better housing for the thousands of volunteers who watch the nation's skies for planes.

Smith wrote the company, learn the cost was $238, which was less than the amount spent by the county for wooden GOC buildings, and told the company when it got into production that one could be used at Littlestown, when a post was organized there.

With Adams County the first to apply, it secured the first such building off the assembly line.

The manner in which the Littlestown post was set up as a community project was noted by Congressman Quigley in congress August 25. The Congressional Record for that date contains the congressman's remarks on the "outstanding work" being done by the volunteer observers of Adams County in general, and calling special attention to Littlestown, its burgess, and its supervisor.

He said that the county commissioners had secured the first aluminum building for the post, praised the Junior Chamber for its part in getting the project underway (303 man-hours of work went into the establishment of the post) and declared that "the members of the GOC have been called the unsung heroes of the cold war who notwithstanding the general apathy of the Nation toward potential defense measures, have given and will give a full measure of devotion to their volunteer duties, assuring that those of us who are more complacent will have adequate warning of possible aggression."

BURNED BABY WITH A SPOON

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eighteen-year-old John R. Border has been charged with burning a baby on the back with a hot spoon and later on the foot with a lighted cigarette.

Police quoted him as saying he "could not stand the baby's crying."

Police elaborated on the charges today with these details:

Border met Mrs. Shirley Henry, 20, in Williamsport, Pa., last June. Mrs. Henry's husband is said to be serving a jail term on a morals charge.

Border, Mrs. Henry and her two children, William, three and Dennis, six months, came to Philadelphia and were living together in a tiny, third floor apartment.

Yesterday, the landlord, Mrs. Connie Schermel, called police and said she thought the children were being mistreated. After questioning, Border and Mrs. Henry were booked on morals charges and Border on aggravated assault and battery.

Says Critic Would Not Assist P. O.

CHICAGO (AP)—Asst. Postmaster General Eugene J. Lyons says Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) has refused to help solve the very post office problems the senator criticizes.

Lyons fired back at Johnston last night in a speech at a meeting of the National Assn. of Post Office and Surface Postal Transport Mail Handlers, Watchmen and Messengers.

He said the senator, who accused the department of "waste" in a speech before another group of post office employees in Chicago Tuesday, "personally refused to hold hearings on postage rates in the last session of Congress."

"By doing so, he blocked consideration of our efforts to reduce the postal deficit and further burdened the Federal Treasury during a period when the requirements of national security impose such a heavy burden on taxation of our people," he said.

Most frequently counterfeited among U. S. bills are $10 and $20 denominations, says the National Geographic Society.

Sparkman Favors More U.S.-Red Trade

BERLIN (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) concluded a 14-day tour behind the Iron Curtain Thursday and announced he favors more American trade with the Soviet bloc.

"I don't see how we profit ourselves by having a standoff trade policy," he said.

He emphasized, however, that only consumer goods should be involved and not items which might be used to build up a war machine.

He said he believed trade restrictions had lost their purpose, since in Russia "there doesn't seem to be any danger of a collapse, short of a catastrophe."

SPORTS GROUP
MATCH SEPT. 25

Plans for a "teen-age" rifle match to be held September 25 under sponsorship of the Gettysburg Sportsmen's Association were announced Thursday by Chief of Police Jack Bartlett.

Young people between the ages of 12 and 18 inclusive are invited to take part in the shoot, Chief Bartlett said. The local police chief, a member of the Sportsmen's group, will supervise the teen age matches at the association's property on Walnut Avenue.

Four matches will be held: standing, kneeling, and prone, with first and second place medals to be awarded for each match. The fourth match will consist of a tallying of the aggregate scores of the three firings. First, second and third place medals will be given to the top shooters as shown by the aggregate score.

Invites Young Women
Chief Bartlett urged young women, as well as young men, to take part in the contests held with 22 caliber open sight rifles. So far there have been no feminine entries in the events.

Those planning to take part in the shoots, which will begin at 1 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, September 25, are asked to register prior to that time at the Gettysburg News Agency.

A 25 cent registration fee, plus ten cents for each match, is required to cover the cost of medals and other materials. Each contestant is to furnish his own rifle and shells, although arrangements can be made to provide rifles for youths who do not have them. If notice is given in advance, and shells will be for sale at the match. Refreshments will also be available.

ELEVATOR BOY
BAITS RUSSIANS
WITH MAGAZINES

By REINHOLD ENZ
BERLIN (AP)—Fourteen years ago, the elevator in the Statue of Liberty was frequently operated by an eager young man from the Bronx.

Today, at 35, Melvin J. Lasky is editor of Der Monat, the most respected literary magazine in Germany. It is must reading in West German intellectual circles: It is forbidden reading in Communist East Germany.

Lasky's jump to prominence was unusual. As a little known freelance writer, he came to Berlin after World War II, contributing articles to New Leader and Partisan Review. But one day in October, 1947, he made an unscheduled appearance in the speaker's rostrum at a German Writers Congress stage-managed by the Soviet occupation regime.

Caused Furor
Berlin was still undivided, and the city was controlled jointly by Russia and the western Allies. The cold war had not yet become dangerously hot.

The speakers at the congress either praised Soviet literary efforts, or at least refrained from criticism. But not Lasky. He astonished the audience by boldly asserting, in fluent German, that Soviet writers were little more than puppets. He said the Soviet government was an "unattractive, idolatrous dictatorship."

This caused a furor. The Soviet occupation newspaper Tagesschau called him a "deplorable phenomenon" and suggested he be buried under the inscription: "Tomb of the Unknown Writer."

Soviet Attacks
It was the first in a barrage of Soviet attacks. The net result was a U. S. State Department decision to publish a monthly German literary magazine modeled after the Atlantic Monthly and Harper's. Lasky was appointed editor.

He immediately adopted the slogan: "Anti-Communism on an intelligent level." To this, he applied a considerable understanding of human nature.

Back in his native New York City, Lasky had once worked as historian at the Statue of Liberty. This included taking thousands of visitors up and down in the elevator. Then, he went into the Army and became a combat historian with rank of lieutenant in Europe in 1944-45.

New Magazine
Lasky made the new magazine, Der Monat, virtually independent from the start. It published articles by Bertrand Russell, Arnold Toynbee, Andre Gide, Aldous Huxley, Jean-Paul Sartre, Albert Camus, William Saroyan and James T. Farrell. Fiction was contributed by such noted writers as Thomas Mann, Ernest Hemingway and William Faulkner.

"The State Department," Lasky said in an interview, "never gave us any orders, and no one ever censored our copy. Everyone who read the magazine knew this and felt it."

"We opened the magazine to every type of opinion. The Germans are still astonished at the variety."

"I think run-of-the-mill government propaganda is a lot of nonsense. One day you are for this, and then the next day you are for that. It's play down the German army, and then it's play up the German army. Everything boosted in 1949 would have had to be reversed in 1952."

"Our magazine would have been

News Collected At Random

"Expect the unexpected from children."

"That should be the watchword for all motorists at all times, but especially during the peak hours of school traffic in the morning and afternoons," Clement J. Sipe, Acting Director, Bureau of Highway Safety, advised motorists today. He was speaking of the united effort being made this month by safety councils, civic groups, automobile clubs, and the National Safety Council, to reduce traffic casualties to school children throughout the Commonwealth.

"Children often are unpredictable in their reactions," Sipe said. "This is especially true during the stress and strain of growing up."

"Despite repeated warnings from parents and teachers not to jaywalk, or beat the light, or run in a street after a ball, children are apt to forget these warnings and walk or run right into danger."

"While we are all united in a common drive against the senseless killing of our children by motor vehicles each year, we must always be prepared for the unexpected, and keep alert wherever near an area where children may be walking or playing."

"Many of the children killed and the many more injured in accidents over the past year in Pennsylvania were the traffic consequence of an impulsive action on the part of a child."

According to the Bureau of Highway Safety, statistics show 292 children under 18 were killed in traffic in 1954, and 17,077 youngsters in this age group were injured in Pennsylvania.

Schools and parents are doing their best to train youngsters to be more safety-wise and are doing a remarkable job. Every effort must be made to stop this needless slaughter of children. And it is up to every motorist to protect them by heeding the oft-repeated warning: "Drive Slow! Protect our Children!"

"The American Lutheran Church" will be recommended as the name of the new church body that is expected to come into being as the result of current merger negotiations between four Lutheran groups.

Tentative approval of the name was voted at the opening of a two-day session in Chicago this month of the Joint Union Committee, composed of nine representatives each from the Evangelical Lutheran Church, American Lutheran Church, United Evangelical Lutheran Church and Lutheran Free Church.

MEN NURSES TO PAY FOR SCHOOL

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A nurse's paychecks are paying the way into medical school for Stephen J. Prevost, 25. And Prevost himself is a nurse.

He'll get a premedical degree at Notre Dame in June for four years; he has worked the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift 40 hours a week in local hospitals. His present assignment is the orthopedic ward.

"Sometimes those youngsters really keep you on the move," he says.

He hopes to continue working as a nurse, at least part time, when he moves on to the University of Pennsylvania medical school. But there is nothing part time about his present job.

He carries a full schedule of classes in the afternoon and evening; he studies and sleeps. At 11 o'clock he goes back to his 20 to 30 patients in the ward. Besides, he's president of the hospital nursing staff, chairman of Notre Dame Red Cross activities and a member of the university honor society.

PLAN TO ATTEND
FORTY HOURS

Plans to participate in the Forty-Hours Devotion the last weekend in September were made at a meeting of the St. Francis Xavier parish council, NCCW, Thursday evening in Xavier Hall. Members of the council are making arrangements for groups of women to be in the church throughout Monday and Tuesday during the adoration period.

A motion picture on the life of the Blessed Virgin will be shown to members of the parish and children within the next few weeks as a project of the council. A donation of $5 was given to the Community Chest.

Mrs. George Groft and Miss Anna McSherry were appointed by the president, Mrs. Edwin J. Killalea, to prepare a monthly shrine at each meeting.

Arrangements were made for members to attend the Conewago Deanery Workshop to be held in Xavier Hall September 29.

Prayers were led by the Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, moderator. Mrs. Richard C. Elberhart and Miss Jane Stalkmuth served refreshments. The hall and tea table were decorated with mixed fall flowers.

It was there, in high school, that he decided nursing might be the answer to lack of money for a medical education. He trained for three years with a predominantly feminine class of nurses in Philadelphia and moved on to Notre Dame. The plan was suggested by a physician when Prevost's sister was sick and he was helping to take care of her.

His father was the Notre Dame campus for the first time at the June graduation, but the whole family is looking forward five years to the time when Stephen will trade his R.M. for an M.D.

"Flyaway" Parakeet
"Visiting" Shermans

Mares Sherman, local merchant, has an unusual "house guest" today, a green and yellow long-tailed parakeet, that apparently flew away from someone's home in the community.

Mrs. Sherman discovered the pet bird Thursday evening when she went to the garage at their home, 123 E. Broadway and found the parakeet sitting on their car.

It objected to being removed from its perch but soon became friendlier when food and water were provided it in the Sherman home.

At present, while the Shermans hope its owner will claim it, the parakeet has taken over the Sherman kitchen, and apparently enjoys its new home.

ATOM HEATING PLANTS JUST AROUND CORNER

Is there a place in your home for a little invisible, splittable atom? There'd better be!

Atomic heating plants with summer cooling systems are just around the corner. They'll cost you just $50 a year to operate, says an expert.

And you'll build your house with plastic, subjected to atomic radiation to make it stronger than steel. Will this replace lumber?

Shelters Standard
As for that pesky bomb, which wipes out cities when it splits the infinitesimal atom, a Yale University expert says basement bomb shelters will soon become as standard in the design of our houses as bathrooms and kitchens.

All we are waiting for when it comes to economical home heating and cooling is a new discovery of a large source of fissionable material, says Robert E. Ferry, general manager of the Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers. So get out your Geiger counters and go hunting.

Ferry as speaking at the recent 40th anniversary meeting of his industry at Absecon, N. J. He said that all of the parts needed for an atomic home heating and cooling plant are now available on the market, except for the small atomic reactor to replace fuel.

Cost About $300
The missing unit, hermetically sealed in lead and about twice the size of an automobile battery, should cost about $300 according to Ferry. It would be good for six years and then would be replaced. Net cost: $50 per year; no chimney; no ashes; no waste energy.

The rest of the workings are so well known that you could install such a plant in a house for about $1,500, says Ferry.

The potential strength of plastic has been demonstrated with a new hammer now on the market. It has a brilliant red handle made of plastic reinforced with fiber glass. This handle is stronger than steel, yet it has the resilience and shock absorbing quality of hickory.

Possibilities Great
With this strength attained by blending plastic and fiber glass, the possibilities of the new alchemy of gamma radiation are fabulous.

Architectural Forum recently explored the prospects of such radiant-treated plastic for the benefit of designers and engineers. It concluded that today's bulky posts and beams, serving as ribs of a building, will be reduced to a mere fold or seam in the skin of the wall.

Douglas Haskell, editor, summed up: "Tomorrow's structure may be typically all skin. Its skin may become its shell and its interior columns. Even its windows may be simply transparent patches of its skin."

... Probably a skin game in which you, for a change, will win.

Safety Measure
In the meantime, the threat of that atomic bomb and its gargantuan relative, "H," hangs over our houses. Lincoln H. Lippincott, director of safety for Yale University, says "the Yucca Flat tests have emphasized the protection given by basements against atomic bomb blast and radiation."

Lippincott told a Boston meeting of the New England Building Officials Conference that a basement

Plan Temporary Span For Wrecked Bridge

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission Thursday was under orders to make immediate plans for a temporary span over the river at Easton.

The directive was issued yesterday by state Highways Secretary Joseph J. Lawler acting chairman of the commission.

The free bridge between Easton and Phillipsburg, N.J., was torn down by flood waters that ravaged the area last month. A toll bridge operated in the area by the commission was undamaged.

D.C. FLORISTS PROFIT FROM DAR CONVENTION

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taxi drivers grumble, but local florists rub their green thumbs in gleeful anticipation when the Daughters of the American Revolution come to town.

The cabbies complain that when it comes to tips, the daughters are apt to clutch the purse strings a bit tightly. In the corsage and bouquet line, however, they're real expansive. Vernon Pearson, florist, says he and his colleagues ordered 600 orchids in about a dozen different varieties for the ladies attending their four-day congress here.

"Counting the gardenias and carnations for the less important delegates, we sold about $5,000 worth of flowers this year," he says.

Pearson feels that the daughters have had to take too much unwarranted ribbing about the orchid being their official badge. He says the corsages are compliments and the high-ranking officers who receive them feel obligated to wear each gift, "even if they do begin to look like a human hothouse."

Armful Of Roses
"It was a different story 20 years ago when orchids were $10 to $30 apiece," Mr. Pearson explained. "In those days everybody sent armfuls of roses. Can you imagine what it must have been like to try and carry around a dozen bouquets?"

Some 4,000 attended this year's congress of the DAR. The society has been meeting here since 1890 with the exception of meetings in New York, Chicago and Cincinnati during World War II.

Old-timers this year were pleased to find they could hear their speakers better in Constitution Hall, where acoustics in the past have brought complaints from such notables as Conductor Leopold Stokowski and top-flight artists who have performed there. During the past year a new sound system was installed when the auditorium underwent a costly remodeling job which also included new lighting.

NEW BATHROOMS ARE GLAMOROUS AND PRACTICAL

If you like to sing in the bathroom, you certainly ought to have surroundings as glamorous as your baritone or soprano, or what have you. Nowadays bathrooms are among the most dazzling rooms in a house, new or old. Remodeling experts, launching their dreamboats in the bathtub, seem to get farther in modernization than when they start at the front door.

And when it comes to glamor, architects and decorators certainly are going to town with their new bathroom ideas. Last weekend we took a look at a new house at Upper Brookville, N. Y., which had just sold for $78,000. Among the main features that will make us remember that house were the bathrooms. They had miniature flower gardens planted in tile countertops surrounding the wash basins.

But you don't have to spend $78,000, or a hundredth of that amount, to have a cheerful place to sing and splash. Modern materials and ideas make it possible to glamorize on a budget this hardest-used of all rooms in your house.

Many Materials
The question usually is where to start. In planning a new house this is relatively simple. But with an older house, what are you going to do with a tub on lion-claw legs, a pine board floor and cracked plaster walls? Well, it's not hopeless, especially with today's materials and methods.

If you're a do-it-yourself enthusiast, you can get plumbing fixtures of pressed and enameled steel like automobile fenders that are easy for one man to handle. Or lighter still, you can get plastic reinforced with fiber glass that even a girl can handle. New adhesives make it practicable to put up clay tile over any firm wall surface.

Or, if you're a do-it-yourself kiltzer, you certainly can learn a lot about how these things are done and what you are paying your money for when it comes to hiring the job done.

Smart Vanity
Smart and popular bathroom equipment includes a countertop around the wash basin with linen storage cabinets below. This combines vanity table and lavatory. One organization distributed 100,000 units of this type in the past year.

The vanity combinations provide as much storage space as the average kitchen refrigerator—8 cubic feet. Styles nicknamed "Mr. and Mrs." have two sinks, two storage cabinets and two medicine chests. They are not difficult to install for the do-it-yourself handyman, except that professional plumbing connections are recommended. Countertops are the same laminated plastic materials used in modern kitchens.

Spilled perfume and other cosmetics make impervious bathroom countertops very important. Clay tile, of course, provides a virtually foolproof surface.

Tricks With Tile
When you get into all of the tricks that can be done with tile there seems to be no end to glamor in the bath. Tile murals on bathroom walls have been designed by artists in Los Angeles and New York in the old mosaic manner. Sunken bathtubs, Roman style, so captivated a Baltimore builder that he plans 80 luxury homes with this feature.

And in keeping with the indoor-outdoor spirit of modern architecture, the bathroom is not neglected. A private garden adjoining the bathroom is fenced off for privacy to provide a place for sunbathing and relaxation.

About all that is missing in today's bathroom is a hamburger grill.

The Associated Press

Supposing that right out of the blue, a friend of yours were to say, "If you'll walk over to studio 99 you can get a little part in a movie." It would startle you, wouldn't it, just as it did Martilla Pakner who was living and attending school in Rome at the time she got that exciting invitation. But let's let Martilla tell it:

"My good friend Mike, 15, whose father was an American naval procurement officer, came by our house one day and said, 'Tish, the movie studio is looking for a 12-year-old girl to play a part in Mambo. Why not go over for a test?'"

"I did. First thing you know even though they thought I was too tall for the part, they gave it to me because my hairdo resembled the leading lady's, and I was to play her little sister."

It wasn't a big role—as a matter of fact Tish only had 4 working days in the movies. But it was wonderful fun, she says, and a great exciting adventure. Just one of the many in her short years.

No Illusions
She has had no illusions about becoming a big time star as the result of her brush with the camera, however.

Her varied life has given her a broad perspective for all of her 13 years, and pretty Tish acts and looks more mature because of it. She has enough memories of her life to date to fill a very thick volume if she wanted to write it—much of it gained traveling with her mother and father who was a colonel in the Army. Her notebook might go something like this . . .

"I've traveled about 50,000 miles to date. I can look back to the Philippines and the time a typhoon took the roof off the house, and to the convent school I attended there at Yokohama and all the lovely youngsters I skated and played with . . . the Anglican school in Dunham, Quebec . . . a convent school in Englewood, N. J. . . I speak fluent French and Italian and very bad Japanese although there was a time I could keep up a conversation with my Oriental friends . . . I loved the warm artistic people of Japan who seem to breathe art and who inspired me to do some very good painting . . ."

"I can remember a trip with a girl friend from Rome to Paris, a real adventure on our way to camp on the Normandy coast.

"I guess in all my wanderings I grew to love the Italians more than any other people. Maybe it was because I was at the age when I could understand more about people, and they are so direct and honest."

Tish studied art in Paris—a lovely opportunity that few girls of her age enjoy. She'd like to become a commercial artist.

of fact Tish only had 4 working days in the movies. But it was wonderful fun, she says, and a great exciting adventure. Just one of the many in her short years.

No Illusions
She has had no illusions about becoming a big time star as the result of her brush with the camera, however.

Her varied life has given her a broad perspective for all of her 13 years, and pretty Tish acts and looks more mature because of it. She has enough memories of her life to date to fill a very thick volume if she wanted to write it—much of it gained traveling with her mother and father who was a colonel in the Army. Her notebook might go something like this . . .

"I've traveled about 50,000 miles to date. I can look back to the Philippines and the time a typhoon took the roof off the house, and to the convent school I attended there at Yokohama and all the lovely youngsters I skated and played with . . . the Anglican school in Dunham, Quebec . . . a convent school in Englewood, N. J. . . I speak fluent French and Italian and very bad Japanese although there was a time I could keep up a conversation with my Oriental friends . . . I loved the warm artistic people of Japan who seem to breathe art and who inspired me to do some very good painting . . ."

"I can remember a trip with a girl friend from Rome to Paris, a real adventure on our way to camp on the Normandy coast.

"I guess in all my wanderings I grew to love the Italians more than any other people. Maybe it was because I was at the age when I could understand more about people, and they are so direct and honest."

Tish studied art in Paris—a lovely opportunity that few girls of her age enjoy. She'd like to become a commercial artist.

About 400 of each 100,000 U. S. babies born in 1950 will live to see the year 2050, statistics indicate.

Scientists Use New Way To Smash Atom

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—They are trying something new in atom smashing at the University of Michigan. Eight midwest universities — Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Purdue, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa State, are sending scientists to work on a model atom smasher combining two old principles which never have been used together.

The model will use a fixed magnetic field through which the atomic particles will move. Then oddly-shaped magnets will be stationed along the way to keep them on the track. They hope to produce more particles and move them faster than in present machines.

If the small 300-kilowatt machine works, they plan to build a machine of 20 billion electron volts. They hope to increase the amount of atomic work done in Midwest universities. Most such work is now done on the East or West Coasts.

Formosa has a population of 8,749,999, an increase of 2,653,691 in the past eight years.

Cleveland And Yankees Start Stretch Drive To Pennant; Crucial Games

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
So now the American League thriller comes to this: Cleveland has eight games to play, New York 10. Both have to win 'em all. If they do, it's a tie.

The Indians and Yankees start the final run for the money tonight all even on the "lost" side. Each has dropped 56. Cleveland has played two more than New York and won both.

Cleveland is at home to Detroit tonight. The Tribe plays six of its final games with the Tigers, two with the still-hopeful Chicago White Sox.

Edge For Tribe
Cleveland Manager Al Lopez thinks the difference in games remaining will decide it. "We have eight and they have 10. We have two days off next week and they have only one. "We can rotate three pitchers and they're going to have to use four or five starters, especially in that last weekend in Boston. They have four games in the last three days.

"We've won two more than the Yankees and they've got to catch up. Maybe it won't be easy."

Boston Manager Pinky Higgins promised it won't "be easy." Knowing his Red Sox are out of it, he said, "We'll be up for the Yankees. We like nothing better than to beat them."

"Still In It"
Stengel was more whimsical going into the showdown. "I've been reading for two weeks how they two fellows (Lopez and White Sox boss Marty Marion) have been claiming the pennant. I'm surprised neither has won it yet. Maybe they don't want it and maybe we'll win it ourselves."

Marion, four games back with eight left, simply stated a fact: "We're still in it until we're mathematically eliminated."

Only one game was scheduled in the majors yesterday and Brooklyn, the National League champ, lost its fifth straight, the Dodgers longest slump of the year. It was a 2-2 decision in 12 innings at St. Louis as Brooklyn ended its last Western trip of the year.

Stan Musial and Rip Repulski, with back-to-back homers off rookie Sandy Koufax in the third, pulled the NL even with its own major league home run record of 1,197 set in 1953.

RYFF BATTLES LOPES TONIGHT

DETROIT, (U)—Frankie Ryff, claimed boxing's "rookie of the year" in 1954, hopes to bounce back from his only professional loss tonight and resume his meteoric rise in the lightweight rankings.

The bouncy, 23-year-old New Yorker meets Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., in a nationally televised 10-rounder from Olympia Stadium starting at 9 p. m. (EST). Ryff, currently No. 4 among the lightweights, dropped his first decision last May after running up 17 consecutive victories as a pro. He was beaten in 10 rounds by Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, who is ranked No. 2.

Lopes, a busy 24-year-old ex-GI, has had eight fights this year, winning seven. He beat featherweight champion Sandy Saddler in a non-title 10-rounder. He also stopped Percy Bassett in two rounds.

Lopes' record shows 21 wins, four losses and two draws. He has scored 11 knockouts and has been stopped three times.

WORK ON ICE, HARD
HERSHEY, Pa. (U)—The pre-season practice of the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League includes workouts both on ice and the golf course.

Coach Mil Schmidt, a firm believer in golf as a means to get in shape, has ordered every member of the Bruins to travel 18 holes at a nearby course after morning workouts on the ice. The team members have a choice—either play or caddy for the others.

YALE GRID ACE IN SEMIFINALS OF GOLF SCRAP

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

RICHMOND, Va. (U)—Kicking field goals and conversions in a light football game before 50,000 screaming fans is nothing compared to trying to sink a tough putt before a silent golf gallery.

You can ask Bill Booe, one of the unlikely golfers ever to get to the semifinals of the National Amateur Golf Tournament.

Booe is the little guy who used to trot out on the Yale bowl turf almost a decade ago and kick those vital points when the Elis scored a touchdown. Now a quiet, bespectacled Bridgeport, Conn., businessman, he's in the semifinals of the National Amateur along with one other almost unknown golfer, a player of considerable local fame and one of the world's best amateurs.

Meets Harvie Ward

Bill doesn't figure to go beyond today's 36-hole semifinals. He's scheduled to meet San Francisco's Harvie Ward, 1952 British Amateur champion, runner-up for that title in 1953 and unquestionably the finest, most consistent golfer left in this mixed-up tournament.

The other semifinal brings together Hillman Robbins Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., last year's intercollegiate champion and winner of a flock of important invitational tournaments, and William Hyndman III of Philadelphia, who has been recognized for years as a fine golfer who played only around home.

Ward, a transplanted Tar Heel from Tarboro, N. C., ranks as odds-on favorite now that all the other players of international stature have been removed.

Ward has been playing exceptionally well over the rugged, 6,713-yard, par-70 James River course of the Country Club of Virginia. He had a 19-hole squeaker in his opening match against Ray Palmer but has won every one since by a comfortable margin.

Booe, on the other hand, had the roughest of all roads to the semifinals, although three of the four quarter-final matches went to the 18th green. For the first seven holes against tall Charles Kunkle, upset conqueror of Joe Conrad, Bill couldn't make a par.

"I felt so bad I didn't want to go on. I didn't want that match to finish, he said afterward.

But he did go on and, as Bobby Jones advised, had his bad round when his opponent also was having a bad one. Coming to the 18th, they were all even and both short of the green in two. Booe clipped within five feet of the cup, then blew the putt. But Kunkle missed an even shorter one to lose.

The 39-year-old Hyndman, who beat his Philadelphia friend Jimmy McHale in the morning, turned back intercollegiate champion Joe Campbell 2-up.

Robbins had a 67 but won only 1-up from Ed Hopkins of Abilene, Tex.

Three Schoolboy Grid Games In County Tonight

Three county scholastic grid-irons will have top-flight attractions tonight as the schoolboy football season picks up momentum. All contests are scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

Gettysburg invades Mosherrytown to clash with their county rivals, Delone Catholic. Each lost their opening tilts last week and will go all out to crash into the win column.

Littlestown and West York, who held the co-championship of the Laurel Conference last year, again open the loop season when they meet on the Thunderbolt gridiron. That game is expected to draw an over-flow crowd. Last year the teams battled to a 5-6 deadlock.

Biglerville High starts its second year under Coach Bill Coradetti by entertaining Shippensburg. The Greyhounds are reported well fortified with veterans and will be a severe test for the Cannons.

Other area games are listed for tonight as follows: Lancaster Catholic at Hanover; Waynesboro at Westminster; Scotland at Chambersburg; Palmyra at Hershey, and Calvin Coolidge, Washington, D. C., at Mechanicsburg. Carlisle plays at Chief Logan, Saturday.

BUBBLERS HOST HUMMELSTOWN ON SATURDAY

One of the strongest teams in the area will help Bolling Springs High School open its 10-game football schedule Saturday evening when the Bubblers oppose the Hummelstown Bulldogs in a home game on the Bolling Springs gridiron. Hummelstown will carry a 16-game winning streak into the game and will be a favorite to make it victory number 17.

Hummelstown, boasting a veteran team will have 10 lettermen on the field when the game opens. Eight of the boys who started last year against the Bubblers will again be in action Saturday night. Six of these starters were picked on the Lower Susquehanna Conference team last year and are almost certain of gaining a spot again this year.

The Bulldog line averages 182 pounds per man and the backfield, 172 pounds per man. Against this, the Bubblers will field a line averaging 166 pounds per man. In the backfield, the Bubblers will average 160 pounds per man, or a disadvantage of 12 pounds per man.

The Bulldogs will have practically the same line-up that defeated the Bubblers in last year's game, by a 26-7 score. This was one of the two defeats suffered by a good Bubbler team last year.

Bubblers Hard Hit

While the Bulldogs of Jack Goefert will have a veteran team on the field, the Bubblers will be missing nine of the 11 boys who started and played most of last year's games. Gone are ends Paul Bishop and Paul Dugan; tackles Marlin Lear and Irvin Fannus; guards John Stover and Center Charles Sherman.

Also missing will be Tom Lebo, Clevis Wise, and Grover Beam, who, along with Dasher, formed one of the best Bubbler backfields. Such capable replacements as Tim Gephart, who did all of the kicking and also played on the defensive unit, and Bob Clark, another defensive player, are also missing. Only Dasher and Dave Cook remain from last year's starting eleven. Cook, a guard last year, has been shifted to the backfield to help out the situation there.

The Bolling Springs High School band will drill before the game and the Hummelstown band will present its show at halftime. The game will start at 8 p.m.

ROCKY IRKED BY TAUNTS OF ARCHIE MOORE

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (U)—Archie Moore's long reeling campaign has gotten under Rocky Marciano's skin.

The 38-year-old ring veteran's taunts helped get him his Sept. 20 title fight with the heavyweight king but it also could lead to quick destruction for Moore in Yankee Stadium Tuesday night.

Archie's barbs have nettled him. Rocky admits. It also has served as a stimulant for the undefeated Brockton Blaster.

Rocky said he is in the greatest shape of his career, and expects to put on "one of my best fights."

Asked if Moore's oft-repeated cracks about him had something to do with this, Rocky replied:

"I guess so. Everything has been leading up to this. It kind of spurs you on. I think I want to win this more than any fight since the first one with Jersey Joe Walcott when I won the title."

At the same time Rocky said he respects the light heavyweight champion's skill and is looking for a tough fight.

"From all reports and talks I've had about him, I guess he must be called the most dangerous fighter I've ever faced. I've watched him on television and we go over the movies of his fight with Harold Johnson."

Moore, dropped by Johnson, rallied to knock out the light heavyweight challenger in the 14th round.

SPORTSMEN MAY OPPOSE LEASE OF STATE LAND

HARRISBURG (P) — Organized sportsmen of Pennsylvania today considered going on record as strongly opposed to any sale or lease of state land such as the recent Curtiss-Wright project.

A resolution before the two day fall convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs would term the lease and sale of 54,000 acres of game land to Curtiss-Wright a giveaway and "full folly."

Gov. Leader supported the Curtiss-Wright project, for construction of a research jet engine center, as an economic aid to the distressed north-central Pennsylvania region of Clearfield, Elk and Cameron counties.

A resolution already approved by the federation's south-eastern division would have the state organization "do everything in its power to oppose at any time in the future the repetition of the public land giveaway as recently authorized."

Last May when the Curtiss-Wright project was being guided through the Legislature the federation, representing some 185,000 sports club members throughout the state, sought public hearings on the proposal.

Unheard Of Precedent
The resolution states that the lease and sale of 54 square acres of forest and game land "set an unheard of precedent of selling... to private interests."

It asks that the federation be "unalterably opposed to any further sale, gift, lease, transfer or any other way or manner in which state lands pass to private interests unless complete title to said lands remains within the commonwealth or federal government."

The resolution was due to be discussed by directors of the federation from all eight divisions today and then come up for final action of all convention delegates tomorrow.

Twenty-six other proposals dealing with fish, game, and conservation policies of the state are also on the agenda.

Chinese

age 15 days after he was arrested July 25, 1951—13 months after the start of the Korean War.

"I collected the information and I was guilty," he said in a low, steady voice.

Rickett wore gray slacks and a gray-brown shirt, his hair was untidy but he was clean shaven. He carried a small shaving kit.

"The Chinese government was lenient with me. They could have sentenced me to 10 years but gave me only six and released me after four," he said.

"I'm afraid 10 years is a long time in anybody's life. Considering the situation, I was treated excellently. At all times my treatment was the same as the other Chinese prisoners, but... as a foreigner I was given more food."

Read Red Propaganda
Asked whether he feels he has been indoctrinated by the Reds, Rickett replied, "I have read the Chinese papers and progressive articles."

He said he passed military information to unnamed U.S. consular officials and to a British Embassy second secretary whom he identified as Ted Youde and to a Dutch legation employee he named as Miss Helen Van der Hofen. Presumably the latter two were in Peiping at the time.

Rickett said he stayed behind when the Reds overran the mainland because "the political situation was such that I felt I could learn more about the Chinese."

Tells Of Spying
About 70 correspondents and newsreel cameramen waited for the two at the village.

Later, at a news conference at the Gloucester Hotel, Rickett commented:

"What I did mostly was collect

found indications of uranium ore around the outside.

Hickok said all except Stubblefield, who is crippled, went into the mine about 3,000 feet Wednesday until they reached a point where an old cave-in had partly blocked the shaft. He said the air was bad and they abandoned the effort for the day.

The trio returned yesterday and after reaching the cave-in Dew and LeBlow climbed over it. Hickok said they discovered water on the other side and used old lumber to construct a raft, intending to float beyond the water. Hickok said that was the last he heard of the two. He went for aid.

Sacra said both men are married. Dew has three children and LeBlow two.

Information about democratic elements in Peiping and to what extent they supported the Chinese Communists.

He said he gave this information to an American vice consul whom he identified as John Ferrior who was in Peiping before the Communists overran the mainland.

The red-haired student grasped his trembling right hand to steady it as he spoke. He said at the time of his arrest the Reds told him, "In spite of the money being spent by the American government for espionage work, American spies could never collect any valuable information."

Priest Very Tired
Father Rigney said before reaching the Catholic center he was notified Sunday of his release and had been riding trains since Monday. The bearded, mustachioed priest appeared very tired. One of the Catholic center priests who met him said he had lost 80 pounds in prison, but appeared mentally all right.

The Chinese Communists promised Sept. 10 they would release 10 American civilians who had been jailed or put under house arrest. Both Rickett and Father Rigney were in this group. Red China said the 10 had been convicted of crimes ranging from spreading reactionary propaganda to spying.

On Sept. 6 Red China had announced that 12 other Americans previously denied exit permits were free to leave China when they chose. No charges had been made against them. So far none in this group has left the Communist mainland.

The United States also has been negotiating at Geneva for the release of 19 other Americans imprisoned by the Chinese.

SANCTUARIES
All this open space of the earth is a sanctuary. Every beautiful creation is a tribute to the Creator. Every forest, every valley, and every individual garden is a sanctuary. God is everywhere, so that in every home, hospital, or upon the sea each is a sanctuary where anyone may bow in prayer to the Giver of all goodness that is in the world.
Many times I have visited the sanctuary at Lake Wales, Florida, where the body of Edward Bok is buried. It was he who created that beautiful spot as a sanctuary for birds in the migration to the South. It was here I noted that line I have so often quoted, by John Burroughs: "I come here to find myself. It is so easy to get lost in the world." This statement hangs over the open fireplace of my lodge in Nova Scotia.
Wherever there are beauty, peace and quiet, there you can be sure that a sanctuary exists for anyone minded to bow before it, or to meditate upon the urges of the soul. Every church is a sanctuary, and every home can well be one. No cathedral is more a sanctuary than a great forest. Many a sanctuary has been created in the soft room, where there are courage and the will to live and hope.
On a seat on the sands of the sea a sanctuary can be created. There many a one has gone to be alone, and to meditate and pray. In the simplest of homes, where there is family worship, there is established a sanctuary. I always look upon my small island retreat in Nova Scotia as a sanctuary, and I am sure that it is blessed as one.
Wherever God is, there is His sanctuary — and God is everywhere! Many years ago, when I stood before those great sequoia trees in California, I removed my hat in tribute to those great monarchs of the forest, alive and growing when Christ was born! I felt that I was actually in a great sanctuary, and how humble I felt!
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Where Is God?"

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
Colleagues are Urged To Set New Standards: As the fourteenth annual Freshman Week ended, Gettysburg College began the 100th year of its history this morning at 11 o'clock at exercises in Brin Chapel following an academic procession from Glatfelter hall by members of the faculty.
The student body of 627 young men and women, with the largest proportion of women students in the history of the institution was addressed by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, college president. The 57 coeds in the 1921 year class form the largest group of girls ever to enter Gettysburg College. The freshman class numbers 187 students.
In his address to the students Dr. Hanson urged them to set new standards for themselves "based upon the best each of you is capable of doing." He warned them not to be deceived about the relative importance of religion in a cultured life and advised that they find strength "in prayer before the presence of God."

E. J. King, Emmitsburg Native, Dies In Dublin: Edwin J. King, 43, American vice consul at Dublin, Ireland, died Tuesday morning in a Dublin hospital, according to a cablegram received by relatives. Death followed an emergency operation Monday. Details of his illness are not known.
Mr. King was born at Emmitsburg, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. G. King. Later the Kings moved to Waplesboro. Mr. King's father was a candy retailer.
Edwin J. King attended the Waplesboro public schools and later Juniata and Gettysburg Colleges. The consul at Dublin cabled that arrangements are being made for shipment of the body to the United States.

R. A. V. Repulses Armada: Spain Hounded By Axis: (By the Associated Press) — Indications that Germany and Italy are trying to draw Spain into the war against Britain, with French Morocco and possibly the great rock fortress of Gibraltar as a target, were reported by foreign press in Rome today.
German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, meeting in Rome, also were reported to discuss a post-war division of Africa and the fate of those African people who will have been freed from Italian tyranny as one Rome newspaper stated.

Maroons Drop Opener Before Largest Crowd: Falling apart after a hard game, their opponents for more than a year, the Gettysburg Hawks football team dropped their first game of the season here today, losing to Delone Catholic High School of Harrisburg 14-6.
The crowd in history witnessed the Maroons' first game under the floodlights, estimated that 2,500 persons attended.

NAVY TO OPEN DRAFT FOR MEN IN NOVEMBER
WASHINGTON — The Navy, which has prided itself on being a strictly volunteer outfit, finally has been compelled to start drafting some of its sailors.
For the first time since World War II, when all the armed forces were ordered to get all men by draft alone, the Navy will begin in November to get some of its manpower by levy.
The draft became necessary, the Navy said, to replace men whose four-year Korean War enlistments are now expiring.
A monthly quota, starting out at 10,000 men, will be added to the present Army quota to bring the total draft call up to 20,000.
By next summer the Navy expects to have drafted a total of 36,000 men. Except for January, when none will be taken, the Navy is asking 10,000 men a month through next April, 6,000 for May and perhaps some in June. It said it hopes to drop draft calls after June.
2-Year Period
The Navy drafters will serve for the same two-year period as their Army opposites. Enlistments will continue on a four-year basis.
The Air Force is confronted with a problem identical to that of the Navy — a high loss of manpower because terms of men who joined during the Korean War are now expiring and men are declining — in droves — to re-enlist.
But the Air Force is hanging on grimly to its own volunteer-only record.

Just Folks
AS ONE
When man and maid are man and wife,
As one they've vowed to go through life;
As one to keep a dwelling fair;
As one what griefs may come to share.
When unto them the ritual's read,
A one-way road is theirs to tread.
And while together they remain,
A single goal is their to gain;
As one to think, as one to act,
And keep the family intact.
For this, as one, they put aside
The differences that divide.

CHINESE FREE MAN HELD FOUR YEARS AS SPY
SEATTLE — "It's wonderful news," Mrs. A. J. Rickett said late last night when informed her son Walter A. Rickett had been released by Chinese Reds after four years imprisonment on spy charges.
The reaction was in marked contrast to the restraint exhibited Saturday night when told her son would be released. At that time the parents had refused to express any joy because they had "been disappointed so many times."
"We just had to know it was true before we could let ourselves go," she said when informed the son had been freed. She said no plans will be made for meeting the son until she talked to him on the telephone.
Mrs. Adele Austin Rickett said she is "very happy" to hear that her husband Walter has been released.
She said she doesn't know now whether she will travel west to meet him en route home. Any move she may make will depend on his plans, she added.
Wife Praises Reds
Mrs. Rickett, who was released by the Chinese Reds last February, said she will not try to contact her husband by cable or radio and will wait for him to contact her.
The 35-year-old Mrs. Rickett, who praised the Communists highly after she was freed, said in answer to a new-maid's question that she has not changed her ideas about that line at all in view of her husband's release.
Mrs. Rickett was held in Red China for three years.
After she voiced praise of the Reds, American officials called her "thoroughly brainwashed."
She is living at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Austin.
Rickett and his wife lost this country on Fulbright scholarships in 1948 to study in China. They were imprisoned on spy charges.

READY ANSWER TO DEMANDS FOR PAY INCREASE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. today began studying wage demands of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers in the wake of a three-day strike which idled 43,000 members of the union at 27 plants in nine states.

The union asked for a substantial but unspecified wage increase. It said its members now average $2.10 an hour. The talks were recessed to give the company time to draft a reply. The union is free to strike Oct. 15 if no agreement is reached.

The wage talks opened a few hours before a holdout local which triggered the nationwide strike reversed itself by voting to return to work immediately. That was Local 601, representing some 10,000 workers at the East Pittsburgh plant.

2,200 Struck Aug. 8

Last Aug. 8 about 2,200 day workers—employees such as crane operators and helpers—walked off the job at East Pittsburgh to protest a time study of their jobs instituted by the company CIO-IUE locals in the other Westinghouse plants called a sympathy strike which began last Sunday.

The nationwide strike was called off when IUE President James B.

Press Conference To Be Aired In State

HARRISBURG (AP)—Parts of Gov. Leader's weekly news conferences will be broadcast over a statewide radio network beginning next week, the governor's press secretary reported.

Thomas K. Hodges said an edited 15-minute tape recording of each conference will be made available regularly to 22 members of the Keystone Network.

Hodges told a meeting of the Central Pennsylvania professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, yesterday that:

"This will help the governor to get his story across to the people since frequently he is much better at a press conference than it seems in printed reports."

Carey announced the union's conference board—comprised of representatives of local unions at Westinghouse plants—approved a Westinghouse proposal. That proposal provided that the subject of time studies would be made part of the wage talks. Under a two-year contract the union originally was confined to wage discussions.

Local 601 refused to go along with the Carey settlement. But yesterday a mass membership meeting of the local voted overwhelmingly to end the strike.

China's 500 million people constitute about a fourth of the world's population.

360 PETITION SUPREME COURT TO BACK REDS

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A brief carrying the names of 360 Americans tells from a "non-Communist viewpoint" why the signers think the Supreme Court should strike down the McCarran internal security law.

The Communist party has asked the court to declare the law unconstitutional, contending it violates fundamental liberties guaranteed by the Constitution.

The party is appealing from a government order that it register with the attorney general as an agent of the Kremlin. The case, to be argued this fall, brings the controversial law to its first major legal test.

The signers yesterday asked permission to file their brief as "friends of the court." The court will decide later whether to accept the brief.

"Terrible Threat"

The brief called the 1950 law "the most terrible threat so far devised to freedom in America."

The law, whose leading sponsor was the late Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), was passed over former President Truman's veto. It provides for registration of organizations found by the Subversive Activities Control Board to be Communist-controlled. The Communist party is challenging an SACB ruling that it register.

Listed as signers were some 80 clergymen, 76 educators, 25 physicians, 13 lawyers and others.

One of the group, Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.), said "The McCarran Act attempts to take away the basic right of free association guaranteed to the American people by the Bill of Rights."

Educators Sign

"While I abhor the Communist party," McNamara added, "I was happy on this occasion to join with a group of public spirited citizens who, while they make no defense of the Communist party, are deeply concerned about the liberties of the American people."

Among others listed as signers were Prof. Harold C. Urey, Nobel Prize-winning scientist; violinist Yehudi Menuhin; composer Deems Taylor; Henry Seidel Canby, chairman of the Saturday Review's editorial board; the Rev. Henry Hitt Crane, Detroit; Robert W. D. Davidson, president of Westminster College; and Prof. John P. Peters, Yale University School of Medicine.

Coast Guardsman Gets Commission

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—A 23-year-old Coast Guardsman who wasn't commissioned an ensign last April because his mother was a former member of allegedly subversive organizations got his commission Wednesday.

N. Pierre Gaston graduated from the officer training school at the Coast Guard Academy here four months ago. After simple commissioning ceremonies Wednesday, he was assigned to report to the Humboldt, a weather ship at Boston Oct. 5.

County Officials Using Morse Code

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—How does the tax assessor communicate with the tax collector in Pinellas County's modern courthouse? By Morse code.

Assessor H. H. Sterling used to be a railroad telegrapher about 40 years ago on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. And collector Lester Lambert once was a telegrapher for the Atlantic Coast Line.

They recently worked out a two-key system, complete with old-time wet plate batteries.

Now there's no need to worry about a busy signal on the phone or to walk from end of the big building to the other to talk business.

Thief Forgets His Wallet And Pants

HONOLULU (AP)—Kazuo Asato looked in a window on his return home yesterday and spotted a man rifling a money jar. The thief dashed out the door shouting that children were ransacking the house.

Halfway down the block, the culprit dashed into another house and began changing clothes. But owner Charles J. Koto awoke from a nap and the thief dashed outside in his underwear—right into the arms of a cop.

"The burglar is in the house," the man panted. The cop went inside and the thief just went.

RAISING SHEEP SURE CURE FOR ANY INSOMNIA

By VIVIAN BROWN

WILTON, Conn. (AP)—Want a sure cure for insomnia? One that will stop that 5:34 a.m. sheep in mid-air? Simple. Just buy a couple of real sheep.

So advises Sydney Egerton, a part-time shepherd who commutes to New York 60 miles away each day. Edgie believes the trouble with most insomniacs is that they develop a guilty conscience even if they don't grow bored with counting the other fellow's sheep. Better they should have their own, he says.

Edgie should know. He and his wife, Madeline, have been raising sheep for seven years. Edgie gets so sleepy at his evening sheep chores that he's all set for his feather bed when the time comes. Says he:

Tucks Sheep In

"First you put the sheep to bed. When they're tucked safely away, tip-toe off yourself. After all, how can the sheep jump fences if they are snoring peacefully, as any subconscious knows?"

Sometimes, however, sheep don't sleep. Like during the spring lambing season. Three of Edgerton's ewes produced triplets and two sets of twins this spring—a record year. A fourth is still expecting. Trouble was, a ewe can feed only two lambs at most, and the Mama Ewe with triplets ignored them completely, she as so startled to see three in her pen.

So Edgie got his night's rest in between feeding the lambs a formula

Prime Minister Eden Ill With Influenza

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden is confined to bed with influenza at his country home at Chequers.

An official announcement Thursday from 10 Downing St. said he has been compelled to cancel his present engagements. He was reported running a temperature.

The prime minister, 58, had planned to spend the weekend with Lady Eden as guests of Queen Elizabeth at Balmoral Castle in Scotland.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Asst. Chief of Police W. A. Miller put out an order today forbidding any more Jacksonville policemen from joining the reserves or National Guard. Miller—a colonel commanding an Army reserve battalion—explained he had recruited so many policemen there were hardly enough left for patrol duty on drill nights.

of bourbon, milk and water out of a baby's bottle and keeping them warm. When he got a chance he slept normally, even though the lambs were wearing the blankets.

Sheep Chores

"Imagine," Edgie says, "lying awake when your own sheep's new lambs are nestled at the foot of your bed. Impossible."

There are other sheep chores besides midwife and nursing responsibilities. Protecting sheep from stray dogs is one (although the town is responsible for dog-killed sheep). Shearing them is another.

Edgie says that three bags full of wool (or 14 pounds) will make a blanket that is like a coverlet of sweet dreams. Even a Whiffenpoof could sleep under it, he says.

POWDERED LEMONADE

The current trend for instant powdered beverages, from milk to coffee, now is joined by powdered lemonade, latest fruit powder developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Orange juice powder already is on the market, packaged for institutions and other large-scale users. Tomato juice powder and the new lemonade powder will be ready for distribution soon. All the fruit powders require no refrigeration and dissolve instantly in cold water.

When a search was made for the oldest dog and cat in 1946, one dog was found to be 26 years old and one cat 31.

Throughout the world, Jews will celebrate the holiday with prayers, greetings and messages of hope—which will culminate on Yom Kippur, the fast day of atonement Sept. 26.

From his Denver headquarters last night, President Eisenhower extended greetings to all Americans of Jewish faith, urging a renewal of "devotion to the cause of peace."

Tibetans think that hail results from the mischief of devils and when it falls on the holy buildings of Lhasa, magicians who have been hired to prevent it are punished.

John Wesley Film To Be Shown Sunday

The color movie, "John Wesley" will be shown at the Centenary Methodist Church, Littlestown, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. It was produced by the Radio and Film Commission of the Methodist Church. It is the story of the 18th century evangelist and educator.

John Wesley's rescue from a burning house at the age of five, at the beginning of the film, forecasts the dramatic and eventful life which unfolds in this story of a man of slight stature but of impelling influence upon his contemporaries and upon history.

"John Wesley felt his heart strangely warmed," led him to face mobs unafraid, and to ride 250,000 miles on horseback, changing the masses of English people from a low state of moral degradation to sturdy and happy uprightness," a churchman reported.

Vet Legislature Members Seek County, State Posts

HARRISBURG (AP)—Nine veteran members of the Legislature will seek county or city office in the Nov. 8 municipal elections.

Five Democrats and four Republicans are on the ballot in eight counties seeking the office of mayor, judge, sheriff, city councilman or county commissioner.

Six of the lawmakers are members of the House and three are senators. All have served two or more terms in the General Assembly.

Two candidates, Sens. William J. Lane (D-Washington) and G. Graybill Diehm, (R-Lancaster) are running for re-election. Several others have held local office before while a number are seeking their first municipal or county job.

Must Give Up Post
One of the lawmakers, Sen. Eustace H. Bane, (D-Fayette) would have to give up his seat in the Senate if elected in November. The 50-year-old Uniontown attorney is running for Common Pleas Court judge in Fayette County.

Since the state Constitution limits a person to one state job he would have to leave the Senate where he has served since 1951.

The candidate for mayor is Rep. Nolan F. Ziegler (R-Dauphin) who seeks to succeed Republican Mayor Claude Robbins of the capital city.

Ziegler, 52, a Harrisburg lawyer, is the regular Republican party nominee. He has served four terms in the House.

Two Democratic House members are running for sheriff, in Berks and Luzerne Counties. They are Harold A. Yetzer (Berks) and William B. Curwood (Luzerne).

Yetzer from Reading is 49 and has been in the House five terms. He's in the roofing business and has been a justice of the peace since 1937.

Run For Re-election
Lane and Diehm are both seeking re-election as county commissioners. Lane, 51-year-old Fredericktown real estate and insurance man, has been in the Senate since 1947. He was a member of the House for four terms before that. In 1948 he was defeated when he ran for state treasurer.

Diehm is serving his fourth term in the Senate and was in the House for 10 years before that.

Rep. Henry C. Spencer (R-Lackawanna) also is seeking election as county commissioner. A House member eight years, the 54-year-old Carbonade resident is in the general insurance and real estate business. He has been a Greenfield Twp. school director 25 years and is a member of the Lackawanna County Board of School Directors.

Two House members are seeking reelection at city councilmen, one in Philadelphia and the other in Reading.

Wilbur H. Hamilton (R-Phila.), serving his third term in the House seeks the Philadelphia post from the city's 8th district. Hamilton, 46, is a member of an insurance firm and has been on the 21st ward GOP executive committee since 1938.

John C. Kubacki (Berks), a member of the Reading school board, is running for city councilman in that city. Kubacki is 43 and a salesman. He's been elected to the House three times.

"The Tender Trap"

"The Tender Trap," a comedy by Max Shulman and Robert Paul Smith, begins a one-week run at Allenberry Playhouse, Boiling Springs, on Monday.

In the central role of a young Manhattan bachelor "who is perhaps more pursued than pursuing" is Allenberry veteran Christian Flanders. The girls in the comedy are Sally Kemp, Bettie Endrizzi, Marjorie Kopp and Betsy Holt.

"The Tender Trap" is directed by Richard North Gage and its apartment setting is designed by Al Hamilton.

opportunity offered we would go to Gettysburg." Currently on vacation, the family decided to come here to spend the week-end, arriving Thursday night and starting the battlefield tour this morning.

Mrs. Larsen was particularly anxious to see the field. A cousin, Lou Cyster, who was the last surviving GAR member in New Jersey, frequently told of his part in the Battle of Gettysburg when Mrs. Larsen was a youngster.

Was Ship's Captain
Captain Larsen's family came from Norway. He graduated from the New York State Maritime College in 1933 and has served with the Moore-McCormack Steamship Co. for 25 years. He captained ships sailing to South America and the Baltic and to Europe during World War II before becoming port captain for the company in New York six years ago.

This morning after the trip in the wagon, provided by Conte Brothers Horse and Buggy Museum, the couple was driven over part of the battlefield in a 1911 Cadillac by Ernest H. Simpson, president of the local Antique Auto Club. Donald Manning arranged for the removal of Capt. Larsen's car for service. John C. W. Riddle, supervisor-ranger for the park service, represented the National Park office here in greeting the visitors.

The family will dine at the Hotel Gettysburg tonight, have been given quarters at Sunken Gardens, will tour the battlefield Saturday and be luncheon guests of the Travel Council.

WOMAN JAILED FOR STEALING
LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Kathryn Hassel, 44-year-old bookkeeper, today was sentenced to an undetermined term in the State Industrial Home for Women at Muncie for stealing a reported $100,000 from her employer.

Mrs. Hassel admitted taking the money over a period of 10 years from Darmstadter Co., operators of one of Lancaster's largest novelty stores.

Judge Joseph B. Wisner handed down the sentence in Lancaster County common pleas court. Specifically she was charged with stealing $26,000—which she claimed she gave to her ex-husband, John Huber—over the past two years. The statute of limitations had run out on the earlier thefts she admitted.

Huber now is serving an 8 to 16 year term in Eastern Penitentiary for blackmail, conspiracy and accessories after the fact.

Huber's father, Frank Huber, was convicted of being an accessory by a jury yesterday and placed on probation.

Mrs. Hassel's present husband, Edward, stood by her side in the courtroom as she was sentenced.

Fete Grand Matrons Of Eastern Star

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Florence Plummer, of Norristown, Pa., elected unanimously yesterday, Grand Matron of the Eastern Star, was fete at a banquet and installed in her office last night.

The fraternal and charitable organization, whose membership is nearly 3,000,000, voted also yesterday to hold its 29th triennial assembly in Philadelphia in 1958.

Mrs. Plummer's election followed custom of raising the next ranking officer, right worthy grand matron, to the order's highest post.

Mrs. Plummer, a native of Willsboro, Pa., has two children and two grandchildren. Active in the Eastern Star for many years, she was Pennsylvania worthy grand matron in 1934. During the next three years she will travel around the world visiting OES chapters.

SONS PICKET MOM'S PLANT
PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—The Berg boys promised to give up picketing their mother's dry cleaning plant. But all is not forgiven.

Mrs. Opan (Ma) Berg fired her sons, Robert, 31, and Orville, 29, after they joined the AFL Teamsters Union and led four other route drivers in a wage demand. They wanted $50 more a week. They had been getting $100.

When they didn't get it they picketed the plant at nearby Clarkson.

Ma Berg got an injunction to keep them from interfering with business.

Yesterday she took them into court on charges of violating the injunction.

Robert and Orville agreed to withdraw from the dispute. The court ordered the other four drivers reinstated at their old salary.

The Berg boys said they would look for other jobs.

"I'd lock the doors before I'd take them back," said their mother.

U. S. DIPLOMAT SURPRISED AS PAINTINGS SELL

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Art Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—People had to show him their money, and show it again, before Robert Sivard could really believe they wanted to buy his paintings.

Usually an artist can't believe people don't want to buy, Sivard however, painted not for sales but for souvenirs.

He and his wife and son had had several pleasant years in Paris and were coming home. He wanted something to remember the city by. He went out and painted a picture of the front of a familiar grocery store, and hung it up contentedly in his Left-Bank apartment.

Friends came in, friends from the United States Embassy where he worked or just friends in general. They looked at the grocery store and promptly asked:

"Is that for sale?"

It wasn't. Finally a dealer asked the same question, and in June, 1953, the dealer included some 15 or 18 of Sivard's paintings in an exhibition.

Every single one was sold. Sivard, a tall, soft-voiced United States Information Agency official stationed in Washington, is having a show in the Midtown Galleries here. In the window hangs the picture of the grocery store that started him off.

Fondness And Fartness
His 20 other paintings, done with minute care, almost all in the same manner and design, show facades, or some vertical plane seen close-to, and front-to, and seen drolly, with the mixture of fondness and fartness that always awakens popular interest.

Besides the grocery there is the cafe, restaurant, hardware store, street performers and other peculiar Paris scenes presented in a quaint, primitive way.

Of course the grocery wasn't his first painting. Born in this city, he wanted to be an illustrator.

"I studied at Pratt Institute, I went to the National Academy. I was art director of several advertising agencies. I worked with a book publisher. I did commercial murals for both the New York and San Francisco World's Fairs. And I helped Frank Schwartz on his big murals for the Oregon State Capitol."

Four years in the Army gave him his first taste of Europe and he liked it. From then on he did the things the textbooks and school-

If he got tired of a job, he'd quit. He'd save up a small stake and bet it all on some new move.

Right after the war he and his wife had a tough break. While he was stationed in Europe, she tried to find a job so she could join him, and succeeded just as he was sent home.

He abandoned a good job here and went, on next to nothing, to Geneva, where he found art work with the International Refugee Organization, then a U.N. group. Tiring of Geneva, he took off for Paris, with no prospect of work there. But he found plenty to do with French advertising agencies and eventually with the United States Embassy. He finally became embassy visual information officer, in charge of things like posters; and before he left Paris, the embassy had a long, big show of his paintings.

Holding diplomatic rank, he has served in MSA, FOA, then USIS and now in the home USIS office, or USIA. Here he helps administer the new President's Emergency Europe.

WATCH NATURE DEVELOP DURING WARM WEATHER

By DION HENDERSON

The outdoors can be fun, when nature holds up her textbook on life.

For in the spring, the visible cycle of basic life starts all over again and you'll find that the story of biology told by nature within a few feet of your front door can be vastly more gripping than the same stuff was in school.

The morning after you have heard the first frogs croaking, you may find in the roadside ditch or the park lagoon a little cloud of frog eggs.

A little later you can catch a tadpole in a milk bottle and give it to the children as a pet. The kids will watch it grow. They may miss a few chapters in the current cowboy saga on TV but they'll watch it. The tadpole's evolutionary struggle to grow legs, to develop lungs and grow beyond the necessity of an aquatic environment is quite a gripping saga in itself, if you look at it that way.

And painlessly, even the very young have read a chapter of the history that made possible man's life upon the earth.

Tears Down Mountains
You are not limited to frogs, either. You can practically pick the age or even the species, a bacterium whose ancestors came first upon the cooling planet and likely will stay last, hestirs himself again, to tear down another mountain or to make another rock into soil. This fellow is beyond your sight unless Junior can borrow a microscope from school.

But the life form that came next—the one that made the first and thus perhaps the greatest step of all in evolution—is there for you to see, at least in the aggregate. The algae are everywhere, in the mosses on a tree or stone, everywhere you see the film of color gathering in a colony is life.

Most of those you see readily, like those making a scum on stagnant water, are the Blue-Greens, unfriendly to us mammals and causers of deplorable ailments in cows which drink unwisely from polluted puddles.

But you may find the next step algae too, the Greens which are rich with the undigested green of chlorophyll which is not so different from your red blood as you might think. These are friendly fellows, we can begin to understand—sun lovers, evolutionary geniuses which solved the problem of development stalled by divisive reproduction and learned the blend of sex.

Sea Pasturage
These Greens are what the aquatic biologists call the plankton, the small animate pasturage of the sea and the lakes, and the beginning of a food change without which there would be no fish.

At this point in the example, you have arrived at fish, and you're on your own. A man or a boy, or preferably both, can find a worm and a pole and continue the lesson at leisure.

TWO CAMPAIGN TALKS LISTED SOON BY NIXON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A speaking tour which will take Vice President Nixon into contested political territory indicated today Republicans are beginning their 1956 election campaign now.

Nixon announced yesterday he will open fire at the National Plowing Contest in Wabash, Ind., tomorrow on Democratic critics of the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support farm program.

The vice president will follow this up with a speech at a GOP $100-a-plate dinner in Indianapolis tomorrow night.

Farm Price Threat
Republican state chairmen agreed at a meeting here last week that declining farm prices offer the greatest political threat to the election of a GOP Congress next year.

Some of them are known to have suggested to National Chairman Leonard W. Hall that Nixon was the man to answer sharpened Democratic criticism in this field.

Thus far, the chief Republican reply has been that the Eisenhower administration inherited the great crop surpluses which they said were caused by rigid price supports under the Democrats.

But Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said that President Eisenhower will have something "very specific" to propose to Congress on an addition to the present program. He has hinted this might take the form of federally-subsidized withdrawal of some acreage from crop production.

Train Derailment Interrupts Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Pennsylvania Railroad passenger service between Chicago and points east was delayed today by the derailment of 16 to 18 cars of a freight train in Bucyrus, Ohio, the railroad said.

Pleads Innocent On Murder Charge

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Percy S. Haines entered a plea of innocent at his arraignment yesterday in the fatal courtroom shooting of a Carlisle attorney last Aug. 2.

The 60-year-old Newville R.D. 2 man entered his plea in Cumberland County Court before Judge W. C. Sheely, of Adams County, who will also preside at the farmer's trial scheduled to start next Wednesday.

Haines is charged with the fatal shooting of John D. Faller Jr., in Cumberland County Court, injured during the shooting spree last month were Judge Mark Garber, Atty. George Black, Chambersburg, and Haines' wife, Lulu.

Judge Sheely will preside at the trial because of Garber's injury and because Cumberland County's other judge, Dale F. Shughart, may be called to testify.

ENTIRE FAMILY EARNS DEGREES

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—When Grant Bartholomew Martin, 21, receives his bachelor's degree from Maryland State Teachers College at Bowie next spring, he will be the 10th member of his family to receive a college degree.

It will also mark the end of Louis Martin's dream of educating his entire family. Grant is the youngest of 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. Martin and his sheepskin will be the 13th in the Negro family. Three of them hold master's degrees.

The event will be all the more unusual in that Louis Martin, the father, has worked most of his 66 years for not more than $80 a week. Most of his working life, he earned about $30 a week.

The Martins' philosophy of life? "Life is a struggle. But it is good to have a struggle. It strengthens your character."

Orphaned At 10
Louis Martin had to build his strong character at an early age. His father died when he was 3. His mother died when he was 10.

running between Fort Wayne, Ind., and Crestline, Ohio, jumped the tracks at 2:10 a.m. No one was injured, a Pennsylvania spokesman here said.

He added that Pennsylvania passenger trains between Chicago and Philadelphia, Washington and New York would be delayed about 30 minutes because of the wreck. These trains will be detoured over New York Central tracks from Fort Wayne to Crestline.

The spokesman said the freight derailment was caused by a broken axle part on one car.

MINERS FACED WITH $20 LEVY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 200,000 working soft coal miners will be assessed $20 each to add about four million dollars to the United Mine Workers' treasury.

The money is needed, according to an announcement in the UMW's journal, to defend the union against law suits "seeking to destroy it through harassing legal actions and other devious means."

Signed by UMW President John L. Lewis, the announcement said the union is "being constantly beleaguered by many law suits. Fortunately, through its ability to acquire reserves throughout the years, it has been able to offset these attacks and protect the benefits now being enjoyed by our membership."

Report Huge Treasury
Although the UMW has published no recent financial statement, union sources say there is now about $2 million in the treasury.

Lewis said the assessment was voted by the union's policy committee as an aftermath of the recent miner's wage increase.

The miners received a $1.20 daily pay raise effective Sept. 1 and are due to get a second 80 cents hike next April 1, boosting the basic daily wage to $20.25.

The assessment is to be levied in four $5 installments, in September, October, January and the last in a pay period to be selected following the April 1 pay raise.

and he was sent to a Philadelphia orphan's home.

Martin entered the Hampton Institute at Hampton, Va., when he was 19 and majored in agriculture. But that was only the start.

His family kept growing, but it grew as a team and it kept working together.

When the first children went to college, the younger ones at home worked harder than ever to help pay their way. When the first students were graduated, they in turn helped send the younger boys and girls through college.

Six of the children are now employed as teachers.

2 Biggest Red Spy Rings Were Uncovered By Russia Agents

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every time an American ally uncovers a Soviet spy ring in its own country, it raises an old question here: Is there an espionage network operating now in the United States?

This country was shocked shortly after the war, and the public got its first insight into Russian espionage, when a Soviet spy ring was exposed in Canada. This week Australia produced a 100,000-word report on Russian spying there.

Both governments found out that not just one spy ring was working against them. There were several rings, each independent of the other and concealed from the other.

Moscow Pulled Strings
Some sought military information, some scientific and diplomatic information. The strings were pulled from Moscow. The reason the Kremlin didn't want one of its spy rings to know the other existed was simple enough:

In case one ring was exposed, or one or more of its members were caught, no information could be obtained that would endanger any other ring.

Although nine years separate the Canadian and Australian discoveries of what the Russians had been doing to them, the Soviet spy operations were the same in general.

The Russian masters of the spy rings found the Canadian and Australian Communist parties the most fertile ground for recruits. They were always looking for recruits. Their most trusted agents acted as talent scouts.

Kremlin Okayed Agents
But if one ring found a recruit it thought could be trusted, he couldn't be put to work unless Moscow approved. Moscow either had a file on the man or used one of the other spy rings to check on his trustworthiness.

In addition to their spy rings, the Russians sought to set up fifth columns in both countries. These would be agents, undercover, of course, who could be depended on to work for Russia in case of war when the Soviet spy chiefs would have to return home.

Neither the Canadians nor Australians discovered the espionage through their own police work. In both cases they were set on the

Collector Charged With Embezzlement

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—A Lock Haven water and sewer bill collector is scheduled to appear before the October session of Clinton County Court on a charge of embezzlement.

William M. Fredericks, 31, yesterday waived a hearing on the charge and renewed his bail of $5,000. The court session begins Oct. 24.

Fredericks was taken into custody after neighbors complained they "couldn't understand the clerk's high living."

Fredericks was paid $3,960 a year and handled about $160,000 in city money during the last two years, the time charged in the embezzlement count.

The city said a special audit will be made of Water and Sewer Bureau accounts. Fredericks served as clerk for seven years in the bureau.

CANCER PAIN AIDED BY DRUG

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A German-developed drug is bringing remarkable relief from pain and general improvement in men with cancer of the prostate gland, the American Chemical Society was told today.

It is practically specific for tumors of the prostate, a common type in men, said Walter J. Frajola, Ph.D., Jaber Munshi, M.D., and J. N. Taylor, M.D., of Ohio State University.

German investigators have reported successful control of prostatic cancer with the drug, diethylstilbestrol diphosphate.

The Ohio team tested it on 13 men and found it "produced remarkable relief of pain and other symptoms in a few days."

There have been no signs yet, visible through X-rays, of improvement in areas of bones affected by the spread of the cancer, they said.

The men were treated in a hospital for three weeks then maintained on one to two injections a week. None has suffered from nausea or from feminization, which had been drawbacks with an earlier treatment using diethylstilbestrol alone.

Says Critic Would Not Assist P. O.

CHICAGO (AP)—Asst. Postmaster General Eugene J. Lyons says Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) has refused to help solve the very post office problems the senator criticizes.

Lyons fired back at Johnston last night in a speech at a meeting of the National Assn. of Post Office and Surface Postal Transport Mail Handlers, Watchmen and niversary will be observed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church Sunday at 10:30 a.m. Sunday School will be at 9:30. The Rev. Charles E. Held is the pastor.

Messengers.

He said the senator, who accused the department of "waste" in a speech before another group of post office employees in Chicago Tuesday, "personally refused to hold hearings on postage rates in the last session of Congress."

"By doing so, he blocked consideration of our efforts to reduce the postal deficit and further burdened the Federal Treasury during a period when the requirements of national security impose such a heavy burden on taxation of our people," he said.

Most frequently counterfeited among U.S. bills are $10 and $20 denominations, says the National Geographic Society.

Sparkman Favors More U.S.-Red Trade

BERLIN (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) concluded a 14-day tour behind the Iron Curtain Thursday and announced he favors more American trade with the Soviet bloc. "I don't see how we profit ourselves by having a standoff trade policy," he said.

He emphasized, however, that only consumer goods should be involved and not items which might be used to build up a war machine.

He said he believed trade restrictions had lost their purpose, since in Russia "there doesn't seem to be any danger of a collapse, short of a catastrophe."

Sunday School Lesson

Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

MALACHI CALLS FOR RIGHTEOUS LIVING
By Rev. Howard C. Gold D.D.
Margaret C. Gold
Malachi 3:1-6 13-18

Key Verse: Have we not all one father? Has not one God created us? Why then are we faithless to one another? Malachi 2:10

Malachi is the last book in the Old Testament. Consequently its prophecies are the final messages to a disobedient nation. It is occasionally called "the seal of the prophets" as it represents the last of the prophecies. The name Malachi means "messenger" but no one knows if it was actually the name of the prophet himself. Some authorities set the time of Malachi's prophecies about 420 B.C., at least we know they were delivered sometime between the rebuilding of the temple in 516 B.C. and the coming of Nehemiah in 445 B.C.

What was the situation of the people of Jerusalem when Malachi came? The people were not under a king but a governor, likely appointed by the Persian emperor. About 100 years had elapsed since the remnant of Jews had returned from captivity. As long as they were building, completing the temple and constructing the city walls, they maintained their high enthusiasm. They were annoyed continually by the Samaritans and other neighboring tribes Reclaiming the desolate land, suffering poor harvests and resultant famine, their morale was at a low ebb.

Careless And Lax
These physical and moral failures left their mark upon the people and they gradually grew careless

and lax. The priests became degenerate, tithes were neglected, inferior sacrifices were offered—all signs of neglecting their duty to God. In this period of extreme depression in religious practices and morals came Malachi! His clear reasoning won the ear of the people. Surely, they awaited the Messiah, "But who can endure the day of His coming, and who can stand when He appears?" Malachi combined rebuke with promise as may be seen in these verses: "For he is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap. He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, till they present right offerings to the Lord." Both priests and people dishonored God by presenting blemished offerings and judgment is imminent. Those who intermarried with heathen or divorced their wives must suffer God's punishment.

This prophet, a simple practical man of faith who was primarily a teacher, found that the Hebrews had grown cynical about God. He first had to combat their attitude of mind before effecting any spiritual revival. His vigorous attack of the problems involved was directed to the individual rather than to the crowd, so his persistent words crept into the hearts of the people bringing home the hard fact that their misfortunes were the result of neglecting God and His house, the people began to repent. God always shows mercy to all who repent of their evil ways.

Evaluate Teachings
It is comparatively easy to evaluate Malachi's teachings after 23 centuries. He stood at the threshold of a new era, but he tried to bridge the gap between the age of prophecy and the Messianic Age. Probably our religious and moral failures will be exposed 20 centuries hence, with emphasis on wars and cold wars, atom and hydrogen bombs, divorce and juvenile delinquency. Ages come and go, but God is changeless, always and forever omnipotent. God has His "Book of Remembrance" in which each name is inscribed.

There are no biblical records of Israel's successes and failures in the 400 years between Malachi and the birth of Jesus. No doubt she continued to have periods of weakness or strength. In days of prosperity and peace people are apt to follow accustomed habits of worship; in adversity, they often despair and turn away from God.

Among the many teachings and warnings of Malachi these few will always be remembered: (1) the unfailing love of God, (2) rebuke of careless or irreverent performance of religious duties, (3) sacrifices, tithes, etc. show the attitude of the worshipper to God, (4) the plea for right treatment of one another. This "messenger" of God brought the Hebrew people back into a better relationship with Him and paved the way for the great Teacher.

HARVEST

The fruits have been gathered from the fields. They lay about her, rich and ripe, in the autumn sun that is still warm. Never has the sky been so blue, never have the distant mountains been more enchanting with their play of purple shadows. Yet she concentrates on the work at hand, peeling an apple with still dextrous fingers as she rocks on into the long afternoon of life.

She is a simple person. Her life has not been easy. There have been moments of great happiness . . . and of great sadness: times of drought and times when the harvest came in a kind of golden glory from the bounty of the earth.

But through it all she has had a nourishment that has nothing to do with crops and weather, a kind of sustenance that has stood by her at all times and in all seasons . . . FAITH. Hers is a complete Faith in God and in her Church, a Faith that has made her life happy and useful . . . a Faith that has furnished food for the soul.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SPORTSMEN MAY OPPOSE LEASE OF STATE LAND

HARRISBURG — Organized sportsmen of Pennsylvania today considered going on record as strongly opposed to any sale or lease of state land such as the recent Curtiss-Wright project.

A resolution before the two day fall convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs would term the lease and sale of 54,000 acres of game land to Curtiss-Wright a giveaway and "full folly."

Gov. Leader supported the Curtiss-Wright project, for construction of a research jet engine center, as an economic aid to the distressed north-central Pennsylvania region of Clearfield, Elk and Cameron counties.

A resolution already approved by the federation's south-eastern division would have the state organization "do everything in its power to oppose at any time in the future the repetition of the public land giveaway as recently authorized."

Last May when the Curtiss-Wright project was being guided through the Legislature the federation, representing some 185,000 sports club members throughout the state, sought public hearings on the proposal.

Unheard Of Precedent
The resolution states that the lease and sale of 84 square acres of forest and game land "set an unheard of precedent of selling... to private interests."

It asks that the federation be "unalterably opposed to any further sale, gift, lease, transfer or any other way or manner in which state lands pass to private interests unless complete title to said lands remains within the commonwealth or federal government."

The resolution was due to be discussed by directors of the federation from all eight divisions today and then come up for final action of all convention delegates tomorrow.

Twenty-six other proposals dealing with fish, game, and conservation policies of the state are also on the agenda.

Chinese

age 15 days after he was arrested July 25, 1951—13 months after the start of the Korean War.

"I collected the information and I was guilty," he said in a low, steady voice.

Rickett wore gray slacks and a gray-brown shirt, his hair was untidy but he was clean shaven. He carried a small shaving kit.

"The Chinese government was lenient with me. They could have sentenced me to 10 years but gave me only six and released me after four," he said.

"I'm afraid 10 years is a long time in anybody's life. Considering the situation, I was treated excellently. At all times my treatment was the same as the other Chinese prisoners, but... as a foreigner I was given more food."

Read Red Propaganda
Asked whether he feels he has been indoctrinated by the Reds, Rickett replied, "I have read the Chinese papers and progressive articles."

He said he passed military information to unnamed U.S. consular officials and to a British Embassy second secretary whom he identified as Ted Youde and to a Dutch legation employee he named as Miss Helen Van der Hofen. Presumably the latter two were in Peiping at the time.

Rickett said he stayed behind when the Reds overran the mainland because "the political situation was such that I felt I could learn more about the Chinese."

Tells Of Spring
About 70 correspondents and newsreel cameramen waited for the two at the village.

Later, at a news conference at the Gloucester Hotel, Rickett commented:

"What I did mostly was collect

Two Uranium

found indications of uranium ore around the outside.

Hickok said all except Stubblefield, who is crippled, went into the mine about 3,000 feet Wednesday until they reached a point where an old cave-in had partly blocked the shaft. He said the air was bad and they abandoned the effort for the day.

The trio returned yesterday and after reaching the cave-in Dew and LeBlow climbed over it. Hickok said they discovered water on the other side and used old lumber to construct a raft, intending to float beyond the water. Hickok said that was the last he heard of the two. He went for aid.

Sacra said both men are married. Dew has three children and LeBlow two.

information about democratic elements in Peiping and to what extent they supported the Chinese Communists."

He said he gave this information to an American vice consul whom he identified as John Ferrier who was in Peiping before the Communists overran the mainland.

The red-haired student grasped his trembling right hand to steady it as he spoke. He said at the time of his arrest the Reds told him, "In spite of the money being spent by the American government for espionage work, American spies could never collect any valuable information."

Priest Very Tired
Father Rigney said before reaching the Catholic center he was notified Sunday of his release and had been riding trains since Monday. The bearded, moustachioed priest appeared very tired. One of the Catholic center priests who met him said he had lost 80 pounds in prison, but appeared mentally all right.

The Chinese Communists promised Sept. 10 they would release 10 American civilians who had been jailed or put under house arrest. Both Rickett and Father Rigney were in this group. Red China said the 10 had been convicted of crimes ranging from spreading reactionary propaganda to spying.

On Sept. 6 Red China had announced that 12 other Americans previously denied exit permits were free to leave China when they chose. No charges had been made against them. So far none in this group has left the Communist mainland.

The United States also has been negotiating at Geneva for the release of 19 other Americans imprisoned by the Chinese.

ATOM HEATING PLANTS JUST AROUND CORNER

Is there a place in your home for a little invisible, pitiable atom? There'd better be!

Atomic heating plants with summer cooling systems are just around the corner. They'll cost you just $50 a year to operate, says an expert.

And you'll build your house with plastic, subjected to atomic radiation to make it stronger than steel. Will this replace lumber?

Shelters Standard

As for that pesky bomb, which wipes out cities when it splits the infinitesimal atom, a Yale University expert says basement bomb shelters will soon become as standard in the design of our houses as bathrooms and kitchens.

All we are waiting for when it comes to economical home heating and cooling is a new discovery of a large source of fissionable material, says Robert E. Ferry, general manager of the Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers. So get out your Geiger counters and go hunting.

Ferry as speaking at the recent 40th anniversary meeting of his industry at Absecon, N. J. He said that all of the parts needed for an atomic home heating and cooling plant are now available on the market, except for the small atomic reactor to replace fuel.

Cost About $300

The missing unit, hermetically sealed in lead and about twice the size of an automobile battery, should cost about $300 according to Ferry. It would be good for six years and then would be replaced. Net cost: $50 per year; no chimney; no ashes; no waste energy.

The rest of the workings are so well known that you could install such a plant in a house for about $1,500, says Ferry.

The potential strength of plastic has been demonstrated with a new hammer now on the market. It has a brilliant red handle made of plastic reinforced with fiber glass. This handle is stronger than steel, yet it has the resilience and shock absorbing quality of hickory.

Possibilities Great

With this strength attained by blending plastic and fiber glass, the possibilities of the new alchemy of gamma radiation are fabulous.

Architectural Forum recently explored the prospects of such radiant-treated plastic for the benefit of designers and engineers. It concluded that today's bulky posts and beams, serving as ribs of a building, will be reduced to a mere fold or seam in the skin of the wall.

Douglas Haskell, editor, summed up: "Tomorrow's structure may be typically all skin. Its skin may become its shell and its interior columns. Even its windows may be simply transparent patches of its skin."

... Probably a skin game in which you, for a change, will win.

Safety Measure

In the meantime, the threat of that atomic bomb and its gargantuan relative, "H," hangs over our houses. Lincoln H. Lippincott, director of safety for Yale University, says "the Yucca Flat tests have emphasized the protection given by basements against atomic bomb blasts and radiation."

Lippincott told a Boston meeting of the New England Building Officials Conference that a basement

Plan Temporary Span For Wrecked Bridge

HARRISBURG, Pa.—The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission Thursday was under orders to make immediate plans for a temporary span over the river at Easton.

The directive was issued yesterday by state Highway Secretary Joseph J. Lawler acting chairman of the commission.

The free bridge between Easton and Philadelphia, N.J., was torn down by flood waters that ravaged the area last month. A toll bridge operated in the area by the commission was undamaged.

D.C. FLORISTS PROFIT FROM DAR CONVENTION

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taxi drivers grumble, but local florists rub their green thumbs in gleeful anticipation when the Daughters of the American Revolution come to town.

The cabbies complain that when it comes to tips, the daughters are apt to clutch the purse strings a bit tightly. In the corsage and bouquet line, however, they're real expansive.

Vernon Pearson, florist, says he and his colleagues ordered 600 orchids in about a dozen different varieties for the ladies attending their four-day congress here.

"Counting the gardenias and carnations for the less important delegates, we sold about $5,000 worth of flowers this year," he says.

Pearson feels that the daughters have had to take too much unwarranted ribbing about the orchid being their official badge. He says the corsages are compliments and the high-ranking officers who receive them feel obligated to wear each gift, "even if they do begin to look like a human hothouse."

Armful of Roses

"It was a different story 20 years ago when orchids were $10 to $30 apiece," Mr. Pearson explained. "In those days everybody sent armfuls of roses. Can you imagine what it must have been like to try and carry around a dozen bouquets?"

Some 4,000 attended this year's congress of the DAR. The society has been meeting here since 1890 with the exception of meetings in New York, Chicago and Cincinnati during World War II.

Old-timers this year were pleased to find they could hear their speakers better in Constitution Hall, where acoustics in the past have brought complaints from such notables as Conductor Leopold Stokowski and top-flight artists who have performed there. During the past bomb shelter of proper design should have an added outside exit for rescue.

Well, if the atom can rescue us from the cost of building chimneys and from the biggest part of our annual fuel bills maybe we can afford to pay our diplomats enough to rescue us from misuse of the atom.

NEW BATHROOMS ARE GLAMOROUS AND PRACTICAL

If you like to sing in the bathroom, you certainly ought to have surroundings as glamorous as your baritone or soprano, or what have you. Nowadays bathrooms are among the most dazzling rooms in a house, new or old. Remodeling experts, launching their dreamboats in the bathtub, seem to get farther in modernization than when they start at the front door.

And when it comes to glamor, architects and decorators certainly are going to town with their new bathroom ideas. Last weekend we took a look at a new house at Upper Brookville, N. Y., which had just sold for $78,000. Among the main features that will make us remember that house were the bathrooms. They had miniature flower gardens planted in the countertops surrounding the wash basins.

But you don't have to spend $78,000, or a hundredth of that amount to have a cheerful place to sing and splash. Modern materials and ideas make it possible to glamorize on a budget this hardest-used of all rooms in your house.

Many Materials

The question usually is where to start. In planning a new house this is relatively simple. But with an older house, what are you going to do with a tub on lion-claw legs, a pine board floor and cracked plaster walls? Well, it's not hopeless, especially with today's materials and methods.

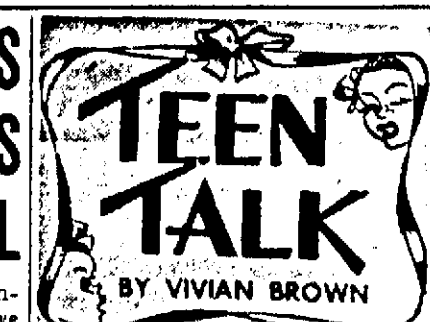

If you're a do-it-yourself enthusiast, you can get plumbing fixtures of pressed and enameled steel like automobile fenders that are easy for one man to handle. Or lighter still, you can get plastic reinforced with fiber glass that even a girl can handle. New adhesives make it practicable to put up clay tile over any firm wall surface.

Or if you're a do-it-yourself kiltzer, you certainly can learn a lot about how these things are done and what you are paying your money for when it comes to hiring the job done.

Smart Vanity

Smart and popular bathroom equipment includes a countertop around the wash basin with linen storage cabinets below. This combines vanity table and lavatory. One organization distributed 100,000 units of this type in the past year.

The vanity combinations provide year a new sound system was installed when the auditorium underwent a costly remodeling job which also included new lighting.

The Associated Press

Supposing that right out of the blue, a friend of yours were to say, "If you'll walk over to studio 99 you can get a little part in a movie."

It would startle you, wouldn't it, just as it did Maritza Palmer who was living and attending school in Rome at the time she got that exciting invitation. But let's let Maritza tell it:

"My good friend Mike, 15, whose father was an American naval procurement officer, came by our house one day and said, 'Tish, the movie studio is looking for a 12-year-old girl to play a part in Mambo. Why not go over for a test?'"

"I did. First thing you know even though they thought I was too tall for the part, they gave it to me because my hairdo resembled the leading lady's, and I was to play her little sister."

It wasn't a big role—as a matter of fact Tish only had 4 working days in the movies. But it was wonderful fun, she says, and a great exciting adventure. Just one of the many in her short years.

No Illusions

She has had no illusions about becoming a big time star as the result of her brush with the camera, however.

Her varied life has given her a broad perspective for all of her 13 years, and pretty Tish acts and looks more mature because of it. She has enough memories of her life to date to fill a very thick volume if she wanted to write it—much of it gained traveling with her mother and father who was a colonel in the Army. Her notebook might go something like this:

"I've traveled about 50,000 miles to date. I can look back to the Philippines and the time a typhoon took the roof off the house, and to the convent school I attended there ... to the American Army school at Yokohama and all the lovely youngsters I skated and played with ... the Anglican school in Dunham, Quebec ... a convent school in Quebec City ... public school in Englewood, N. J. ... I speak fluent French and Italian and very bad Japanese although there was a time I could keep up a conversation with my Oriental friends ... I loved the warm artistic people of Japan who seemed to breathe art and who inspired me to do some very good painting ..."

"I can remember a trip with a girl friend from Rome to Paris, a real adventure on our way to camp on the Normandy coast.

"I guess in all my wanderings I grew to love the Italians more than any other people. Maybe it was because I was at the age when I could understand more about people, and they are so direct and honest."

Tish studied art in Paris—a lovely opportunity that few girls of her age enjoy. She'd like to become a commercial artist.

About 400 of each 100,000 U. S. babies born in 1950 will live to see the year 2050, statistics indicate.

Scientists Use New Way To Smash Atom

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—They are trying something new in atom smashing at the University of Michigan. Eight midwest universities — Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Purdue, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa State, are sending scientists to work on a model atom smasher combining two old principles which never have been used together.

The model will use a fixed magnetic field through which the atomic particles will move. Then oddly-shaped magnets will be stationed along the way to keep them on the track. They hope to produce more particles and move them faster than in present machines.

If the small 300-kilowatt machine works, they plan to build a machine of 20 billion electron volts. They hope to increase the amount of atomic work done in Midwest universities. Most such work is now done on the East or West Coasts.

Formosa has a population of 8,749,999, an increase of 2,653,691 in the past eight years.

READY ANSWER TO DEMANDS FOR PAY INCREASE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. today began studying wage demands of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers in the wake of a three-day strike which idled 43,000 members of the union at 27 plants in nine states.

The union asked for a substantial but unspecified wage increase. It said its members now average $2.10 an hour. The talks were recessed to give the company time to draft a reply. The union is free to strike Oct. 15 if no agreement is reached.

The wage talks opened a few hours before a holdout local which triggered the nationwide strike reversed itself by voting to return to work immediately. That was Local 601, representing some 10,000 workers at the East Pittsburgh plant.

2,200 Struck Aug. 8
Last Aug. 8 about 2,200 day workers—employees such as crane operators and helpers—walked off the job at East Pittsburgh to protest a time study of their jobs instituted by the company CIO-IUE locals in the other Westinghouse plants called a sympathy strike which began last Sunday.

The nationwide strike was called off when IUE President James B.

Press Conference To Be Aired In State

HARRISBURG (AP)—Parts of Gov. Leader's weekly news conferences will be broadcast over a statewide radio network beginning next week, the governor's press secretary reported.

Thomas K. Hodges said an edited 15-minute tape recording of each conference will be made available regularly to 22 members of the Keystone Network.

Hodges told a meeting of the Central Pennsylvania professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, yesterday that:

"This will help the governor to get his story across to the people since frequently he is much better at a press conference than it seems in printed reports."

Carey announced the union's conference board—comprised of representatives of local unions at Westinghouse plants—approved a Westinghouse proposal. That proposal provided that the subject of time studies would be made part of the wage talks. Under a two-year contract the union originally was confined to wage discussions.

Local 601 refused to go along with the Carey settlement. But yesterday a mass membership meeting of the local voted overwhelmingly to end the strike.

360 PETITION SUPREME COURT TO BACK REDS

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—A brief carrying the names of 360 Americans tells from a "non-Communist viewpoint" why the signers think the Supreme Court should strike down the McCarran internal security law.

The Communist party has asked the court to declare the law unconstitutional, contending it violates fundamental liberties guaranteed by the Constitution.

The party is appealing from a government order that it register with the attorney general as an agent of the Kremlin. The case, to be argued this fall, brings the controversial law to its first major legal test.

The signers yesterday asked permission to file their brief as "friends of the court." The court will decide later whether to accept the brief.

"Terrible Threat"
The brief called the 1950 law "the most terrible threat so far devised to freedom in America."

The law, whose leading sponsor was the late Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), was passed over former President Truman's veto. It provides for registration of organizations found by the Subversive Activities Control Board to be Communist-controlled. The Communist party is challenging an SACB ruling that it register.

Listed as signers were some 80 clergymen, 76 educators, 25 physicians, 13 lawyers and others.

One of the group, Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.), said "The McCarran Act attempts to take away the basic right of free association guaranteed to the American people by the Bill of Rights."

Educators Sign
"While I abhor the Communist party," McNamara added, "I was happy on this occasion to join with a group of public spirited citizens who, while they make no defense of the Communist party, are deeply concerned about the liberties of the American people."

Among others listed as signers were Prof. Harold C. Urey, Nobel Prize-winning scientist; violinist Yehudi Menuhin; composer Deems Taylor; Henry Seidel Canby, chairman of the Saturday Review's editorial board; the Rev. Henry Hitt Crane, Detroit; Robert W. D. Davidson, president of Westminster College; and Prof. John P. Peters, Yale University School of Medicine.

Coast Guardsman Gets Commission

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—A 23-year-old Coast Guardsman who wasn't commissioned an ensign last April because his mother was a former member of allegedly subversive organizations got his commission Wednesday.

N. Pierre Gaston graduated from the officer training school at the Coast Guard Academy here four months ago. After simple commissioning ceremonies Wednesday, he was assigned to report to the Humboldt, a weather ship at Boston Oct. 5.

RAISING SHEEP SURE CURE FOR ANY INSOMNIA

By VIVIAN BROWN
WILTON, Conn. (AP)—Want a sure cure for insomnia? One that will stop that 5784th sheep in mid-air? Simple. Just buy a couple of real sheep.

So advises Sydney Egerton, a part-time shepherd who commutes to New York 60 miles away each day. Edgie believes the trouble with most insomniacs is that they develop a guilty conscience even if they don't grow bored with counting the other fellow's sheep. Better they should have their own, he says.

Edgie should know. He and his wife, Madeline, have been raising sheep for seven years. Edgie gets so sleepy at his evening sheep chores that he's all set for his feather bed when the time comes. Says he:

Tucks Sheep In
"First you put the sheep to bed. When they're tucked safely away, tip-toe off yourself. After all, how can the sheep jump fences if they are snoring peacefully, as any subconscious knows?"

Sometimes, however, sheep don't sleep. Like during the spring lambing season. Three of Edgerton's ewes produced triplets and two sets of twins this spring—a record year. A fourth is still expecting. Trouble was, a ewe can feed only two lambs at most, and the Mama Ewe with triplets ignored them completely, she as so startled to see three in her pen.

So Edgie got his night's rest in between feeding the lambs a formula

Prime Minister Eden Ill With Influenza

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden is confined to bed with influenza at his country home at Chequers.

An official announcement Thursday from 10 Downing St. said he has been compelled to cancel his present engagements. He was reported running a temperature.

The prime minister, 58, had planned to spend the weekend with Lady Eden as guests of Queen Elizabeth at Balmoral Castle in Scotland.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Asst. Chief of Police W. A. Miller put out an order today forbidding any more Jacksonville policemen from joining the reserves or National Guard. Miller—a colonel commanding an Army reserve battalion—explained he had recruited so many policemen there were hardly enough left for patrol duty on drill nights.

of bourbon, milk and water out of a baby's bottle and keeping them warm. When he got a chance he slept normally, even though the lambs were wearing the blankets.

Sheep Chores
"Imagine," Edgie says, "lying awake when your own sheep's new lambs are nestled at the foot of your bed. Impossible."

There are other sheep chores besides midwife and nursing responsibilities. Protecting sheep from stray dogs is one (although the town is responsible for dog-killed sheep). Shearing them is another.

Edgie says that three bags full of wool (or 14 pounds) will make a blanket that is like a coverlet of sweet dreams. Even a Whiffenpoof could sleep under it, he says.

POWDERED LEMONADE

The current trend for instant powdered beverages, from milk to coffee, now is joined by powdered lemonade, latest fruit powder developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Orange juice powder already is on the market, packaged for institutions and other large-scale users. Tomato juice powder and the new lemonade powder will be ready for distribution soon. All the fruit powders require no refrigeration and dissolve instantly in cold water.

When a search was made for the oldest dog and cat in 1946, one dog was found to be 26 years old and one cat 31.

Thief Forgets His Wallet And Pants

HONOLULU (AP)—Kazuo Asato looked in a window on his return home yesterday and spotted a man rifling a money jar. The thief dashed out the door shouting that children were ransacking the house.

Halfway down the block, the culprit dashed into another house and began changing clothes. But owner Charles J. Kono awoke from a nap and the thief dashed outside in his underwear—right into the arms of a cop.

"The burglar is in the house," the man panted. The cop went inside and the thief just went.

"Pretty clever guy but we think we'll get him," Detective Lt. Hugh Whitford commented. "He left his wallet behind with his pants."
